Budget errors to be solved during break

Preliminary budget hearings conducted on behalf of Finance Committee with ASI Program Board, Student Lobby, Poly Royal, Legal Aid, Interhall Council, International Council, Business and Society, Political Science, School of Drama, Pistol and Riffe Club, and Communicative Arts and Humanities School Council bringing the open budget hearings to a close.

Revisions and corrections of the gross errors found by Finance Committee in budgets presented will be conducted during quarter break, according to Mike Melling finance committee chairman. The first two weeks of the Spring Quarter will be devoted to closed budget hearings. The proposed budget will be drawn up and submitted to the Student Executive Cabinet for review. After any changes are made by SEC, the budget will go to the Student Affairs Council for final approval.

Upon recommendation from Robie Baggott, ASI Press, four committees of five was chosen from the Finance Committee membership to advise Finance Committee, SAC, and SEC on budgetary matters, cuts, errors, etc. Officials from ASI, Phi Beta Kappa, Greg Fowler, Mearling, and J. D. Day were selected to compose the committee membership.

Moretti stands firm on tuition

"There will be no tuition at state colleges as long as I am speaker of the assembly or have any other position of influence," said Moretti at the California Interscholastic Federation (CIFA) convention in Fresno that he would not support student opposition for tuition.

Moretti told journalists at the California Intercollegiate Press Association (CIPA) convention in Fresno that, in his opinion, the university students would not be able to handle the committee membership.

"Many are quickly forgotten and remain only in the memories of the law they have personally touched," said Moretti at the conference.

"I've always learned that there are no educational institutions. Some are fired and usually nothing, while others peacefully retire."

"I've always learned that everybody's expendable. I know that they've got a good man in here next year to replace me and I have no fear of them getting up."

"I've always learned that nobody is indispensable, and love of the soil. It was translated into more than 30 languages and was the basis of a play and motion picture in which Laila Rezai was on a career as best actress of the year.

Seventy years since the Pulitzer prizes, the former Associated Press, said she was the first American woman to be awarded the Nobel prize for literature. The citation read: "For rich and genuine epic portrayals of Chinese peasant life." Born Pearl Comfort Stanley, she returned to the United States from China and adopted five children, After his childhood China to enter Randolph College.

"Injustice to lock me up—Farr"

by JEANNE WILES

"It's an injustice to lock me up forever and a day because I was acting on advice given by me to the judge," Los Angeles trial lawyer William T. Oldt told 300 college journalists in Fresno Friday.

Farr spent 4 days in jail because he refused to release confidential sources he had used in a news story written for the Los Angeles Herald Examiner during the Charles Manson murder trials.

The New Year's was freed Jan. 11 by U.S. Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas who handles emergency appeals from the 9th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals. But Farr is only free pending the outcome of two court appeals on the state level and one on the federal level.

Farr was jailed last November, by Superior Court Judge Charles Oldt on a charge of "civil contempt of the court." The 30-year-old newsmann maintains that when he allowed the story to question he appears he was acting on advice from Judge Oldt.

The reporter related his escape to jail after being held for 48 hours in jail after being denied a ruling on his motion for a preliminary order.

Farr agreed that reporters were protected from revealing their sources under Section 1070 of the Government Code, known as the Shield Law.

According to Farr, Oldt told the newsmann, "Mr. Farr, I will think none of the less of you if you do not comply." Farr said they agreed that reporters were protected from revealing their sources under Section 1070 of the Government Code, known as the Shield Law.

In October of 1979, while the Manson trial was still going on, Farr wrote a news story based on information he received from confidential sources. The day before the story appeared Farr and Judge Oldt discussed it. Oldt asked Farr to tell him who the sources for the story were.

The following day a news blackout was placed on the jurors and the story appeared in the Herald-Examiner.

Seven months later Farr left the Herald Examiner to become press secretary to District Attorney Joseph Bush. The former newsmann was subsequently summoned to court and again refused to reveal his sources.

William Farr has been engaged in an effort to speak to him Thursday, April 14, 1982, to Tony Rayburn, vice-chancellor of university's chapter of the Sigma Delta Chi Professional Journalists Society. Details will be forthcoming.

