NAME CHANGE PROCEDURES APPROVED BY COORDINATING COUNCIL

University name change procedures announced last week in Sacramento could make Cal Poly a university in time for June graduates to receive diplomas from California Polytechnic State University, and President Robert E. Kennedy has "no doubt in my mind" that it will happen.

Dr. Kennedy, who attended the Sacramento meeting of the Coordinating Council for Higher Education last week, said he was pleased that the Coordinating Council had approved the criteria for university name change exactly as had been approved by the Board of Trustees of the California State University and Colleges on March 22.

Cal Poly more than meets the five requirements for university status now jointly endorsed by the two higher education agencies, President Kennedy said. "With the passage of these criteria by both the Trustees and the Coordinating Council, there is no doubt in my mind that Cal Poly meets all five of the criteria. We would only have had to meet four of the five, and in fact we do meet all five."

The criteria refer to number of students enrolled, number of graduate students, number of degree programs, number of professional and academic programs accredited, and number of faculty in disciplines in which the doctor's degree is the normal teaching degree.

THREE NEW ARCHITECTURE DEGREE PROGRAMS APPROVED

Approval of new degree programs in the School of Architecture and Environmental Design has been announced by President Robert E. Kennedy. Approval for the curriculum changes was obtained and notification received recently from the Office of the Chancellor of the California State University and Colleges.

The five-year Bachelor of Architecture Degree which has been offered since 1964 will be phased out beginning with the Fall Quarter, 1972, and a new four-year degree, the Bachelor of Science Degree in architecture, will be substituted, Dr. Kennedy said. The school has also received permission to offer studies leading to the Master of Science Degree in architecture beginning next fall.

In addition, approval was received for a program leading to the Bachelor of Science Degree in landscape architecture which also becomes effective in Fall Quarter, 1972.

George Hasslein (Dean of Architecture and Environmental Design) says the new curricula in architecture will increase the breadth of offerings available to the many applicants which have made the architecture and environmental design programs at Cal Poly the most sought after in the State University and Colleges system.

More applicants have had to be turned away from Cal Poly’s architecture program than in any other degree program in the state university and colleges system, Dean Hasslein said.

In addition to the Bachelor of Science Degrees in architecture and landscape architecture, the Cal Poly school will also continue to offer the Bachelor of Science Degree in architectural engineering, the Bachelor of Science Degree in city and regional planning, and the Bachelor of Science Degree in construction engineering.

The program in landscape architecture and the converted four-year architecture program, along with the master’s program, will be available only to students already enrolled in the school, the Cal Poly dean noted.

He said the school is already completely filled for the Fall Quarter, 1972, as well as for the 1972 Summer Quarter. Only a limited number of students will be accepted to initiate the landscape architecture program in the Winter Quarter, 1973.

At the recommendation of Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke, the Coordinating Council agreed to be polled by mail as to which state colleges should be designated as universities. The poll will follow a meeting of the Educational Policy Committee of the Board of Trustees, to be held April 25 in San Francisco.

The Educational Policy Committee has already been empowered by the board to assess the individual 19 state colleges and to identify and designate those to gain university status, with the concurrence of the Coordinating Council.

Chancellor Dumke requested the mail ballot of the Coordinating Council in order to hopefully make possible the use of the university designation for June graduates of those institutions which qualify for the new designation.

Dr. Kennedy advised the campus that the Coordinating Council’s action is a step nearer university status for Cal Poly. He noted that President Charles Hitch of the University of California told those attending the meeting that there are many famous U.S. universities which do not meet the criteria which have now been established.

ROCK CONCERT WILL FEATURE SAN FRANCISCO BANDS

Three San Francisco bands will provide a concert of the new rock sound in the Men’s Gymnasium at 8 p.m. on Saturday (April 15). The public is invited. General admission tickets are $2.50 for college students and $3.50 for all others. They will be available at Brown's Music Store, Premier Music, Stereo West, and Supersonic, all in San Luis Obispo, and student tickets will be available at the information desk of the Julian A. McPhee College Union.

