New service: send flowers from bookstore

On top of everything else, the Extra Special Bookstore is now offering a flower sending service.

El Corral is working in conjunction with a college service of Eden Inc. of Los Angeles. The orders are sent to Los Angeles and shipped to Canada, Alaska, Hawaii, or anywhere else in the United States.

El Corral requests that orders are placed four days ahead of time and up to a week on holidays. The deadline for placing orders for Easter delivery is April 17 by 4 p.m.

The assortment of flowers varies from one dozen red roses, carnations, or red Hawaiian orchids to a combination of these flowers with a Princess Josie orchid corsage included. The store also delivers boxed corsages, available with either Hawaiian orchids or baby Hawaiian Vanda orchids.

Prices range in the cut flowers from $5.00-$11.50. For the corsage range from $4.50 to $8.00. Payment for the flowers are made at the time the order is placed. A personal note may be included in the flowers when they are delivered.

LA FIESTA FESTIVAL

Grand Marshal selected

The selection of retired San Luis Obispo Postmaster William O'Donnell as Grand Marshal of the La Fiesta was announced Wednesday at a luncheon by La Fiesta President Bob Roberts.

Among those attending the luncheon were eleven former La Fiesta Queen, including 1972 Queen Joanne Maguire and 1973 Queen Joyce Farley.

Grand Marshal O'Donnell was postmaster of San Luis Obispo from October 1934 until his retirement in 1964. He also served as a Member of the Chamber of Commerce in 1937. It is the tradition of the La Fiesta committee, headed by Pete Rankin, that so dedicated and worthy a citizen of San Luis Obispo should be honored with the title of Grand Marshal of the La Fiesta.

Roberts also requested that each former queen present at the luncheon accept the title of honorary marshal and accompany the La Fiesta queen Saturday, May 18 at Haggin Street.

Each queen was presented with a red carnation by President Roberts.

The 1973 theme of La Fiesta is "Memorabilia of History," which will be presented in La Fiesta posters and buttons to be distributed soon, according to Roberts.

La Fiesta activities will begin with the coronation of the 1973 La Fiesta Queen on May 18 at 6 p.m. at the Veteran's Building in the Coronation Pageant. The following four days will usher in San Luis Obispo's annual celebration of its heritage.

Featured events will include the "Your Place" costume breakfast at the Madonna Inn, even parades, and concession booths displaying local arts and crafts.

As the historical center of San Luis Obispo between the Old Mission and the modern city, La Fiesta will be the backdrop of the Old Mission's opening day ceremonies and the promotion of the city's arts through the museum and museum.
Three good ones, but only two seats

Two city council seats will be filled Tuesday when voters go to the polls to choose between seven candidates. Three contenders stand out as excellent choices for the two open positions.

Myron Graham has been a council member for the past four years. During that time Graham has shown himself to be no special friend of any one interest group, but instead an individual who decides each issue by the standard of what is best for the community.

With the super-ecology, no-growth fanatics and the green-grabbing, hyper-businessmen threatening the community's peaceful life, Graham is a refreshing cross-section: a businessman who believes in controlled growth and preservation of natural resources.

Valerie Endree has worked on the City Planning Commission since 1971. Though "cursed" by her job with a real estate firm, Mrs. Endree has proven her ability to work for community interests. She is a stout proponent of controlled growth, a sensible transportation program and treatment of students as citizens rather than second-class transients.

Ken Silva has been hard at work on the city's transportation committee. Few people know this city's transit problem from every angle as Silva does—and few are working hard to solve the problems as he is.

Another limited growth proponent, he is an architecture graduate of this university with a keen desire to resolve problems that separate developers and environmentalists, and students and townpeople.

All three candidates have shown high potential with their ability to reach reasonable solutions to common problems.

The greatest problem facing voters Tuesday will be the selection of only two for city council offices.

No ‘pleasure,’ but violence

Editor: I am relieved that the enlightened majority of the special review board has recommended against showing the "Best of the First Annual New York Erotic Film Festival" at this university.

Now, when we pay to see a film shown in a building we are paying for, we can rest assured that pleasure will not rear its ugly head up there on the big screen. Instead, we might have a chance to see someone have his head blown off.

Sterling Gergas

Editor: An inside source has explained to me why our "nasty" film was turned down and I feel this information should be shared with the entire student body.

Our protectors from "nastiness" know that following the L.A. Times, they couldn't reject the film on the basis it was uneducational. So they decided that, actually, it had no socially redeeming value.

This was not a judgmental error as much as a technological one. In order to show the whole film in a "reasonable" amount of time, they were showing both reels simultaneously, side by side. The socially redeeming part of the film was 14 minutes into the second reel.

Unfortunately, at the same time, the first reel was a scene involving a certain well-known danois troupe, four large dogs, a graffiti, and three halloween-masked congressmen. Enraptured with the spectacle, most of the review board entirely missed the socially-redeeming cameo from the second reel. Thus they felt entirely justified in rejecting this "nasty" film.

Actually all of you hot and nasty people out there should not despair. The Creative Contests Committee is taking sign-ups for their First Annual Oral Outrage Tournament which will be held in the Union Plaza during Poly Royal. All of you frustrated movie fans can come out and get on with it.

In closing, I would like to offer a few words to our protectors from "nastiness." With a lot of care, understanding and professional help, you too will someday be able to enjoy a full and healthy sex life.

Raymond H. DeGroot

Jane Fonda effigy victim

LOS ANGELES (UP)- Hecklers hanged Jane Fonda in effigy Thursday as the activist actress addressed 1,500 students on the campus of the University of Southern California.