While Farr has been asked to reveal his sources for the story, Judge Oldt told him he was no longer a reporter, and therefore, no longer protected by the Shield Law.

On the stand, Farr revealed that the news source for his story included two of the six attorneys of record for the Manson trial, Dennis R. Saffier and Dale H. Bode. Oldt had placed the attorneys under "gag order," preventing them from talking in newsmen.

In the reporter's trial, the attorneys were asked to swear to any confidence they had made with Farr. All six have done so, but not before asking Farr to disappear, whatever they would say in court.

When Farr again refused to name his sources, he was sentenced to jail for 60 days in the "indefinite period of time."

His appeal in the state and federal courts centers around two contentions: his sentence is an ex post factum application of the law and it is a cruel and unusual punishment for the crime.

"When he talked to the public he communicated a message of larger issues. "People may raise the issue of saving five lives but he said, 'I want something that's in the public interest.' He said, 'There is a need to convince the public that they will be the real losers if news sources are not protected.'

"Pearl S. Buck dies at age 80

"Davy" retires—band plays on

Harold P. Davidson

"It's an injustice to lock me up forever and a day because I was acting on advice given by me to the judge," Los Angeles trial lawyer William T. Oldt told 300 college journalists in Fresno Friday.

Farr spent 4 days in jail because he refused to release confidential sources he had used in a news story written for the Los Angeles Herald Examiner during the Charles Manson murder trials.

The New Year's was freed Jan. 11 by U.S. Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas who handles emergency appeals from the 9th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals. But Farr is only free pending the outcome of two court appeals on the state level and one on the federal level.

Farr was jailed last November, by Superior Court Judge Charles Oldt on a charge of "civil contempt of the court." The 30-year-old newsmann maintains that when he allowed the story to question he appears he was acting on advice from Judge Oldt.

The reporter related his escape to jail after being held for 48 hours in jail after being denied a ruling on his motion for a preliminary order.

Farr agreed that reporters were protected from revealing their sources under Section 1070 of the Government Code, known as the Shield Law.

According to Farr, Oldt told the newsmann, "Mr. Farr, I will think none of the less of you if you do not comply." Farr said they agreed that reporters were protected from revealing their sources under Section 1070 of the Government Code, known as the Shield Law.

In October of 1979, while the Manson trial was still going on, Farr wrote a news story based on information he received from confidential sources. The day before the story appeared Farr and Judge Oldt discussed it. Oldt asked Farr to tell him who the sources for the story were.

The following day a news blackout was placed on the jurors and the story appeared in the Herald-Examiner.

Seven months later Farr left the Herald Examiner to become press secretary to District Attorney Joseph Bush. The former newsmann was subsequently summoned to court and again refused to reveal his sources.

William Farr has been engaged in an effort to speak to him Thursday, April 14, 1982, to Tony Rayburn, vice-chancellor of university's chapter of the Sigma Delta Chi Professional Journalists Society. Details will be forthcoming.

While Farr has been asked to reveal his sources for the story, Judge Oldt told him he was no longer a reporter, and therefore, no longer protected by the Shield Law.

On the stand, Farr revealed that the news source for his story included two of the six attorneys of record for the Manson trial, Dennis R. Saffier and Dale H. Bode. Oldt had placed the attorneys under "gag order," preventing them from talking in newsmen.

In the reporter's trial, the attorneys were asked to swear to any confidence they had made with Farr. All six have done so, but not before asking Farr to disappear, whatever they would say in court.

When Farr again refused to name his sources, he was sentenced to jail for 60 days in the "indefinite period of time."

His appeal in the state and federal courts centers around two contentions: his sentence is an ex post factum application of the law and it is a cruel and unusual punishment for the crime.

"When he talked to the public he communicated a message of larger issues. "People may raise the issue of saving five lives but he said, 'I want something that's in the public interest.' He said, 'There is a need to convince the public that they will be the real losers if news sources are not protected.'

"The New Year's was freed Jan. 11 by U.S. Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas who handles emergency appeals from the 9th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals. But Farr is only free pending the outcome of two court appeals on the state level and one on the federal level.