Friday, April 21, will be the final day for receipt of applications for graduation in June, 1972.
AFFIRMATIVE ACTION DUTIES ASSIGNED TO MRS. DEASE

The assignment of Mrs. Sondra W. Dease as Cal Poly's Affirmative Action coordinator has been announced by Larry Voss (Director of Personnel Relations). Mrs. Dease (Assistant Personnel Analyst) joined the college staff last month, Voss said, and will assume duties, which in the interim since the announcement of the Affirmative Action Program in February, have been assigned to Clyde Scott (Personnel Analyst).

Mrs. Dease has resided in Morro Bay since the fall of 1970, when her husband, Clyde Dease, joined the faculty of the Physics Department at Cal Poly. She attended The College of Wooster (Ohio) and Fisk University (Nashville, Tenn.) from which she received the BA degree in sociology in 1958.

Mrs. Dease was employed as personnel management specialist for the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries in Washington, D.C., and as personnel staffing specialist and management analyst for the Bureau of the Census. Her previous experience includes participation in career day programs at minority high schools, on-campus college recruitment for federal programs, and development of personnel procedures and publications.

As Affirmative Action coordinator, Mrs. Dease will be responsible for encouraging and actively seeking minority and women applicants for positions in the college and for identifying and recommending applicants who are qualifiable for college positions.

BLOOD DONATIONS STILL NEEDED FOR GRADUATE STUDENT

An urgent blood drive for a college student suffering from a serious illness has already met with considerable success, but the need for more donors is still present. Peter Lemon, the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Lemon of Arnold, Calif., is in a San Francisco hospital using about 14 units of blood a day.

He has already used more than 200 units, according to Vic Buccola, a physical education instructor at California State Polytechnic College, San Luis Obispo, who is helping with coordination of the local effort to assist Lemon. An alumnus of Cal Poly, Lemon was a graduate student in physical education at the college when he was stricken with a blood disease in February.

The second of two campus donation dates at Cal Poly has been set for 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on May 5 in the Men's Gymnasium. Buccola said that there are still about 50 open appointments for May 5. Those wishing to give blood then may either telephone Buccola at his office (546-2288) or sign up at the gym on the day of the drawing.

The full quota of 200 persons, most of them Cal Poly students, faculty, and staff, had appointments for the first drawing, which was held Thursday (April 6), also in the Men's Gymnasium on campus. That effort resulted in 184 pints of blood being credited to Lemon's use.

Other dates for donations have been set up at the Monday Club in San Luis Obispo on April 12, April 26, and May 10. Anyone wishing to give on any of those dates may telephone 543-2925 to make appointments. They are being reminded to request that the blood they give be credited to the Cal Poly fund of the Tri Counties Blood Bank.

The campus drive was started after Lemon was stricken in February. The Block-P Society, composed of Cal Poly athletes who have been awarded letters, and the campus chapter of the California Association for Health, Physical Education, and Recreation then started the blood drive with the help of the Cal Poly Student Health Center and the Tri Counties Blood Bank.

Lemon completed his bachelor's degree studies in physical education at Cal Poly in 1969. He was a letterman member of the college's football varsity in 1965 and 1966 and was an all-league tackle in 1966.

A graduate of Monterey Peninsula College where he also played football, Lemon was an active member of Cal Poly's U.S. Army ROTC program as an undergraduate. He received a commission as an Army second lieutenant in 1969 and served on active duty in Vietnam before beginning his graduate studies at Cal Poly last summer.

John Durant, a graduate student majoring in physical education, is student coordinator of the campus blood drive.

NEED FOR PRIMARY EDUCATION STRESSED DURING CAMPUS CONFERENCE

Marshall L. Fields, an education officer for the Agency for International Development of the U.S. Department of State, told 200 people gathered for the International Education Conference at Cal Poly last week, "The frontiers for educational development are primarily related to stimulating growth within the subsistence and intermediate levels of our economy.

"Given our high birth rates and slow moving rural economy, universal primary education is the greatest challenge to our educators. My plea is that in facing these challenges, we should not indulge in day dreams."

Fields, who is education officer for Southern African affairs and has spent 20 years in technical and vocational education abroad, was quoting Augustine Mwingera, chief administrative officer of University of Dar-es-Salaam in Tanzania.

The International Education Conference, which explored the role of educators and college students in developing nations, was co-sponsored by the International Education Office and the School of Agriculture and Natural Resources at Cal Poly in cooperation with the Cal Poly College Convocation Series.
