WIDELY-KNOWN LINGUIST ARCHIBALD HILL WILL BE CAMPUS VISITOR

Poetry, literature, linguistics, and the humanities will be treated by Archibald A. Hill, who will be a visiting lecturer at Cal Poly next week (Feb. 1-5). Lectures, special events, and an exhibition of literary criticism are planned in connection with the week-long visit by Dr. Hill, a professor of English and linguistics at the University of Texas at Austin.

Professor Hill's visit to Cal Poly is co-sponsored by the English Department and the Foreign Language and Linguistics Department. Gloria Jameson (Head of the Foreign Language and Linguistics Department) is general chairman for the series of events which will begin with a poetry workshop to be held in the Staff Dining Room from 2 to 6 p.m. on Monday (Feb. 1).

Mrs. Glenna Luschei is chairman of the poetry workshop. A poet and editor and the wife of Martin Luschei (English Department), Mrs. Luschei was chairman of a very successful poetry reading which recently was presented to a standing-room-only crowd. Area poets interested in the poetry workshop to be conducted by Dr. Hill may obtain further information from Mrs. Luschei (544-5074).

Various aspects of Dr. Hill's visit to the college are being presented in cooperation with the College Union Fine Arts Committee, the college Library, and the Art Department.

Leader in Development of Linguistics

Dr. Hill is recognized as one of the leaders in the development of linguistics in the United States. As an English professor at the Universities of Michigan, Virginia, and Texas, he has been the linguist who has done most to explore the intriguing field of linguistic-stylistic-literary research. He is noted as a scholar of Medieval English language and literature, the American Indian and Eskimo languages, and a specialist in the teaching of English as a second or foreign language. His AB is from Pomona College, his AM from Stanford, and his PhD from Yale.

During World War II, Dr. Hill aided in breaking the secret codes of enemy communications. Since that time, in addition to his full schedule of university classes, he has been a representative of the U. S. Department of State for two terms each in Japan and Taiwan as organizer of programs in TEFL, and a special lecturer in Yugoslavia and Poland. In 1969 he was president of the Linguistic Society of America; the Thord-Gray lecturer in Lund, Sweden, during the spring of that year; and a lecturer at colleges in New York, Alabama, and Texas.

Of interest to teachers, writers of poetry, students, and others will be a public lecture to be presented by Dr. Hill in the Cal Poly Theater next Tuesday (Feb. 2) at 8 p.m., entitled "Sunflowers Over Two Centuries." The title does not indicate a horticultural subject, according to Dr. Jameson. She indicated that Dr. Hill will provide some literary and linguistic insights into Allen Ginsberg's "Sunflower Sutra" and William Blake's "Sunflower," and a linguistic approach which he has used in pointing out similarities between the linguistics of songs by the Beatles and the everyday language of poetry by Robert Frost.

TELE-COURSE PROPOSALS STILL BEING SOUGHT BY COMMITTEE

Proposals for courses for possible presentation by Cal Poly on commercial television stations in the Central California Coast Area are still being sought by the ad hoc Educational Development Committee, according to Don M. Morris (Associate Dean, Continuing Education), who is chairman of the group.

The committee is presently considering production of a course of up to 2 units of credit to be presented in 30-minute segments. Salary and/or released time arrangements will be arranged to fit the circumstances of the course and instructor finally selected. Subject matter is open at this point, but courses with broad appeal are important to success of the program.

Dr. Morris said the committee will continue to receive proposals from members of the college faculty and instructional departments through Feb. 4. He urged those interested either in learning more about the proposed program series or in proposing courses to contact him at his office, Adm-309, 546-2053.

In addition to his public lecture on Tuesday evening, Dr. Hill will visit literature and linguistics classes at Cal Poly. Robert J. Huot (English Department) (546-2202) is coordinating the class visits. John F. Kerr (also English Department) will serve as Dr. Hill's host during the lecturer's visit in San Luis Obispo.

Special invitational faculty evenings dealing with specialized areas of literature, linguistics, and the humanities are also being planned on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday (Feb. 3, 4, 5) evenings. Hosts for the three evening events are Marvin D. Brown and John Mott (both English Department), Robert G. Lint (Foreign Language and Linguistics Department) and Mrs. Bernice Loughran (Head of Art Department).