Farr was jailed last November, by Superior Court Judge Charles Oldt on a charge of "civil contempt of the court." The 30-year-old newsmann maintains that when he allowed the story to question he appears he was acting on advice from Judge Oldt.

The reporter related his escape to jail after being held for 48 hours in jail after being denied a ruling on his motion for a preliminary order.

Farr agreed that reporters were protected from revealing their sources under Section 1070 of the Government Code, known as the Shield Law.

In October of 1979, while the Manson trial was still going on, Farr wrote a news story based on information he received from confidential sources. The day before the story appeared Farr and Judge Oldt discussed it. Oldt asked Farr to tell him who the sources for the story were.

The following day a news blackout was placed on the jurors and the story appeared in the Herald-Examiner.
EDITORIAL
Parking fee increase won't help this campus

The trustees will again consider a raise in the parking permit fee Mar. 20 and 21.

The decision to raise the fee from $9 to $10 per quarter was postponed at their last meeting, perhaps in hopes that the students would ignore the threat the second time around.

Yet the same situation exists now as it did when Mustang Daily wrote in January: "...each year the $9 sticker has lost some of its ability to assure the student a short hike to his classes. It hardly seems fair to raise a fee without improving service."

The money is needed, the trustees believe, to construct more parking facilities at urban colleges and universities. That is not going to help this campus. We are not receiving our fair share of the fee money, but we will be expected to pay the same increase as other campuses.

This university neither needs nor wants multi-story parking complexes. But money has been earmarked for alternate transportation for campuses, an admirable concept that this campus would gladly explore if given the chance.

EAGLE DEFENDERS

Animals have right to be here

Editor:
I am writing this letter in response to the two articles which were concerned with the eagle shootings.
Bala Underwood, author of the article entitled "Thousand Eagles Not killed," commits the same error as Bruce Paskovsky when she criticized.

Since it is quite obvious that Bala Underwood didn't take the time to investigate all the facts and that she manipulated the issue to make them appear more convincing, I except her invitation to demonstrate my interest in ecology and to provide her with an accurate and true picture of the eagle situation.

First, she obtains her information from a Sierra Club Bulletin of October-November 1971 which is woefully outdated. All my information comes from the recent December 1971 and January 1972 issue of Conservation News of the National Wildlife Association.

Second, the article that she is referring to isn't at all related to the issue that Paskovsky wrote about. Paskovsky wrote about the illegal shooting of eagles in Rt. 119,000 that the helicopter service received for the eagle killing contract. The true facts of the matter is that the man who killed the eagles was charged with 366 killings which is an estimated 11 per cent of the eagle population since there are approximately 3,000 eagles left in the United States. The helicopter service (which the man transacted business with in the slaying of the eagles) was fined a mere $800. This fine is nothing compared to the $1,000,000 that the helicopter service received for the eagle killing contract.

In closing, I would like to speak on behalf of endangered species that don't have a voice that can be heard. I hope all Americans will consider the plight of the eagles as well as other endangered species. We must have respect for the animals and see the need of them in order to maintain the delicate balance of our ecosystem. After all, since God put them on the earth, the animals have as much right to be here as we do.

Robert Miller

Columnist says some eagle killers not caught

The Ecology article is an honest expression of opinion, and like the other articles in the Mustang Daily, is not written from a position of professional expertise. I do not "broadcast...lies" like you say. Now, you show me where you got the information for that one. Character references? FBI?

I thank Bala Underwood for responding to my article, and expressing her viewpoint. This is the discussion I was seeking. I do research my articles.

My assumption that "thousands" of eagles were slaughtered is not unfounded as you think. James O. Vegan, testifying before a U.S. Senate Committee (August 1971) admitted that his own tally was close to 800. It is unreasonable to assume that many other culprits have not been apprehended, which would indeed push the total well over 1,000.

In closing, I would like to speak on behalf of endangered species that don't have a voice that can be heard. I hope all Americans will consider the plight of the eagles as well as other endangered species. We must have respect for the animals and see the need of them in order to maintain the delicate balance of our ecosystem. After all, since God put them on the earth, the animals have as much right to be here as we do.

Robert Miller

Students asked to pre-register

It is required of all Business, Political Science, Economic and Social Science students to pre-register at the Advisement Center in BA 130.

