BANQUET WILL BE HIGHLIGHT OF ENGINEERING WEEK

Owen Davis, supervisor of environmental quality for Pacific Gas and Electric Company, will be the guest speaker during a banquet billed as a highlight of Cal Poly's 1973 Engineering Week. The banquet, which will conclude a week of special activities, will take place on Saturday (Feb. 24) evening at the Elks Club in San Luis Obispo. Dinner will be at 7:30 p.m.

Davis, who is responsible for environmental planning for Pacific Gas and Electric, is expected to discuss the environmental effects of the Diablo Canyon nuclear power plant. Also planned during the banquet are announcement of the outstanding student of Cal Poly's School of Engineering and Technology and announcement of the outstanding students of the 11 instructional departments that make up that school.

Students and faculty of Cal Poly, as well as professional engineers from throughout the Central Coast area, are invited to attend the banquet. Tickets, priced at $5.50 per person, may be obtained at the School of Engineering and Technology Office, in the Computer Science Building or by telephoning 546-2131.

The catapult contest, which will take place at 11 a.m. on the lawn in front of the Walter F. Dexter Library, will match the creative talents of college, university, and high school students from throughout the Central Coast area. Object of the competition is to design and build a catapult device capable of propelling a standard tennis ball the longest distance.

Entry blanks and a set of rules for the catapult contest are available at the Information Desk of the Julian A. McPhee University Union at Cal Poly, and specific information about the times and locations for the tours can be obtained by telephoning 546-2131.

Cal Poly's observance of Engineering Week began on Sunday (Feb. 18). It is planned in conjunction with the National Engineers Week, which is held during the week of Washington's Birthday each February, and is sponsored by the student council of the School of Engineering and Technology. Its purpose is to call public attention to the important role engineers play in development of local, state, and national resources for the betterment of mankind.

ARTICULATION CONFERENCE PLANNED FOR FRIDAY

Community college faculty members and counselors from throughout California will have an opportunity to acquaint themselves with the programs of Cal Poly's School of Architecture and Environmental Design during a one-day articulation conference planned for Friday (Feb. 23) in the Gallery of the Engineering West Building, according to George J. Hasslein, dean of that school.

POSTPONED PROGRAM: SCHEDULED FOR THURSDAY

John Kerr's lecture for the Arts and Humanities 1972-73 series has been rescheduled to Thursday (Feb. 22). Originally set for Jan. 18, his talk will be presented at 11 a.m. in Room 220 of the Julian A. McPhee University Union. The public is invited to the free lecture.

A member of the English faculty at Cal Poly, Dr. Kerr will discuss poetry between 1956 and the present and the concept of voice poetry. Having written and published 50 poems, he will illustrate his ideas with his poetry and selected poems of others.

Dr. Kerr has been at Cal Poly since 1967. A graduate of Arkansas State University, he earned his master's degree at University of Michigan and his doctorate at University of Texas. He previously taught at Westminster College in Missouri, University of Missouri, University of Texas, and Louisiana State University.

The Arts and Humanities 1972-73 series is a presentation of the university's School of Communicative Arts and Humanities.

MILITARY BALL WILL BENEFIT EASTER SEAL SOCIETY

The traditional and formal 21st annual dinner and military ball of Scabbard and Blade, a campus organization of military science students, will be held on Saturday (Feb. 24). Proceeds from the dance, which will be held at the Madonna Inn in San Luis Obispo, will go to the Easter Seal Society of San Luis Obispo County.

Highlight of the evening will be the crowning of the Military Ball Queen. Six candidates are seeking the title. The dinner will begin at 7 p.m. followed by the dance at 9 p.m. A social hour will precede the dinner.

The public is invited to attend both events. Tickets are $16 per couple for the dinner and dance, and $4 per couple for the dance only. They may be obtained at the information desk of the Julian A. McPhee University Union.

Purpose of the program is to familiarize the visiting educators with an overview of philosophy and curricula of the School of Architecture and Environmental Design. Presentations during the day will include an outline review of courses required of students in the school, as well as background information on admission standards, quotas, and criteria for admission to impacted programs.

Classrooms and laboratories of the School of Architecture and Environmental Design will be open for visits by the conference participants throughout the day.