Faculty interested in attending any of the invitational evenings are asked to telephone the English Department (546-2597) for further information.

During the week of lectures, a special exhibit in Dexter Memorial Library will feature paintings and drawings inspired by poems and other works of literature.

CANCELLATION OF FILM SHOWING ANNOUNCED BY JAPANESE STUDENTS

The showing of the Japanese language feature film Seven Samurai, which had been scheduled for next Monday (Feb. 1) evening in the campus theater, has been cancelled. Allan Hoshida, a spokesman for Tomo Dachi Kai, an organization of Japanese students at Cal Poly which had arranged the showing, said that difficulties in finalizing arrangements for use of the famed motion picture caused the change. Hoshida said Tomo Dachi Kai will continue its plans for a showing of Seven Samurai at the college, probably sometime this spring.

CHIROPRACTIC SERVICES SIGN-UP WILL END THIS WEEK

Employees interested in the chiropractic services program of the California State Employees Association have until the end of this month to sign up for the program. For further information, contact the Personnel Office, Adm-110, 546-2236.
SUNDAY EVENING CONCERT WILL FEATURE WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB

The 84 voices of the Cal Poly Women's Glee Club will be featured in an evening program of music and song Sunday (Jan. 31) at the Presbyterian Church, Marsh and Morro Sts., San Luis Obispo. The program will start at 5 p.m. in the Hart Building annex of the church, and the public is invited to attend the songfest. Admission will be free.

The Women's Glee Club, under the direction of Harold Davidson, head of Cal Poly's Music Department, will perform such hymns and folksongs as When I Can Read My Title Clear, I Like the Land with The Golden Hair, and Danny Boy, in addition to Bach's Spring Comes Laughing and Palmgren's May Night. Also slated are several Cal Poly songs.

Joining the Women's Glee Club for the Sunday performance will be Cal Poly's Collegiate Quartet of male voices and the Women's Sextette, composed of vocalists from the larger glee group.

NEW EMPLOYMENT REPRESENTATIVE APPOINTED TO PERSONNEL STAFF

The recent appointment of Clyde Scott to the Personnel Office as employment representative has been announced by Larry Voss (Director of Personnel Relations). Scott's duties include responsibility over the recruitment program for staff positions with particular emphasis on the recruitment of minority group members as well as coordinating the special community-related trainee programs in which the college is now participating.

Formerly associated with Coast Joint Union High School in Cambria, Scott received his Bachelor of Arts Degree from Pepperdine University and has taken additional course work at University of California at Santa Barbara, University of Santa Clara, and Cal Poly, and was on the Dean's Honor List at both Cal Poly and at Pepperdine.

Scott is officed in Adm-110A of the Payroll-Personnel Office complex. His office telephone number is 546-2605.

ADDITIONS TO LIBRARY ARCHIVES COLLECTION SHOWS NEW FACE OF CIVIL WAR

Little-known aspects of the American Civil War as recorded in the handwritten correspondence of a regimental quartermaster in the Union Army are now available for study on campus. The letters, inventories, and post-war reunion notices of Capt. Jonathan C. Wallace, a member of the 12th Ohio Volunteer Infantry, were given to the Cal Poly Library by the soldier's grandsons, realtor Charles H. Wallace of Morro Bay and airline pilot Malcolm C. Wallace of Houston, Tex.

"These items of correspondence are valuable examples of primary historical evidence for certain facets of the war," said Donald W. Hensel, history faculty member who examined the letters before they were added to the college library's archives collection. "Students of this conflict will find these documents enlightening as they try to comprehend the greater tragedy of the American people in civil discord and the struggle of the individual soldier."

TICKETS FOR CSEA EVENT SELLING RAPIDLY

Tickets for the "Night on Bourbon Street" party of Cal Poly Chapter 97 of the California State Employees Association, which is being planned for the evening of Feb. 20 at the Veterans Memorial Building in San Luis Obispo, are selling rapidly, according to Mrs. Francine Hapgood (Business Affairs Division Office), a spokesman for the CSEA group.