The Business and Social Science Council wishes to inform all students of the school to pre-register at the Advisement Center as soon as possible, as you will not be able to register for Spring Quarter. It is imperative that all students of this school pre-register in BA 130.

Stevie Castle
Chairman of the Council
Music thrills audience

by KEVIN O'CONNOR

"Wonderful! Fantastic!" Even the conductor of the Symphonic Band, accustomed to excellence from the students under his direction was seen to join the exclamations of delight that applauded the efforts of the various musical performers at the annual Winter Concert.

A large crowd gathered Friday night in Chunshah Auditorium to hear the band and several of its smaller ensemble groups perform pop and modern classical music.

Obviously enjoying themselves as much as the audience, the members of the Studio Band, a jazz-rock ensemble, provided the pop section of the program, at times clowning through their parts, and sometimes performing with the entire band.

Their antics included having the trumpet section sway and close their eyes. Judging from the response to this concert, the Music Department has an eager audience waiting for much more whenever they will provide it.

TRAVEL GUIDES:
USA, EUROPE, AFRICA, ASIA
FREE AT THE BOOKSTORE

German Auto
Expert Porsche and VW Repair
Open Tuesday & Saturday
8:30 am - 6 pm
373 Paclifica
843-7473

Chick's Nudie
- FUnky Clothes
- Organic Make-up
- Antique Jewelry
1037 Oses st.
644-2066

The Crazy Horse
PRESENTS
SARAH
MAR 1st-3rd & 7th-10th
HAPPY HOUR 6pm-7:30pm
Glue 15c Wed-Sat Pitcher 75c
Sandwiches & Burgers

Rock concert proposed to clean up environment

Editor:
I propose a concert this spring. We evidently won't have a rock concert this year unless we do it ourselves.

"Clean Air" would be our theme. If we asked groups to donate their time, and if the profits were to go to positive environmental action we could have a fine attraction for some of the best music in the world. Profit distribution to be decided upon by the student body between various environmental lobbies. San Luis Obispo Environmental Center, Any positive action project put before the student body to vote for or against.

To deter motorists and stick to our theme we could charge high fees for parking during the concert, and use the money toward lights for the parking lot.

I believe with such a format we could draw the best performers. To entice the administration toward approval, we could earmark a certain percent of the profit toward special research to be done on the university campus.

Someone could start by asking George and his friends, Gary Keesin.
An important Poly Royal General Board meeting will be held Thursday night in Union 207 at 7 p.m. All members of the General Board, which includes one representative from each campus organization, are urged to attend so that this year's queen truly represents our school. Any last minute questions can be answered by calling the Poly Royal Desk at 544-6668 or Ratio at 544-1602.

Amuse meeting for Poly Royal

Here's a personal calculator that's different. It's got what students need - square roots, exponentials, and more... at a price you can afford. $149.95.

The new Texas Instruments SR-10 offers you more for your money than the SR-10-and it's less and don't pay more. No other calculator provides you with this kind of value. Order direct from

Texas Instruments

Educational Investments

It's easy to use - even if you've never used a calculator or computer before. Just plug the keys in the same way you say the problem. Order direct from Texas Instruments

Order yours now. Don't settle for less, and don't pay more. No other calculator offers you more for your money than the SR-10 - and it's built to last, by the leader in the industry.

Get yourself an SR-10 and get the most out of your studies. Then use the way you'll use your other educational investments in your career. An SR-10 will serve you well for a long time.

No risk 15-day examination offer

Send coupon and enclose check or money order for $149.95, plus $3.95 for shipping and handling. Please add state and local sales tax where applicable. Use the SR-10 for 15 days then if you decide not to keep it return it in original carton with all accessories for full refund.

ACTUAL SIZE

$149.95 including AC adapter, charger, carrying case, manual and warranty.

Ansel Adams to be speaker

Noted photographer and conservationist, Ansel Adams, will bring his widespread knowledge of nature photography to the Poly campus on Monday, March 3. Appearing as part of the continuing University Convocation Series, Adams will speak on "Creative Photography" at 8 p.m. in Chumash Auditorium. The public is invited to attend the free lecture.

