FORMER U C DAVIS CHANCELLOR WILL ADDRESS CAMPUS AUDIENCE

A world food expert will speak on campus enroute to a Washington, D. C. conference called by Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare Elliot Richardson. Ralph Grossi of Novato, chairman of the Agricultural Speakers Night program, invites the public to join agricultural students to hear Emil Mrak, who is chancellor emeritus, University of California at Davis. Dr. Mrak will speak in the college theater at 8 p.m. tomorrow (Wednesday, Feb. 3). Admission will be free.

Dr. Mrak, a world authority on food preservation, will discuss "Agriculture As It Relates To The Ecology and Environment." He will leave the next morning for the conference in Washington, D. C. Chancellor Mrak, who has devoted more than 30 years to the study of food preservation, particularly preservation by drying and the biology of yeasts, has served frequently on national and world conference committees concerned with food development and the effects of agricultural chemicals on plant and animal life.

The Speakers Night program is sponsored by the student council of the School of Agriculture and Natural Resources on behalf of the more than 2,000 students enrolled at the school.

FUND GRANT FROM H U D WILL AID CAMPUS CONSTRUCTION PROJECTS

Congressman Burt L. Talcott (R-Salinas) has announced the release of federal funds which clear the way for the signing of contracts for two non-state construction projects on the Cal Poly campus. The projects, which total $4 million, will provide a residence hall for 600 additional on-campus students and a new student dining hall with a seating capacity of 300.

Harold O. Wilson (Administrative Vice President) said Congressman Talcott notified him from Washington, D.C. of the release of the $108,900 debt service interest grant by the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development. This grant enables the Trustees of the California State Colleges to advertise and sell construction bonds at current commercial rates.

In effect, the grant makes construction funds available at a rate of 3 per cent interest, the normally accepted HUD rate for such projects. Wilson said availability of the funds clears the way for signing of contracts and initiation of both projects.

The new residence hall, similar to the present Yosemite Hall in design, is to be built on campus along Grand Ave. Corwin Booth and Associates of San Francisco, who designed the award-winning Yosemite Towers, are architects for the new hall, still to be named. Executive Dean E. Douglas Gerard said the $3,155,000 contract for the residence hall will be awarded to the low bidder, Montgomery Ross Fisher, Inc. of Los Angeles. Dean Gerard said he expects signing of the contract and beginning of the project to take place in the latter part of March.

EFFORT TO LOCATE STUDENT JOBS INITIATED BY PLACEMENT OFFICE

A special effort designed to find part- and full-time job opportunities for Cal Poly students and their wives is being conducted by the college Placement and Financial Aids Office. Mrs. Carol Somers (Placement Interviewer), who is coordinating the effort, said Cal Poly students have a broad range of skills and abilities, and most have a great deal of experience, which can be beneficial to potential employers.

As examples of the possibilities, she points to a list of positions and tasks filled by students during 1970. Included were accounting, cleaning telephone booths, computer programming, drafting, playground direction, taxi driving, babysitting, house cleaning, retail sales, gardening, fire fighting, camp counseling, truck driving, automotive service and repair, and different kinds of clerical service.

Mrs. Somers pointed out that Cal Poly students and their wives need work as a means of financing their educational and living expenses. The college Placement and Financial Aids Office maintains lists of employment opportunities as a service to students. Merchants and others who wish to list jobs or learn more about the use of college student employees are invited to contact the Placement and Financial Aids Office, Adm-213, 546-2501.

HOLIDAY WORK SCHEDULES CLARIFIED BY PERSONNEL OFFICE

Friday, Feb. 12 (Lincoln's Birthday) and Monday, Feb. 15 (Washington's Birthday, which will now be celebrated the third Monday in February instead of Feb. 22), are both work days at Cal Poly since classes are scheduled for those days, according to an announcement from the Personnel Office. However, employees entitled to these holidays will receive credit for compensating time off at a later date. Monday, May 31 (Memorial Day, which will now be observed the last Monday in May instead of May 30) is an academic holiday, and not a scheduled work day for Cal Poly personnel except for essential services.

REQUEST FOR UNUSED INTER-CAMPUS MAIL ENVELOPES ISSUED BY GENERAL OFFICE

A request for return of unused supplies of inter-campus mail envelopes for re-use was issued this week by Mrs. Lucy Schmidt (General Office Supervisor). She asked that envelopes in excess of the needs of various offices and departments be returned to the Duplicating Center, Adm-129.

The new dining hall, to be built adjacent to Yosemite Hall and its new "twin," will be begun about the same time as the residence hall project, Dean Gerard said. The dining hall contract for $1,084,000 will be awarded to H. A. Ekelin and Associates of Salinas. Keeble and Rhoda of Monterey are architects for the project which will include a dining room and a cafeteria.

Vice President Wilson pointed out that dormitory and dining facilities are not included in state college facilities funded by state capital outlay projects, which are frozen. The federally-funded facilities are made possible through HUD loans which are repaid from the income of the facilities.
PUBLIC LECTURE WILL BE HIGHLIGHT OF VISIT BY ARCHIBALD HILL

A public lecture scheduled for 8 o'clock this (Tuesday, Feb. 2) evening in the Cal Poly Theater will be the highlight of a week-long campus visit by the well-known linguist Archibald A. Hill. Topic for Dr. Hill's remarks this evening will be "Sunflowers Over Two Centuries," according to Gloria Jameson (Head of the Foreign Language and Linguistics Department), who is general chairman for the series of programs and events connected with his visit. Dr. Jameson said the noted linguist is expected to provide some literary and linguistic insights into Allen Ginsberg's "Sunflower Sutra" and William Blake's "Sunflower," and a linguistic approach used to point out similarities between the linguistics of songs by the Beatles and the everyday language of poetry by Robert Frost.