DINNER PARTY WILL BE SATURDAY EVENING

The annual joint dinner party of the Cal Poly University Club and the Cal Poly Women's Club will be held on Saturday (Feb. 24) evening at the Golden Tee Motor Hotel in Morro Bay. The party, featuring Polynesian decor, will include dinner and dancing with a no-host social hour at 6:30 p.m. and dinner at 7:30 p.m.
PRESIDENT KENNEDY HEADS STATEWIDE CAREER EDUCATION COMMITTEE

Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke this month established a statewide Advisory Committee on Career Education and named President Robert E. Kennedy as chairman. The committee was charged by Chancellor Dumke with the formulation to him of recommendations on the appropriate role of career and cooperative education in the overall curriculum of the California State University and Colleges.

Except for two representatives to be nominated by the statewide Academic Senate, the chancellor has selected the remaining membership from nominations submitted from all 19 campuses of the system.

Named to the committee so far are: James G. Bond, president, California State University, Sacramento; David Gray, vice president for administration, California State University, Long Beach; Ralph Bohn, dean of continuing education, California State University, San Jose; David E. Leveille, associate dean, new program development and evaluation, Office of the Chancellor; John Banister, associate for special studies, academic program and resource planning, Office of the Chancellor; Gary R. Levine, Assistant to vice chancellor, academic affairs, secretary to the committee.

Dr. Kennedy said he expects the two Academic Senate representatives will be appointed before the committee holds its first meeting on Friday (Feb. 23) at the California Teachers' Association Building, Burlingame. The committee already has tentatively scheduled meetings on April 4, April 25, and May 21.

In addition to chairing this committee on Career Education, President Kennedy, as a member of the 12-man Board of Directors of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities, is the liaison member of the association's national Committee on Career Education. In that capacity Dr. Kennedy will be meeting with Robert M. Worthington, associate U.S. commissioner of education, in Washington, D.C., next week.

REASSIGNMENT REQUESTED BY KENNELLY

The request of Bruce Kennelly to be reassigned from his position as head of the Chemistry Department to a full-time teaching position in that department has been approved by President Robert E. Kennedy. The change will be effective Sept. 1, 1973.

Announcement of the action was made by Clyde P. Fisher (Dean, Science and Mathematics) who also reported that initial steps will be taken in the immediate future for consultation with faculty members in the Chemistry Department to begin the exceptionally important task of recruitment, selection and recommended appointment of a new head of the Chemistry Department effective Sept., 1973.

Dr. Kennelly has served as the head of the department since its inception in 1967. During those years, the department has grown in numbers and stature both with regard to the faculty and the chemistry and biochemistry curricula. In addition, the Chemistry curriculum has received accreditation from the American Chemical Society.

"These important activities reflect very favorably upon Dr. Kennelly's leadership in the department," Dr. Fisher said. "The excellence of the past activities demonstrates why it will be exceptionally important to secure an outstanding replacement for Dr. Kennelly."
NEW EOP STAFF MEMBER BEGINS CAMPUS DUTIES

Appointment of Ernest Padilla of Santa Maria as director of counseling and tutorial services for the Educational Opportunity Program at Cal Poly has been announced by Everett M. Chandler (Dean of Students). His duties in the new assignment, which began on Feb. 5, will also include recruiting prospective EOP students and aiding EOP students who desire information and assistance.

A native of Tulare, where he attended Tulare Union High School, Padilla is a graduate of California State University, Sacramento, where he earned both his bachelor's degree and teaching credentials in Spanish and English. For the past year he has been a member of the Righetti High School faculty with specific assignment as a teacher of both English as a second language and of Spanish.

Padilla's other experiences include periods as a member of the faculty of the federally funded High School Equivalency Program at Cal Poly, and as a journalism and English as a second language teacher at Tulare Union High School. He also was a social worker for the Tulare County Welfare Department.

Appointment of Padilla to the EOP post was brought about by the transfer of Oscar Quezada to the position of administrative assistant on the staff of the President's Office, according to Dr. Chandler, who explained that Padilla has assumed the duties formerly fulfilled by Quezada.

Carl Wallace, a member of the university's EOP staff since 1969, continues as director of administrative services for EOP, a sharing responsibility for recruitment and information and assistance for EOP students with Padilla. Overall administrative direction of the EOP is the responsibility of the dean of students.

MUSTANG MATMEN WILL HOST LEAGUE MEET

The California Collegiate Athletic Association wrestling championships, with Cal Poly's nationally ranked Mustang matmen in the role of favorite, will take place on Friday (Feb. 23) afternoon and evening in Men's Gymnasium. Preliminary rounds for the six-team tournament will start at 2 p.m. and final rounds are scheduled for that evening.