The $3.50 tickets will entitle holders to a roast sirloin of beef or shrimp jambalaya dinner, plus dancing and gaming. Each guest will receive $500 in non-negotiable bills of a variety of denominations, which may be exchanged at the gaming tables for more or less of the same kind of funny money. Dancing will be to the music of a 17-piece Bourbon Street band.

The party will start with a get-acquainted hour at 7 p.m. A buffet dinner will begin at 8 o'clock and dancing and gaming will follow at 9. Tickets may be purchased from Mrs. Hapgood.

JANUARY SALARY WARRANTS WILL BE AVAILABLE ON MONDAY

Salary warrants for the January pay period will be available to state employees who wish to pick them up in the Business Affairs Division Office, Adm-114, on Monday (Feb. 1). They will be available after that date at the State Cashiers Office, Adm-131-C. Employees whose reporting departments and units are participating in the check distribution system can obtain their warrants after 4 p.m. on Friday (Jan. 29) from the designated member of their department or unit staff.

Spanning the war years and the period following the Confederate surrender, the letters are not so much concerned with actual battles or the soldier's wartime lot, but with Capt. Wallace's quartermaster activities. "It is this unique viewpoint that makes the correspondence an important contribution to the historical archives," Dr. Hensel said. "There is much literature about the bloody struggles and face-to-face combat available, but the day-to-day logistics and supply problems have been under-emphasized in the past."

The Wallace name once figured importantly in affairs in Lebanon, where Capt. Wallace settled following the war. The captain's son, Charles Palmer Wallace, became the Missouri state mining inspector, and a second son, Irving Wallace, built the Louise Wallace Hospital in Lebanon. Wallace Hall at Drury College in nearby Springfield also perpetuates the family name.

L. Harry Strauss, college librarian at Cal Poly, said Capt. Wallace's papers will be available for research use in the library by college students and faculty, and to others by special arrangement. Dr. Hensel joined Strauss in inviting similar contributions of historical documents and material from others who may wish to make them available for study in the Cal Poly library archives collection.

SPECIAL SEATING BEING READIED FOR CAMPUS DRAMA PRODUCTION

Special seating is being readied to accommodate audiences for the theater-in-the-round presentations of Jean-Claude Van Itallie's play America Hurrah Thursday, Friday, and Saturday (Jan. 28, 29, and 30). Some 150 seats will be available for each of the performances, which are scheduled for 8:30 p.m., on the Cal Poly Theater stage, according to Joe and Elaina Taylor, the play's student husband and wife director team.

The play, which has been produced on college campuses since its off-Broadway debut in 1966, is being produced by the College Program Board Drama Committee of Cal Poly's Associated Students, Inc.

Mrs. Taylor, a junior majoring in chemistry, said the student cast for America Hurrah includes Tim Deinhard, Lisa Hatfield, Pat Halfaker, Winnie Robbins, Dan Smith, Barbara Stackler, Kirk Stathes, Greg Spencer, and Joe Taylor. Joe Taylor, who is looking out for the technical aspects of the production, said this week that special platforms are being constructed on the stage of the Cal Poly Theater to provide seating and enclose the staging area for the play.

Actually written as three plays in one, America Hurrah satirizes America and Americans in a down-to-earth manner with wide-ranging action, language, and criticism. In one of the three skits, Smith, Spencer, and Joe Taylor star in a spoof on motel room vandalism titled, "Motel." All three don doll-like costumes with out-of-proportion heads to depict travelers and vacationers at their destructive best.

The remainder of the cast gathers on stage for part two, "TV." In this segment, three "boob tube" viewers in a television rating studio become the targets of pilot shows and trite commercials acted out by the remaining members of the cast. Finally, the entire cast, with the exception of Stathes, pull off a poignant satire on job interviewers in a skit appropriately titled, "Interview."

Mrs. Taylor urged persons planning to attend any of the performances to arrive at the theater before 8 p.m. A "relaxation and refreshment" period designed to prepare the audience for the mood of America Hurrah will be presented between 8 and 8:30 p.m. each evening. General admission tickets are priced at $1 for students and $1.50 for all others.