Adams has studied the premier photographer of the 20th century, and he is the author of several books since 1931 at the Smithsonian Institute, Washington, D.C.; Museum of Modern Art in New York City; Yale University, and elsewhere.

Adams has had several books published including "Sierra in Northern California," "My Camera in Yosemite Valley," and "The Island of Hawaii." In addition to his books, he leads a workshop in Yosemite National Park each summer and teaches photography at the University of California at Santa Cruz.

The famed photographer's appearance here is being cosponsored by the university, the Student Council of the School of Communicative Arts and Humanities, and the Convocation and Speakers Committee.

Theatre group performs here

The nation's most active repertory theatre group, the Alpha-Omega Players of Dallas, Texas will perform "The Diary of Adam and Eve," Friday, in Chumash Auditorium at 8 p.m.

Sponsored by the Fine Arts Committee, this fully-staged production was first presented on Broadway in 1966. Adapted from a short story by Mark Twain, with music by the composers of "Fiddler on the Roof," the play tells the story of the age-old struggle between man and woman.

The talented actors of the company combine music, dance, and a new perspective on the lives of the first man and woman.

The director-producer of the group, Drexel R. Riley, formed the Alpha-Omega Players in the summer of 1967. In the last five years, they have staged some 2700 performances, covering more than 758,000 miles in 46 states and Canada.

The public is invited. Admission will be $1 for students and $1.50 for all others. Tickets for the performance are available at the Information Desk in the Union.

Roundhouse

Questions? Problems?

Call Roundhouse at 544-3614 or drop by CU 217B.

Eve Sigrid Museum of the Alpha Omega Players of Dallas is cast in the role of Eve in "The Diary of Adam and Eve." The play is scheduled for this Friday at 8 p.m. in Chumash Auditorium.

Theatre group performs here

The nation's most active repertory theatre group, the Alpha-Omega Players of Dallas, Texas will perform "The Diary of Adam and Eve," Friday, in Chumash Auditorium at 8 p.m.

Sponsored by the Fine Arts Committee, this fully-staged production was first presented on Broadway in 1966. Adapted from a short story by Mark Twain, with music by the composers of "Fiddler on the Roof," the play tells the story of the age-old struggle between man and woman.

The talented actors of the company combine music, dance, and a new perspective on the lives of the first man and woman.

The director-producer of the group, Drexel R. Riley, formed the Alpha-Omega Players in the summer of 1967. In the last five years, they have staged some 2700 performances, covering more than 758,000 miles in 46 states and Canada.

The public is invited. Admission will be $1 for students and $1.50 for all others. Tickets for the performance are available at the Information Desk in the Union.

Roundhouse

Questions? Problems?

Call Roundhouse at 544-3614 or drop by CU 217B.

Eve Sigrid Museum of the Alpha Omega Players of Dallas is cast in the role of Eve in "The Diary of Adam and Eve." The play is scheduled for this Friday at 8 p.m. in Chumash Auditorium.

Theatre group performs here

The nation's most active repertory theatre group, the Alpha-Omega Players of Dallas, Texas will perform "The Diary of Adam and Eve," Friday, in Chumash Auditorium at 8 p.m.

Sponsored by the Fine Arts Committee, this fully-staged production was first presented on Broadway in 1966. Adapted from a short story by Mark Twain, with music by the composers of "Fiddler on the Roof," the play tells the story of the age-old struggle between man and woman.

The talented actors of the company combine music, dance, and a new perspective on the lives of the first man and woman.

The director-producer of the group, Drexel R. Riley, formed the Alpha-Omega Players in the summer of 1967. In the last five years, they have staged some 2700 performances, covering more than 758,000 miles in 46 states and Canada.

The public is invited. Admission will be $1 for students and $1.50 for all others. Tickets for the performance are available at the Information Desk in the Union.

Roundhouse

Questions? Problems?

Call Roundhouse at 544-3614 or drop by CU 217B.

Eve Sigrid Museum of the Alpha Omega Players of Dallas is cast in the role of Eve in "The Diary of Adam and Eve." The play is scheduled for this Friday at 8 p.m. in Chumash Auditorium.