Other sports events on tap this week will find Cal Poly's undefeated baseball varsity hosting California State College, Sonoma, in a three-game series on Friday and Saturday and the track and field team hosting Westmont College in its first outdoor action of the season.

A C S U P INSURANCE REPRESENTATIVE ON CAMPUS

Faculty members interested in obtaining information about insurance programs of the Association of California State University Professors are invited to contact Robert Becker, an ACSUP representative throughout today (Tuesday, Feb. 20) in Adm-106A. Becker may also be reached by telephoning 546-2073.

Thursday, Feb. 22, will be the end of the seventh week of instruction for the Winter Quarter. Except for university-recognized emergencies, no withdrawals from courses will be permitted after that date.
CHECK IT OUT

(Questions and answers will appear under the above heading from time to time when material is of general campus interest. Suggested questions may be submitted to the Information Services Office, Adm-210.)

Q. Are group tours of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company's Diablo Canyon Nuclear Information Center and power plant overlook available for faculty, staff, and students of the University?

A. Tours of the Nuclear Information Center and the power plant overlook are available by advance arrangement, according to Roy L. Whitford, director of the center. He pointed out that the information center is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., seven days a week, but that large groups who wish to tour the facilities are asked to inform PG&E two or more weeks in advance in order to preclude several large groups arriving simultaneously. Escorted PG&E bus tours to the nuclear power plant site overlook where construction progress can be viewed, start at 9 a.m. daily. The last tour leaves at 3:15 p.m. Groups can also provide their own buses, but private cars are not permitted.

Whitford said site tours of the structures and areas under construction may be made by faculty or staff groups or classes with the instructor in attendance subject to the following rules:

1. Tour participants must have a professional interest, such as construction, engineering, nuclear physics, architecture, and related subjects.

2. Safety regulations and established work routines prohibit site tours during working hours. They can be made only after 5 p.m. and on Saturdays and Sundays.

3. Each tour group must be broken into sub-groups of four each, and a guide will be provided for each sub-group.

4. Sturdy, rubber-soled shoes with low heels (no canvas shoes, clogs, or sandals), slacks and long sleeved shirts and jackets must be worn by everyone. Safety "hard hats" will be furnished by PG&E.

All tour arrangements, including site tours, can be made by telephoning the Nuclear Information Center receptionist, 595 2327.

CANDIDATE FOR FACULTY POSITION BEING SOUGHT

Candidates for a position on the faculty of the university are presently being sought, according to Larry R. Voss (Director of Personnel Relations). Those interested in learning more about the position are invited to contact the appropriate dean or department head. Cal Poly is an Affirmative Action Employer. Following is a description of the available position:

Instructors, Intermediate and Senior, and Lecturers, Range C and F ($10,020-$16,164/annually), School of Architecture and Environmental Design. Duties and responsibilities include the areas of architecture, construction engineering, or landscape architecture. Applicants should be prepared to submit a brochure of original work for review, must possess a master's degree, and have office or field experience. Prefer candidates with California registration and teaching experience. Minority group members and women are encouraged to apply.
PROGRAM ON STUDENT-BUSINESS INTERACTION SLATED TOMORROW

An exploratory program on a proposed series of merchant-student interaction programs sponsored by the campus chapter Society for the Advancement of Management will be held in the Tenaya Hall Lounge at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday (Feb. 21). Joan Carbrey, student chairman for the program, says its purpose is to promote interaction and exchange of ideas between the businessmen and students.

Topics will be of interest to both businessmen and students, to familiarize students with the business community, to bridge the gap between classroom teaching and the business world, and to promote student scholarship. Ed Jenks, director of the Los Angeles branch of the Small Business Administration, will be the speaker at the Wednesday evening session. It is expected that the 30-minute talk he will deliver will provide discussion topics for small interaction groups for the remainder of the evening.

The San Luis Obispo merchant community is extended a special invitation to attend. The meeting, primarily intended for business administration majors, is open to any interested Cal Poly student. If the exploratory session is successful, a series of six other meetings will be held beginning in March, according to Miss Carbrey.

COORDINATION REQUESTED BY DUPLICATING CENTER

Clerical staff members throughout the campus have been asked to cooperate with a request for assistance in preparation of camera-ready copy for material to be printed (Iteked) on university letterhead. Herman Vandenhoff (Duplication Supervisor) asks that such material be typed on blank white paper incorporating the exact spacing desired on the final copy. One means of doing this is to use a sheet of letterhead paper for a backing sheet while the copy on the blank paper is being typed.

In a related request, Vandenhoff asks that those submitting material for duplication in the Duplication Center fill out the Duplication Request Form completely and include an indication of the correct office, department, or account to be charged.