APPLICANTS BEING SOUGHT FOR TEACHING POSITIONS

Applicants for three positions on the teaching faculty of the Social Sciences Department of the School of Business and Social Sciences are currently being sought, according to Larry Voss (Director of Personnel Relations). Those interested in learning more about the positions or in applying for any of them are invited to contact George C. Clucas (Dean of Business and Social Sciences). The vacant positions are:

Intermediate Instructor ($777-$992 monthly) (two positions), and Principal Instructor ($1253-$1602 monthly) Social Sciences Department, School of Business and Social Sciences. Strong undergraduate teaching experience in introductory sociology, social work, ethnic studies, and population needed. Candidates with PhD and PhD with MSW are being sought.

Typewritten copy intended for the next issue of Cal Poly Report must be received prior to 12 noon Friday, Jan. 29, in the Office of Information Services, Administration-210.
STUDENT DISCIPLINE COORDINATOR NAMED

The assignment of Larry Wolf as coordinator of student discipline at Cal Poly has been announced by President Robert E. Kennedy. Wolf, a member of the Placement and Financial Aids Office staff, has been designated as coordinator as provided for by Executive Order No. 116 which promulgates student disciplinary procedures. The order, distributed by the college last November, provides for appointment of a coordinator at each state college. Wolf succeeds Robert Timone, assistant to the dean of students, from a temporary additional assignment.

Wolf's responsibilities are to investigate alleged violations of disciplinary sections of the Administrative and Education Codes and related matters and to make recommendations to the President including recommendations as to kinds of hearings which should be held. Alternative kinds of hearings are provided for by the executive order. In addition to his new assignment, Wolf will continue to serve as a counselor in the Placement and Financial Aids Office.

SUPPORT STAFF VACANCIES LISTED BY PERSONNEL OFFICER

Four vacant positions on the support staff of the college have been announced by S. Milton Pluma (Staff Personnel Officer). Descriptions of the positions, which are also posted on the bulletin board located in the Personnel Office, Adm-111, 546-2236, read:

Campus Peace Officer, Range A ($717-$870), Security Department, Business Affairs Division. Duties and responsibilities include security patrol, investigation, traffic control, and fire prevention. Applicants need to be high school graduates with two years of junior college in police science (POST Certificate) or have two years of full-time law enforcement experience with a police or sheriff's department.
WHO . . . WHAT . . . WHEN . . . WHERE ? ? ?

A psychology text which also may be used for self-study has been authored by two members of the college counseling center staff. Robert E. Alberti and Michael L. Emmons are co-authors of Your Perfect Right: A Guide to Assertive Behavior. The book is described as a guide to the development of assertive behavior for persons who have problems of non-assertiveness or aggression. It is particularly designed for use by teachers, counselors, and personnel workers in schools and colleges. The book is available in El Corral Campus Store at a cost of $2.50.

Evelyn Pellaton (Women's Physical Education Department) has been notified by the Long Beach Board of Women Officials that she has earned a National Rating in Track and Field Officiating. The highest rating given, it qualifies Miss Pellaton to officiate any track and field event in the nation. Miss Pellaton is a member of the Track and Field National Rules Committee for the Division of Girls and Women's Sports and is chairman of the Track Section of the DGWS Rules Guide.

Orvin E. Wagner (Physics Department) is a consultant for Wagner Electronics Products, Rogue River, Ore., a firm which specializes in detecting water in various materials. Dr. Wagner has spent much time studying the properties of free molecules in porous materials and at the moment is applying some of his research experience to the detection of water molecules in materials for Wagner Electronics Products.

James Hayes (Journalism Department) was the principal speaker for the annual meeting of directors and members of the Young Men's Christian Association of Santa Maria, which took place at Rick's Rancho in Santa Maria on Jan. 16. Master of Ceremonies for the event was Ed Zuchelli (also Journalism Department).

John E. Harrigan (Psychology Department and School of Architecture and Environmental Design) and Wesley S. Ward and Ernest Swickard (both School of Architecture and Environmental Design) were participants in a Human Factors in Environmental Design Workshop held in Monterey on Jan. 16. Dr. Harrigan presented a paper titled "Human Factors Criteria in Architecture Design" during the program which took place at the U. S. Naval Postgraduate School.