Ansel Adams to be speaker

Noted photographer and conservationist, Ansel Adams, will bring his widespread knowledge of nature photography to the Poly campus on Monday, March 3. Appearing as part of the continuing University Convocation Series, Adams will speak on "Creative Photography" at 8 p.m. in Chumash Auditorium. The public is invited to attend the free lecture.

Adams has studied the premier photographer of the 20th century, and he is the author of several books since 1931 at the Smithsonian Institute, Washington, D.C.; Museum of Modern Art in New York City; Yale University, and elsewhere.

Adams has had several books published including "Sierra in Northern California," "My Camera in Yosemite Valley," and "The Island of Hawaii." In addition to his books, he leads a workshop in Yosemite National Park each summer and teaches photography at the University of California at Santa Cruz.

The famed photographer's appearance here is being cosponsored by the university, the Student Council of the School of Communicative Arts and Humanities, and the Convocation and Speakers Committee.

Ansel Adams to be speaker

Noted photographer and conservationist, Ansel Adams, will bring his widespread knowledge of nature photography to the Poly campus on Monday, March 3. Appearing as part of the continuing University Convocation Series, Adams will speak on "Creative Photography" at 8 p.m. in Chumash Auditorium. The public is invited to attend the free lecture.

Adams has studied the premier photographer of the 20th century, and he is the author of several books since 1931 at the Smithsonian Institute, Washington, D.C.; Museum of Modern Art in New York City; Yale University, and elsewhere.

Adams has had several books published including "Sierra in Northern California," "My Camera in Yosemite Valley," and "The Island of Hawaii." In addition to his books, he leads a workshop in Yosemite National Park each summer and teaches photography at the University of California at Santa Cruz.

The famed photographer's appearance here is being cosponsored by the university, the Student Council of the School of Communicative Arts and Humanities, and the Convocation and Speakers Committee.

Ansel Adams to be speaker

Noted photographer and conservationist, Ansel Adams, will bring his widespread knowledge of nature photography to the Poly campus on Monday, March 3. Appearing as part of the continuing University Convocation Series, Adams will speak on "Creative Photography" at 8 p.m. in Chumash Auditorium. The public is invited to attend the free lecture.

Adams has studied the premier photographer of the 20th century, and he is the author of several books since 1931 at the Smithsonian Institute, Washington, D.C.; Museum of Modern Art in New York City; Yale University, and elsewhere.

Adams has had several books published including "Sierra in Northern California," "My Camera in Yosemite Valley," and "The Island of Hawaii." In addition to his books, he leads a workshop in Yosemite National Park each summer and teaches photography at the University of California at Santa Cruz.

The famed photographer's appearance here is being cosponsored by the university, the Student Council of the School of Communicative Arts and Humanities, and the Convocation and Speakers Committee.

Ansel Adams to be speaker

Noted photographer and conservationist, Ansel Adams, will bring his widespread knowledge of nature photography to the Poly campus on Monday, March 3. Appearing as part of the continuing University Convocation Series, Adams will speak on "Creative Photography" at 8 p.m. in Chumash Auditorium. The public is invited to attend the free lecture.

Adams has studied the premier photographer of the 20th century, and he is the author of several books since 1931 at the Smithsonian Institute, Washington, D.C.; Museum of Modern Art in New York City; Yale University, and elsewhere.

Adams has had several books published including "Sierra in Northern California," "My Camera in Yosemite Valley," and "The Island of Hawaii." In addition to his books, he leads a workshop in Yosemite National Park each summer and teaches photography at the University of California at Santa Cruz.

The famed photographer's appearance here is being cosponsored by the university, the Student Council of the School of Communicative Arts and Humanities, and the Convocation and Speakers Committee.

Ansel Adams to be speaker

Noted photographer and conservationist, Ansel Adams, will bring his widespread knowledge of nature photography to the Poly campus on Monday, March 3. Appearing as part of the continuing University Convocation Series, Adams will speak on "Creative Photography" at 8 p.m. in Chumash Auditorium. The public is invited to attend the free lecture.

Adams has studied the premier photographer of the 20th century, and he is the author of several books since 1931 at the Smithsonian Institute, Washington, D.C.; Museum of Modern Art in New York City; Yale University, and elsewhere.