Material prepared for distribution off campus also requires the approval of the appropriate dean or department head. Procedures for duplication requests are outlined in Section 531.1, 531.2, and 531.3 of the Campus Administrative Manual.

VACANT SUPPORT STAFF POSITIONS LISTED

Vacant support staff positions have been announced by S. Milton Piuma (Staff Personnel Officer). Descriptions of the positions and other vacancies are posted outside the Personnel Office, Adm-110, 546-2236. Contact the Personnel Office to obtain an application. Cal Poly is an Affirmative Action Employer. The positions are:

Stage Technician I ($801-$973), Theatre, Academic Affairs Division. Duties and responsibilities include assisting in the operation of the Cal Poly Theatre; making booking arrangements; supervising student crews in the set-up, operation and take-down of all theatre systems such as sound, lighting, staging, scenery, etc.; developing and implementing a schedule of maintenance and improvement; some times assisting the music and drama programs in the development and execution of their performances and academic programs. Candidate must have one year of theatrical production experience in constructing, operating, and maintaining stage equipment and materials, and education equivalent to completion of the twelfth grade. (College training with special emphasis on drama and stagecraft may be substituted for the required experience on a year-for-year basis.)

Payroll and Personnel Transactions Clerk I ($484-$589), Payroll Services Office, Business Affairs Division. Duties and responsibilities include payroll documentation, posting attendance, simple calculations, and making out miscellaneous reports. Candidates should have general knowledge of office methods, a math background, accuracy in typing, and ability to deal with the public.
LUCE PLAY WILL OPEN ON THURSDAY

Final touches are being added for the performances of The Women scheduled for this Thursday, Friday, and Saturday (Feb. 22, 23, and 24). Directed by Murray Smith (Speech Communication) the play is a production of the Speech Communication Department. Curtain time will be 8 p.m. with each performance in the Cal Poly Theatre.

The Women involves the efforts of a group of women to play their respective roles in an artificial society that consists of vain show, comedy, tragedy, hope and disappointment. The play is unique in that it features a cast of 40 women. The author—Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce, wife of the late publisher—determines the difference between a woman and a female with the use of her characters in the play.

Admission for performances of the play will be $1 for students and $2 for adults. Tickets will be sold at the door on the night of the performance only.

LECTURE ON RUSSIA AND COMMUNIST STATES RESCHEDULED

The lecture by Paul Zinner, an expert on the government and politics of Soviet Russia, and the Eastern Europe Communist States, has been rescheduled for next Tuesday (Feb. 27). It will take place at 11 a.m. in Chumash Auditorium of the Julian A. McPhee University Union under sponsorship of the Military Science Department. Admission will be free and the public is invited to attend.

Presently the chairman of the Department of Political Science at University of California at Davis, Dr. Zinner is a regular panelist on the weekly "World Press" television program which is seen in the San Francisco Bay Area. He is the author of three books on Soviet politics, including Revolution in Hungary, Communist Strategy and Tactics in Czechoslovakia, and National Communism and Popular Revolt in Eastern Europe.

Dr. Zinner's lecture is being presented as part of an academic enrichment series for students of the Military Science Department.

AV CATALOG SUPPLEMENTS AVAILABLE

Supplements to the catalog of materials available through the Audio Visual Services Office are available to members of the faculty who wish them. Marcus Gold (Coordinator of Visual Services) said last week that the new catalog section includes a full listing of materials received since the catalog was published in April, 1972. Those wishing to receive copies of the supplement may request them by contacting the Audio Visual Services Office, BA&E 9, 546-2211, and giving their name and department.

BATTelle REPRESENTATIVE DUE ON THURSDAY

A representative from the Battelle Development Corporation, with which the university has a patent agreement, plans to be on campus on Thursday, Feb. 22. Robert Baker is expected to arrive about 10:30 a.m. and leave about 3:30 p.m. Faculty or students who want to talk to him about an invention, are invited to telephone Howard Boroughs (Associate Dean, Graduate Studies and Research), 546-2982, to make appointments.
CELLO CONCERT SET FOR FRIDAY

Gabor Rejto, world renowned cellist, will be featured in the Winter Quarter classical series program of the Fine Arts Committee of the Associated Students, Inc. on Friday, (Feb. 23) at 8:15 p.m. Rejto will present a program of Bach for unaccompanied cello and will join the Cal Poly Chamber Orchestra in Haydn's Concert in D Major.