Lawrence F. Talbott (Industrial Technology Department) has just been appointed to the Advisory Board on Accreditation of the American Society of Quality Control. Talbott, who is presently on leave working on doctoral degree studies at Utah State University, expects to return to his teaching duties on campus in time for start of the Spring Quarter.

Ralph S. Vrana (Physics Department) has received word that his manuscript titled "Seismic Activity Near the Eastern End of the Murray Fracture Zone" has been accepted for publication in the March, 1971 issue of the Geological Society of America Bulletin. The paper is an outgrowth of a study taken by Vrana during a research leave last Spring Quarter and represents one aspect of his continuing work with the geological structure in San Luis Obispo County.

George J. Hasslein (Dean of Architecture and Environmental Design) was the guest speaker for a joint meeting of the Construction Specifications Institute and the Producers Council, which took place at the Anaheim Convention Center the evening of Jan. 14. Topic for his remarks, which were heard by more than 200 representatives of the construction industry in Southern California, was "Changing Education."

EXTENSION COURSE PROPOSALS FOR SPRING QUARTER INVITED

Although there has been considerable response to the memo to school deans requesting recommendations for the Spring Quarter Extension courses, there are still openings available in the course schedule and the Office of Continuing Education is requesting other teachers to consider the possibility of teaching extension courses during the Spring Quarter.

Don M. Morris (Associate Dean, Continuing Education) said any instructor may propose an Extension course through his department head and school dean. He can list his preference for day and location of the class. Every attempt will be made to meet the instructor's request. This winter, courses are being taught in Lompoc, Santa Maria, Arroyo Grande, and San Luis Obispo; and classes may also be scheduled in northern and coastal San Luis Obispo County.

For further information regarding this opportunity of proposing courses, call 546-2053.

NEW MAGIC KINGDOM CLUB MEMBERSHIP CARDS AVAILABLE

New membership cards for Walt Disney's Magic Kingdom Club are now available to Cal Poly faculty and staff at the Personnel Office, Adm-111. (The 1970 cards expired Dec. 31, 1970.)

The Magic Kingdom Club offers the greatest value at "the happiest place on earth." Members can buy Magic Key Books, which include admission to Disneyland and a choice of any 10 attractions, for only $4.75 for adults (a $12.00 value), $4.25 for juniors (an $11.40 value), and $3.75 for children (an $8.65 value).

In addition, members receive a 10 percent discount on regular room rates at the Disneyland Hotel, lower rates at the Hotel Golf Centre, and a chance to win valuable prizes as Magic Kingdom Club's "Family of the Month." (Three different families are picked each month.)

There are no membership fees or dues connected with Walt Disney's Magic Kingdom Club. To join, just pick up a free membership card.

Frank J. Hendel (Aeronautical Engineering Department) was guest speaker before a meeting of the Lockheed Missile and Space Company Management Association held last Thursday (Jan. 21) at Vandenberg Air Force Base. Dr. Hendel told an audience that included members of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration management team at VAFB that he believed that anyone who has $5,000 will be able to be a space tourist before the end of this decade. His topic was "Space Shuttle, Space Station, and Skylab."

Walter P. Schroeder (Head of Education Department) hosted a meeting of the California Advisory Committee for Work Experience Education, which took place on campus last Wednesday and Thursday (Jan. 20-21). Herb Ellenberg, a consultant for work experience education with the State Department of Education, met with the 16-member advisory group.

Typewritten copy intended for the next issue of Cal Poly Report must be received prior to 12 noon, Friday, Jan. 29, in the Office of Information Services, Administration-210.
NEW BOOK CHARGING SYSTEM WILL BE USED BY LIBRARY

Starting next Monday, Feb. 1, the college Library will institute a new partially-automated book charging system, according to L. Harry Strauss (College Librarian). Designed in conjunction with the staff of the Computer Center to make book charging faster and more efficient, the new system will use a specially printed IBM card as a book card for each volume in the Library of Congress-classed collection.

Strauss said the first time each volume is checked out under the new system, the user will write the call number of the book, his name and social security number, and check his status (faculty, student, etc.) on a blank book card located on the tables near the circulation desk.

For all subsequent charges of each volume, the call number will be automatically pre-printed on the card carried in the book pocket on the inside of the front cover of the book. The book's author and title, as well as the user's address, will no longer be required on the charge card.