Adams has had several books published including "Sierra in Northern California," "My Camera in Yosemite Valley," and "The Island of Hawaii." In addition to his books, he leads a workshop in Yosemite National Park each summer and teaches photography at the University of California at Santa Cruz.

The famed photographer's appearance here is being cosponsored by the university, the Student Council of the School of Communicative Arts and Humanities, and the Convocation and Speakers Committee.
VISTA GRANDE
RESTAURANT

GRAND OPENING
MARCH 6 THROUGH MARCH 11

THURS 11 AM-11 PM
FRIDAY 11 AM-11 PM
SAT 11 AM-11 PM
SUN 11 AM-11 PM

GRAND OPENING DINNER MENU
Featuring ROAST BIRLOIN OF BEEF AU JUS

- ART EXHIBIT
- FACILITY TOURS

- FLOWERS FOR THE LADIES
- SPECIAL DESSERTS
  PROFESSIONALLY DECORATED

Vista Grande

BURGER BAR
ICE CREAM SHOPPE
SNACK BAR
STUDENT DINING HALL
STAFF ROOM
CAMPUS CATERING
VENDING
FOUNDATION FOOD SERVICE
Dairy Industry in top condition

The manager of Petaluma Dairy Cooperative of Petaluma claims that the dairy industry is probably the "healthiest of all segments of agriculture right now."

Eugene Benedetti, also a member of the Board of Trustees of the California State University and College, was the guest speaker at a meeting of Los Lomitas on Feb. 23.

Benedetti believes the California dairy industry, which has confined its marketing to the state, will be beginning to reach out to markets further afield in the coming years.

Prior to his talk, the man visited the campus dairy processing plant and the foundation and student dairy facilities, and was impressed, in his words, "With the backgrounds students gain here within two years they would be able to take over the operations of a major dairy enterprise."

He said there are many opportunities available to the young man since older men need them to take over their operations.

P-E credit for intramurals

Intramural activities will be offered for credit during the spring Quarter, according to Intramural Director Dick Heaton.

Four classes will be offered during the spring. They are: 196 X Intramural Softball NW, 1960 MPE; 196 X Intramural Weight Training NW, 1960 MPE; 196 X Intramural Volleyball, TTH, 1900 MPE; 196 X Intramural Basketball, NW, 1960 MPE.

The classes are not listed in the class schedule. Anyone interested in these classes should check with their advisor Heaton said. A card will be required to enter the classes Heaton said.

Sunglasses: A great purchase...and the sun is shining.

Mike Seeger

Seeger concert a winner

by KEVIN O'CONNOR

An informal coffeehouse arrangement set the atmosphere for one of the most enjoyable concerts this year as Mike Seeger performed here Sunday night.

From the moment the popular musician stepped onto the stage through the old and new folk songs to the two encore, the people who gathered for the latest Unconcert made it plain that they were enjoying every minute of the show.

The tall, gaunt singer, deepest eyes flashing in the spotlight, spent the evening in Chumash Auditorium demonstrating his talents on a few of the instruments he plays. He started with his autoharp and went on to his guitar, mouthharps, banjo, Jew's harp and fiddles.

During the concert Seeger consistently interspersed songs with jokes and music lessons designed to add to his performance. The love of people object to the term Jew's harp. You can call it a Jew's harp if you want but that other is the real name for it accepted in other places around the world...there's about 10 different names around the world...

The band plays on...

The band plays on... folk music, notating that rock had drowned it out for awhile but folk music is coming back around.

It has a tremendous present. A while ago I had a doubt. But then I asked myself why people began deciding that the homemade music, the music that they could just stick to and any function...rock was one of the last toads.

He spoke of the rough time that folk music has had, particularly in college. "It's really put on the top 10. He said, though, that there are other indicators than the top 10 and that folkmusic, because of the strength of its massing and was stronger than ever.

The crowd of excited people around the performer after the show indicated their desire for more concerts of this type and asked Seeger to come back soon.

He said that he was here to judge a folk festival last year and always enjoys it when he comes to Ben Lutis Obispo.