After her hour-long speech, the hecklers held a mock trial and found Miss Fonda guilty of collaborating with the North Vietnamese.

She told newsmen that the media had taken her remarks about prisoners of war "out of context.

"I never blankly said that all prisoners of war are lying," she said. "I said the primary lie comes from the U.S. government, and that is the one we have to concern ourselves with."

Miss Fonda said she believed POWs were lying when they accused the North Vietnamese of a systematic policy of torture.
Gov. Reagan appoints dean commissioner

Dr. Edward Barker, dean of the School of Business and Social Science at this university, has been named California Savings and Loan Commissioner.

Barker was nominated by Gov. Ronald Reagan to fill the unexpired term of Commissioner Michael MacBan, who resigned to return to private business March 1.

In accepting the appointment, Barker said he had agreed to a 21-month assignment with the understanding that upon completion of his leave of absence he will be able to return here as a professor in the business administration faculty.

Barker became dean of the business school in August 1971, after service on the faculty of the University of Southern California from 1966 to 1971.

Appointment of the dean to the commissioner's post, which pays $1,180 per year, is subject to Senate confirmation.

Barker, a graduate from the University of California at Los Angeles in 1947, attended UIC where he received his master's degree in public administration in 1949 and his doctor's degree in 1969. He and his wife, Louise, reside in San Luis Obispo.

The 57-year-old Republican has specialized in development of executive management programs for USC, this university and for private industry. He is the author of several articles in financial publications and has presented a number of professional papers to conferences of business and educational associations.

Barker said he hopes to continue his relationship with Cal Poly.

Animal prof head speaker

Dr. M.E. Ewing, animal scientist, author, consultant and professor, will be the keynote speaker for the annual Animal Science Department banquet Saturday at 7:00 p.m.

Ewing has titled his presentation "Drug Majors and Animals."

The banquet will be at the Vista Grande dining complex. Tickets may be purchased from the Animal Science Club's office in Ag 118 or from Lyde McNiel in Ag 220.

Coffee House wants jammers

An open invitation is extended to all folk, rock or country and western stummers to participate in Sunday's special "Jam Night" at Coffee House in the Union's room 204 at 7 p.m.

"You can bring in your guitar, banjo or anything you want to play and come up and have a jam session with the regular players," said Doug Jorgensen, the Coffee House chairman.

The admission charge is 50 cents.

Corduroy Bells

Special purchase of cotton belts from the west's most famous maker. If regular 9.25. Size 28 to 36

SALE 5.90
Sports

Track rivalry renewed

Olympic high jumper Reynolds Brown will renew his highly competitive personal duel with world record holder Pat Matsdorf at the Trojan Invitational Saturday.

The team was scheduled to quit its equal with part going to the University of California at Riverside, but cancelled.

In 1971 Brown defeated Matsdorf four times in head-to-head action. The Mustang sophomore cleared 7-3 to win the NCAA University title while Matsdorf finished fifth at 7-4.

At the national AAU meet, Brown again beat the Wisconsin jumper with a jump of 7-4. That height was not sufficient, however, as Matsdorf set his 7-4 world mark in the US-Russia World All-Star meet in Berkeley two years ago.

In Saturday's affair there are at least 10 athletes that have cleared 7-4 or better giving the duo plenty of competition.

REVENGE SOUGHT
UCR hosted in baseball

Sitting on top of the California Collegiate Athletic Association the Mustang baseball team will try to avenge two early league losses to the University of California at Riverside as it hosts the Highlanders this weekend.

The action will be initiated tonight at seven and concluded Saturday with a noon doubleheader at San Luis Obispo Stadium.

Junior Mike Krukow (7-4) will start on the mound in tonight's opener. Krukow currently leads the CCAA in strikeouts with 85 in 71 innings pitched. He is well on his way to establishing a new Mustang strikeout record which he set last year with 105 in 114 innings pitched.

The big right-hander also has a excellent chance of becoming the Mustang's winningest pitcher.

Krukow only needs four more wins to break the record set by Dennis Root, who had 10 win last year.

Junior Rich Simpson (8-1) and senior Doug Alderman (3-4) are slated to start the doubleheader.

Coach Don Zephyr has been very encouraged by the pitching of right-hander Simpson in the last couple of weeks. Simpson has a 1.8 earned-run average.

Another player coach Zephyr has been very scored with is outfielder Dan Marples. Marples currently is on a red-hot batting streak as he has raised his average to .366, which is tops for the team.

Marples, who got seven hits in the last league series, could lead the club with 13 stolen bases and 17 runs batted in. He ranks second in the CCAA in hitting and stolen bases and is third in runs batted in.

Autocross set

The El Camino Foreign Car Club will conduct a public autocross Sunday at 10:00 a.m. in the Madonna Plaza parking area. The "Hard Hearted Hannah" autocross, a course testing precision driving skill, will be open to anyone with a car and 50 cents. Registration will begin at 9:30 a.m.

Mustang Sports

BASEBALL—vs UC Riverside, today, 7:00 p.m., Saturday, noon doubleheader, San Luis Obispo Stadium.

TRACK—at Trojan Invitational, Los Angeles Coliseum, Saturday.

RUGGED—at Hartnell Intercollegiate Rodeo, Saturday and Sunday, Salinas.

TENNIS—at 16th Tennis Classic, today and Saturday, all day, Long Beach.

GOLF—vs Santa Barbara, today, 7:00 p.m., San Luis Obispo Golf and Country Club.

AUTOCROSS—"Hard Hearted Hannah", Sunday, 10 a.m., Madonna Plaza parking lot.