The concert, to be held in Chumash Auditorium of the Julian A. McPhee University Union on campus, will be open to the public. Admission will be $1.50 for students and $2.50 for all others. Tickets are being sold at the University Union information desk.

HOME EC STUDENTS CONDUCTING CANDY SALE

A sale of home made candy by students of the Home Economics Department will help finance the displays and other special activities of the Home Economics Department during Poly Royal on April 27-28.

Tickets for the assortments of candy, which will be cooked on March 3 and 4 and available for pickup on March 5, are being sold now by students wearing a "candy sale" tag. Prices are 55 cents for one-quarter pound, 95 cents for one-half pound, and $1.50 for a full pound. Featured during the sale, which will continue through Feb. 27, are fudge, spiced walnuts, and peanut butter balls.

Tickets sold during the sale can be redeemed in the Living Room of the Mathematics and Home Economics Building on March 5. Additional information about the sale can be obtained by contacting the Home Economics Department Office, 546-2225.

OPEN ENROLLMENT ON HEALTH INSURANCE PLANS

Employees who are interested in enrolling or making changes on health insurance coverage during the open enrollment period are invited to go to the Personnel Office, Adm-110, any time before March 12 to sign the necessary forms, according to a statement issued by the Personnel Office.

The plans in the open enrollment period include: Cal-Western Occidental Basic and Major Medical, Blue Cross-Blue Shield Basic and Major Medical, ACSUP - Equity Educators Basic, CTA - Blue Cross Basic plus CSEA Major Medical. Effective date for any enrollments or change of enrollments requested before March 12 will be April 1, 1973.

OFF-CAMPUS JOB VACANCIES

Information about the administrative position vacancies at other colleges and universities listed below can be obtained from the Placement Office, Adm-213, 546-2501:

California State University, San Jose -- Dean of the School of Social Sciences ($22,764 to $27,672).

Kearney State College, Neb. -- Chief Academic Officer (approximately $24,000).
WHO • • • WHAT • • • WHERE ? ? ? WHEN ? ? ?

Paul Cone, John B. Connely, Earl D. Cornwell, Homer E. Hoyt, Louis D. Pippin, and Bernard A. Troy have been the seminar leaders for a professional development program for school administrators throughout the Central Coast area over the past six weeks. All except Cone, a member of the business administration faculty, are members of the Education Department faculty. The seminars were sponsored by the Section XIII of the Association of California School Administrators.

Vaughan Hitchcock (Men's Physical Education) has been appointed to a new three-year term as an at-large member of the 12-member Wrestling Rules Committee of the National Collegiate Athletic Association. The head coach of Cal Poly's nationally-ranked wrestling team for the past 10 years, he is the first Californian to serve on the prestigious committee since the early-1950's. He is a past-president of the NCAA College Division Coaches Association.

Two former journalism students at Cal Poly have been named to high positions in the federal government recently. Vern F. Highley has been appointed as administrative assistant to Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Butz and Ed Slevin has been appointed a regional director of the Peace Corps. Highley graduated in 1956 and Slevin, in 1958. Highley is already at work on his new assignment and Slevin will start his on March 1.

Olaf Isachsen (Business Administration) has recently been notified that his case study titled "The Frustrated 4H Youth Agent" has been accepted for publication in a forthcoming book being edited by D. M. Harlow of the University of South Florida.

Arthur Chapman, Handel Evans, Paul Neel, and Philip Winninghoff (all School of Architecture and Environmental Design) have all been participants in recent professional gatherings. Chapman and Winninghoff attended a two-day seminar/workshop on computer graphics in Chico on Jan. 26-27, and Evans and Neel took part in a regional meeting of the Association of Collegiate Schools of Architecture in Berkeley on Feb. 1-3.

Aernat S. James (Physics) has returned to his campus teaching assignment after 16 months of graduate study in atmospheric physics, theoretical physics, and philosophy of science at University of Nevada in Reno. James has plans for early completion of all other requirements for his doctor's degree, including his dissertation, which is tentatively titled "A Comparative Study of Convective Models of Clouds."

Robert F. Williams (Business Administration) has received a creative activity and research effort (CARE) grant to support his study on queueing theory. Williams, who delivered two papers before the Advanced Systems Group at Myrtle Beach, SC, on Feb. 1-2, expects to use the CARE funds to pay for computer time on a computer larger than that available at the Computer Center on campus. Funds for the CARE program are administered by Cal Poly's University Research Committee.