A spokesman for the Activities Planning Center said that there are plans for another Unconcert in May with the artist and time to be announced.

San Luis Nursery

Open every day 8-6:30 for those people just starting to talk with their advisor Heaton said. He was hired by the then Department. You'll be responsible for the department head when careful announcing who will be the President.

Bob Davidson went on to admit that he has no reservation about leaving Cal Poly, excepting, "the good friends that I admired and shared in his many accomplishments.

"I'm extremely outspoken, as everybody knows," said Davidson. "If I don't like something, I'll tell you right to your face. If the fellows don't like what I do, they tell me right to my face. We don't have any secrets."

"I'm extremely outspoken, as everybody knows," said Davidson. "If I don't like something, I'll tell you right to your face. If the fellows don't like what I do, they tell me right to my face. We don't have any secrets."

"I'm extremely outspoken, as everybody knows," said Davidson. "If I don't like something, I'll tell you right to your face. If the fellows don't like what I do, they tell me right to my face. We don't have any secrets."
POLY POOP SCOOP

THE VOICE OF PROGRAMMING

FINA ARTS COMMITTEE PRESENTS THE ALPHA-Omega PLAYERS OF DALLAS, TEXAS IN "THE DIARY OF ADAM AND EVE," ADAPTED FROM THE SHORT STORY BY MARK TWAIN ON FRIDAY, MARCH 9 AT 8:00 PM IN CHISHOLM AUDITORIUM OF THE UNIVERSITY UNION. THE PRICE IS $1. FOR STUDENTS AND $3. FOR THE GENERAL PUBLIC.

TICKETS FOR THE PERFORMANCE ARE NOW AVAILABLE AT THE UNIVERSITY UNION INFORMATION DESK.

RAT NOTES

BOWLING TOURNAMENT

Type: Doubles
Time: Open until March 10, daily until 9 pm
Entry Fee: $3.50 per team
Prizes: Gifts certificate 1st place, $50 gift certificate 2nd place, $10 gift certificate 2nd place, $5 gift certificate 3rd place
Handicap: Men 17 per cent of 900
Women 10 per cent of 900
Mass: 990 gift certificate 1st prize, 910 gift certificate 2nd prize
Misc: Can't bowl more than twice on the same team.

BILLIARDS TOURNAMENT

Type: 8 Ball (Double elimination)
Time: Saturday, March 10
Entry Fee: $2.00
Prizes: 810 gift certificate 1st place, 80 gift certificate 2nd place, 80 gift certificate 3rd place
Handicap: Men 17 per cent of 900
Women 10 per cent of 900
Mass: 990 gift certificate 1st place, 910 gift certificate 2nd place

Enter both tournaments now at the University Union Information Desk.

Mika Love of The Beach Boys conveyed many interesting ideas in an interview last Sunday. This presentation will be aired tonight and Sunday at 9:00 p.m. on KVEC. KCPR will also broadcast the interview March 10 at 9:10 p.m.

Mike Love of The Beach Boys conveyed many interesting ideas in an interview last Sunday. This presentation will be aired tonight and Sunday at 9:00 p.m. on KVEC. KCPR will also broadcast the interview March 10 at 9:10 p.m.

Craft Center closes for the quarter on March 13.
Swimmers place low, but performance good

Fourth place out of five teams was all the Mustang swimming team could come up with in the California Collegiate Athletic Association (CCAA) meet, but coach Dick Anderson has few regrets.

The conference standings showed Cal State Northridge in first (180 points) followed by Cal Poly Pomona (69), UC Riverside (110). In the most brutal of the Mustangs Thursday through Saturday, "I would say that 95 percent of our swimmers either had lifetime or season bests," said Anderson.

Anderson singled out freshman Dave Caner as one who really performed to the best of his potential. In the preliminaries Caner broke a school record in the 200-yard backstroke. His time of 1:11.68 upset Pete Scaroni's mark of 1:12.24 set in 1984. Mike Callahan picked up five lifetime bests in the 100-yard free, 100-yard freestyle, and 100-yard butterfly.

Pomona (ITS), the Mustangs showed Cal State Northridge in the meet hosted by the Associated (CCAA) meet, but performance good.