Special invitational faculty evenings dealing with specialized areas of literature, linguistics, and the humanities are also being planned for tomorrow, Thursday, and Friday (Feb. 3, 4, and 5) evenings. Hosts for the three evening events are Marvin D. Brown and John A. Mott (both English Department), Robert G. Lint (Foreign Language and Linguistics Department), and Mrs. Bernice Loughran (Head of the Art Department). Faculty interested in attending any of the invitational evenings are asked to telephone the English Department (546-2597) for further information.

A special exhibit of paintings and drawings inspired by poems and other works of literature will be displayed in Dexter Library throughout the week.

MC GRATH, CAZIER NAMED PRESIDENTS OF SONOMA, CHICO STATE COLLEGES

Thomas H. McGrath, an alumnus of Cal Poly and member of the college administrative staff for many years, and Stanford Cazier of Utah State University were chosen to fill vacant presidents posts at two of the California State Colleges by the Board of Trustees during their meeting in Los Angeles last week. McGrath was named president of Sonoma State College and Dr. Cazier was appointed president of Chico State College. Both appointments will become effective in the near future.

Dumke most recently, has been on the chancellor's staff for seven years, and before that was dean of students at Cal Poly, Kellogg Voorhis, and assistant to the president with responsibilities involving both Cal Poly campuses at a time when the campus at San Luis Obispo and the one located near Pomona were administered as one college.

The new Sonoma State president earned a vocational certificate with a major in air conditioning at Cal Poly in San Luis Obispo in 1939, and after that entered Santa Barbara State College, where he graduated with a bachelor's degree two years later. He received his master's degree from Claremont Graduate School in 1947. A licensed psychologist, he also formerly taught at Mt. San Antonio College and served as a research psychologist in the Naval Electronics Laboratory in San Diego.

A member of the Utah State faculty since 1960, he has also served as assistant to the president and chairman of its History Department. The author of three books, Dr. Cazier was named teacher of the year at the university in 1964.

As the new president of Chico State College, Dr. Cazier will succeed Lew D. Oliver, who has been acting president of the college since last September. McGrath will succeed Earl W. Jones, who has been acting president of Sonoma State since last August.

MATMEN ON ROAD TRIP IN MIDWEST: CAGERS HAVE THREE CONTESTS ON TAP THIS WEEK

After chalk ing up an impressive string of victories in action in the friendly confines of the Men's Gymnasium last week, Cal Poly's varsity wrestling and basketball teams will both take to the road this week to meet strong challenges. The cagers open their week with a pair of home contests before hitting the road for a single game against University of California at San Diego on Saturday (Feb. 6)

The Neale Stoner-coached Cal Poly cage club used an impressive 99-82 victory over previously undefeated California State College at Fullerton last week to vault into first place in California Collegiate Athletic Association standings. They also posted a 93-77 win over Chapman College of Orange and now have a won-lost record of 10-8 to show for their efforts thus far in the 1970-71 campaign.

Before departing for its abbreviated road trip into Southern California, the Cal Poly quintet has a pair of home encounters planned. The Mustangs will host California State College at Dominguez Hills this (Tuesday, Feb. 2) evening and arch-rival Fresno State College on Thursday (Feb. 4) evening. Both games are scheduled for 8 p.m. tipoffs in the Men's Gymnasium.

Coach Vaughan Hitchcock's green and gold clad grapplers used a pair of decisive victories last week over California teams to tune up for their Midwestern swing. The Mustangs, who trounced Biola College of La Mirada 34-7 and nationally-ranked University of Oregon 29-3, will wind up their tour with matches against Michigan State University in East Lansing on Friday (Feb. 5) and Southern Illinois University in Carbondale on Saturday (Feb. 6).

Other sports action involving Cal Poly teams last week saw Coach Ernie Wheeler's freshman basketballers chalk up two more victories and boost their record for the season to 12-1. They will host cross-town rival Cuesta College in a 5:45 p.m. contest this evening and then, after hosting the Fresno State frosh on Thursday at the same time, are scheduled to meet UC-San Diego and University of San Diego freshman teams on Friday and Saturday in San Diego. Both of the Colt's home games this week are scheduled for the Men's Gymnasium.

Coach Richard Anderson's Mustang swim team, which dropped a meet to CCAA opponent San Fernando Valley State College in its only action last week, is slated to enter the University of California at Santa Barbara Invitational Swim Meet in Goleta this Friday and Saturday.

President Nixon's budget for 1972 includes $60 million for the National Foundation on the Arts and the Humanities. This is really Encouraging, because in 1969 the budget was $12.9 million. Let's hope the Congress approves.

Representative Miller, of California, has introduced a bill (H.R. 8) in the 92nd Congress which should be of interest to many of you. The bill points out that it is in the national interests to continue to support research and education in the sciences (very broadly interpreted), and that the project system, as has been used almost exclusively in the past, is inadequate. The Miller Bill would make available block grants to colleges and universities. Part of the grant would be based on the previous year's grants for research, but the bulk of The Miller Bill funds would be based on undergraduate enrollment and on the number of advanced degrees awarded. It would seem that Cal Poly has much to gain if the bill is passed.