Only books in the Library of Congress-classed collection, including the "L" class books in the Curriculum Library, will be charged out on this system. Books from the McNaughton Browsing Collection, reserve books, and materials in the Government Documents, Periodicals, and Reference Sections and the Curriculum Library (except for the "L" books) will continue to be charged out from each section as they have in the past.

Strauss said the Library staff realizes that the introduction of a new system may cause some initial inconvenience, but speedy book check-outs will increase and offset initial delays.

MUSTANG CAGERS, GRAPPLERS SLATE HOME EVENTS THIS WEEK

The first of three basketball-wrestling doubleheaders planned for the enjoyment of San Luis Obispo area sports fans tops the schedule of campus sports events for this week. Beside that event, which is slated for Friday (Jan. 29) evening, both teams have other home action planned during the week.

First to compete before campus audiences in the Men's Gymnasium this week will be Head Basketball Coach Neale Stoner's Cal Poly cage varsity. The Mustang quintet will host California State College Fullerton on Friday and Chapman College of Orange on Saturday (Jan. 30) evening. The Saturday contest is scheduled for 8 p.m., and the Friday game, for 7:30.

The Cal Poly basketball club managed a split in a pair of contests last week. They lost a 90-73 decision to Fresno State in Fresno and then bounced back to record a convincing 91-49 win over Sonoma State College. The varsity cagers now own a 7-8 won-lost mark for the 1970-71 season.

Head Wrestling Coach Vaughan Hitchcock's green and gold clad matmen have two dual matches on tap this week. Following a Thursday (Jan. 28) evening encounter with the Biola College of La Mirada wrestlers, they will host University of Oregon's powerful team in the second half of Friday evening's big sports spectacular. Starting time for Thursday evening's match will be 8 p.m. Friday evening's contest will immediately follow completion of the basketball game at about 9 p.m.

Hitchcock's charges used a trio of victories over in-state opponents last week to boost their won-lost record for 1970-71 to 7-2 and extend the string of consecutive dual matches by Cal Poly teams without a loss to 92. The Mustang matmen opened their week with a convincing 34-0 victory over California State College at Long Beach and then, after trouncing U. S. International University (formerly California Western University) 34-5, easily outdistanced University of California at Los Angeles by a 27-8 margin.

Other campus sports events slated this week will find the Cal Poly Colts freshman basketball team and the varsity swimming team in action. Coach Dick Anderson's Mustang mermen are scheduled to host San Fernando Valley State College's swimmers in the second dual meet of their 1971 season Saturday afternoon. Starting time for the meet, which is slated for the Men's Swimming Pool adjacent to the Men's Gymnasium, will be 2 p.m.

Coach Ernie Wheeler's Colt cagers, owners of a 10-1 won-lost record this year, will host the freshman teams of both of the varsity basketball team's opponents this week. Starting time on Saturday will be 5:45 p.m. The frosh quintet will take the court at 5:15 on Friday.

The varsity basketball game, which had been incorrectly announced for tomorrow (Wednesday, Jan. 27) evening and appears that way in the "Coming Events" Section of this Cal Poly Report, has been moved to Feb. 4.
For those of you who may submit a proposal including faculty salaries, please be sure to list staff benefits as a separate item. This includes such things as contributions to social security, the retirement system, etc. This amount should be 11 per cent. If salaries include someone who must be a full-time employee of the Cal Poly Foundation, the staff benefits should be 20 per cent.

Although we do not have an official audited rate for indirect costs or overhead, we are using the rate temporarily approved by Health, Education, & Welfare. Please use 23.5 per cent of salaries and wages, unless the particular program your proposal will be sent to has other instructions. Some programs allow only 15 per cent, and some are 8 per cent of total direct costs. By making a note of the above, you will save time by not having to correct your budget page.

This office has a copy of a directory of summer opportunities for science training for high-ability secondary school students. These opportunities exist in many states (there are 10 locations in California) and the projects are from 5 to 10 weeks long. Some involve research. The disciplines range from aerospace to political science.

We also have a list of Resource Workshops designed to improve the training of teachers of sciences in elementary, junior, and senior high schools.