Edward J. Ward (School of Architecture and Environmental Design) is co-author of a paper titled "Citizen Information Systems: Using Technology to Extend Dialogue Between Citizens and Their Government," which appeared in the December, 1972, issue of Management Science. The paper describes a proposed information system and its applied operation as a means for extending citizen participation in public decision-making and for providing needed information for social change and research analysis.

"Marketing in the Future" is the theme of the Credit Union Digest for January, 1973, and it is also the title of the featured article by Edward H. Barker (Dean of Business and Social Sciences). The article stresses the reliance of credit unions on marketing of financial services and suggests ways in which future service demands will affect credit unions by the year 2000.

James L. Webb (Men's Physical Education) took part in a symposium titled "Exercise and the Heart: Current Concepts and Applications in Health and Disease" held recently at University of California at Davis. The program centered on coronary heart disease, exercise, evaluation, prevention of heart disease, and rehabilitation programs.

Bianca Rosenthal (Foreign Language) has been invited to help direct a foreign language workshop during the annual conference of the California Foreign Language Teachers Association in San Francisco in April. Dr. Rosenthal will work with Rebecca Valette of Boston College on the writing of student contracts and evaluation of individualized instruction.

Ed Zuchelli (Journalism) addressed the Morro Bay Merchants Association during a monthly meeting of that group held on Feb. 13 in Morro Bay. Zuchelli, a former owner and manager of radio and television stations in the Central Coast area, discussed the unique advertising advantages enjoyed by merchants in that community, and the outstanding area media available for their utilization.

William M. Alexander (Head of Political Science) has been appointed to membership on the Western Political Science Association's committee on the Western Political Quarterly. The committee is responsible for establishing policies and procedures for operation of the association journal.

Charlie Mendenhall (Director, Alumni Affairs) and Donald L. McCaleb (Information Service Office) took part in the annual Far West District conference of the American College Public Relations Association in San Francisco on Feb. 7-9. McCaleb was chairman and panelist for discussion session on internal relations.

LECTURE ON TOPKAPI PALACE SCHEDULED ON THURSDAY

The Council on Research in Economic History has a deadline of April 15, 1973. Grants are apparently designed to supplement a major fellowship (or a sabbatical leave), since the maximum grant is $1,200. For details, write:

Dr. Louis Galombos
Secretary, Council on Research in Economic History
Department of History
Johns Hopkins University
Baltimore, Maryland 21218

This office has the 1973 Directory of the National Science Foundation sponsored Cooperative College-School Science Program. These programs are given all over the U.S. for elementary and secondary school teachers and administrators. For example, Cal State Fullerton has a program called Elementary School Science; Cal State Northridge calls theirs Elementary School Social Science; and Cal State San Jose's program is Marine Science for Elementary and Secondary Schools. Most of these short courses are during the summer, and are designed for local school districts.

The next deadline will be in August sometime; the guidelines will be available in April.
So far as I know, this University is not taking advantage of the Intergovernmental Personnel Act, which permits (among other things) a federal employee to be released for assignment at the University, and permits one of our faculty members to be assigned to a federal agency. Assignments may be for a few weeks up to two years. Although the Acts permits the federal agency to pay the full salary of its employee, in practice most agencies insist on sharing the costs. This could mean that our Electrical and Electronic Engineering Department, for example, might get a power engineer from Bonneville for half price. There probably isn't anything we do at Cal Poly that doesn't have a counterpart in the federal government. There are more details in this office.

This office has a list of visiting lecturers and research scholars sponsored by the Committee on International Exchange of Persons. U.S. colleges and universities are encouraged to invite these lecturers and scholars who have been assigned to neighboring institutions. We are obliged to pay at least travel and per diem, but this would not be expensive if we invited someone assigned to U.C. Berkeley, or UCLA, or Stanford.

For example, there are two computer scientists from Romania, one at UCLA, one at U.C. Irvine; Chico State has the head of the soil science department at the University of Skopje; there are many chemists and physicists from many countries assigned to universities between Caltech and the Bay Area. Feel free to look at the list.

The National Endowment for the Humanities Senior Fellowships for 1974-75 has a deadline of mid-June, 1973. These fellowships, which pay up to $18,000 a year, are for persons who have produced "significant works" in the field. The fields supported are: Modern and classical language; linguistics; literature; jurisprudence; philosophy; archeology; the study of the history, criticism, theory, and practice of the arts; those aspects of the social sciences which have humanistic content and employ humanistic methods; the study and application of the humanities to the human environment, with particular attention to the relevance of the humanities to the current conditions of national life; ethics and comparative religion.
