RODEO RIDERS WIN NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP

Cal Poly's men's rodeo team won the national championship title at the finals of the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association in Bozeman, Mont., with a score of 536 points. The nearest contender was a team from Blackhills College, South Dakota, with a score of 333. It was the second consecutive year the Cal Poly team won the national title.

Jerry Coile of Phoenix, Ariz., a team member, was named the national collegiate champion calf roper.

Cal Poly's men's rodeo team has won the national title three times since formation of the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association in 1949. It has been the regional champion every year since that time.

Members of the team earning the national title in Bozeman, Mont., June 22-26, 1971 were Jerry Coile, Melvin Dick of Lakeview, Ore., Larry and Tom Ferguson of San Martin, Bill Freeman of Baker, Ore., and Jim Ingram of Haines, Ore.

HEARINGS SCHEDULED FOR TENURE REVISIONS FOR ACADEMIC EMPLOYEES

The college has received legal notice that hearings have been scheduled to consider a number of proposed additions and revisions to Title 5 of the California Administrative Code. The changes include provision for non-tenure coaching classifications and numerous modifications of the existing tenure regulations for academic employees.

The hearings will be held on July 14, 1971, at the California Federal Plaza Building, 5670 Wilshire Blvd., Los Angeles. Any person interested in presenting statements may do so at the public hearing or by submitting a written statement to the Office of the Chancellor at the above address.

Copies of the proposed regulations may be seen in the Personnel Office, Adm-111, or the Faculty Reading Room of the Dexter Library Building. Highlights of the changes are as follows:

1) provides for the appointment and service in classifications of director of athletics and athletic coach; appointments to such classes are made on a year to year basis without acquisition of tenure; up to two years of service in such classes may be credited toward tenure if the coach is reappointed to a position in which academic tenure may be gained;

2) provides for a policy that faculty be consulted on academic personnel matters but that only tenured faculty may participate or vote on recommendations relating to faculty promotion, retention and tenure; information from other faculty and other sources including students may be considered by those making recommendations;

3) requires that faculty promoted to the top two ranks must have tenure;

4) provides that the normal pattern of four probationary years may be shortened or extended to six years by the president;

5) provides that new tenure regulations would not apply to academic employees appointed prior to Sept. 1, 1971, unless such employees request and the president approves their placement under the new provisions;

6) changes notification dates regarding retention, tenure, and termination decisions; and

7) provides that no persons shall be deemed to have been reappointed or to have been awarded tenure because a notice was not given or received by the time prescribed.

FACULTY MEMBER HAS PUBLISHED PHYSICS TEXT

A text book, written by a member of the faculty of California State Polytechnic College, has been published by Prentice-Hall. Michael M. Cirovic is the author of the text, Semiconductors: Physics Devices, and Circuits.

The volume, part of the publishers series in electronics technology, is intended for a first course in electronics for electrical or electronic students during their sophomore or junior year. Cirovic who received his B.E. from New York University in 1965 and an M.S. degree from NYU in 1968, joined the Cal Poly faculty in electrical and electronic engineering in 1968. Previously, he was assistant professor with the Academy of Electronics, and an engineer for General Cable Corporation.

Published in a cloth bound edition, priced at $18 and a student edition $13.50, the text is a description and an analysis in the techniques used in the design of electronic circuits.

In the preface Cirovic states, "A complete understanding of electronic circuits can only be achieved through a study of both the internal physics and external characteristics of the semiconductor devices."

Previously illustrated with charts, diagrams, and formulae, the book deals with such topics as amplifiers, diodes, field effect-transistors and the internal physics of such devices.

HIRING FREEZE CONTINUES TO SEPTEMBER, 1971

President Robert Kennedy has recently announced that the position freeze which has been in effect since last December, will be continued until September 1. President Kennedy stated that the extension of the freeze on filling vacant positions will enable the College to generate funds required to meet its $517,000 salary savings requirement for 1971-72.

Under the freeze guidelines, the hiring of new personnel is permitted only in cases where a critical service will be stopped if the position is not filled. Internal transfers or promotions are not prohibited by the freeze. However, when the transfer or promotion is from a position in one school or division to a position in another school or division, both deans and/or division heads must approve the action.

Any questions regarding the freeze guidelines should be directed to the Personnel Office, Ext. 2236.
