"THE DRUG MENACE" WILL BE TOPIC OF ADDRESS BY ART LINKLETTER

Art Linkletter's one-man crusade to end drug abuse has made him a "walking encyclopedia" of up-to-the-minute drug facts. That's the view of Lee Ray, secretary to the famous entertainer who will bring his coast-to-coast campaign against drugs to the auditorium of Julian A. McPhee College Union on Thursday (April 29).

In October of 1969, Linkletter's daughter died from the effects of LSD, and because of his prominence as a television personality, her death received national publicity. A few months later, according to Miss Ray, Linkletter determined to share what he had learned about drugs with audiences across the country.

For more than a year he has appeared before hundreds of audiences, particularly on college campuses. Everywhere he goes, he comes into contact with people who have been effected by drugs, law enforcement agencies, and others involved in drug treatment and enforcement.

"Every day we receive 35 or 40 mailings dealing with drug research, Halfway House work, changing laws in various states, and community programs," Miss Ray reports.

The Linkletter office in Los Angeles has become a repository for books, pamphlets, letters, and documents concerning drug abuse. The incoming mail is a story in itself; last week the San Francisco Examiner sent a reporter and photographer to tell the story of the flood of mail received by Linkletter. Much of it is a result of his appearances and the fact that his true personality touches many who attend.

Relevant for Young People

Miss Ray says the materials continue to arrive in a constant stream and Linkletter, a voracious reader, devotes much time to being sure that his talks are up-to-date and relevant for the young people and parents who constitute his audiences.

Linkletter's topic at Cal Poly will be "The Drug Menace," and it will deal with the changing patterns in drug abuse. In addition to his personal experience, Mr. Linkletter has access to information from constant association with doctors, lawyers, federal officials, and others familiar with the drug scene.

Linkletter, who claims "people are my business," has been in the "business" for more than 35 years, on network television and radio. His Emmy-winning day-time television show, House Party, ran for 25 years. Most recently he has been seen with his son, Jack, on NBC's Life With Linkletter.

A 1934 graduate of San Diego State College, Linkletter has been awarded 6 honorary doctorate degrees from colleges and universities for his humanitarian work and his interest in youth. He has also received many citations for his chairmanship of such charitable events as National Easter Seal Week, National Heart Week, and National Cancer Week.

DISCUSSIONS ON PATENTS ANNOUNCED FOR THURSDAY

Robert J. Baker and Charles Sekol, both representatives of Battelle Development Corporation, will discuss "Patents and the Innovative Process" before two campus audiences on Thursday (April 29), according to an announcement received from Howard Boroughs (Associate Dean, Graduate Studies).

They are slated to address an audience made up primarily of students at 11 a.m. that day in the Engineering Auditorium. Members of the college faculty and staff will have an opportunity to hear their presentation during the luncheon meeting of the Cal Poly Staff Club which will take place in the Staff Dining Room starting at 12 noon.

Dr. Boroughs said the campus chapter of SCARAB honorary society for architectural engineering students is sponsoring the morning meeting. Admission for both programs will be free.

Kids Say The Darndest Things, Linkletter's non-fiction account of some of the thoughts of the younger set, is one of the top 15 best sellers in American publishing history and was No. 1 for two straight years on the non-fiction list.

During his visit to Cal Poly, he will also meet with Project 9 students who are vitally concerned about the issues of drugs in our society and are conducting a series of lectures dealing with drug abuse.

Linkletter's visit is being hosted by Cal Poly and the College Program Board Speakers Forum Committee of its Associated Students, Inc., which sponsors Project 9. His Cal Poly address will be open to students, faculty and the general public. Admission will be free.

POTTERY SHOW WILL CLOSE ON SUNDAY

Pottery designed by artists from throughout the nation will continue on display on campus through Sunday (May 2). Titled Pottery One, the display is being shown in the study lounge of the Julian A. McPhee College Union. It is open to the public from 10 a.m. to 12 noon, 1 to 3 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. on weekdays and from 1 to 4 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday. Admission is free. The display, which was prejudged by Michael Arntz of the University of California at Santa Barbara, is being sponsored by the Cal Poly Pottery Club.

APRIL SALARY WARRANTS WILL BE DISTRIBUTED MONDAY

Salary warrants for the April pay period will be available to state employees who wish to pick them up on the Business Affairs Division Office, Adm-114, on Monday (May 3). They will be available after that date at the State Cashiers Office, Adm-131-C. Employees whose reporting departments and units are participating in the check distribution system can obtain their warrants after 4 p.m. on Friday (April 30) from the designated member of their department or unit staff.
ETHNIC MUSIC PROGRAM SLATED IN MUSTANG STADIUM

A 12-hour marathon of traditional American music is scheduled for Cal Poly on Saturday (May 1). Corralled in Mustang Stadium, the eight performing artists and groups will present the Mustang Almanac of American Ethnic Music, designed to portray the wide variety of traditional sounds which constitute this country's musical heritage.

The Mustang Almanac is being sponsored by the Fine Arts Committee of the Associated Students, Inc., and will be open to all music lovers. General admission tickets will be $1 for students and $2.50 for all others.

Scheduled to appear for the noon-to-midnight gathering are John Jackson, blues and bottleneck guitarist from Virginia; the Morris Brothers, reflecting the Nashville blue-grass harmony of big-time radio of the 1930s and 40s; Jean Redpath, singing Appalachian ballads and English folk songs; and Wilbur Ball and Cliff Carlisle, slide guitar pickers and masters of yodeling.

Also on the program for the first Mustang Almanac are Charley Musselwhite and his band, with the blues sounds of Chicago and San Francisco; Ray and Ina Patterson, who blend their home-style harmony with mandolin and guitar; balladeer Ramblin' Jack Elliot; blues man Tom Shaw; and the Fat City String Band, a fiddle and banjo conglomeration.

TIMED MILE SLATED FOR JOGGING CLUB MEMBERS

Members of the recently formed Jogging Club are expected to participate in a timed fitness run being planned for 5:30 p.m. on Thursday (April 29) on the playing fields located near the Men's Gymnasium, according to Larry M. Bridges (Men's Physical Education Department). Men will run the mile in six different groups depending upon their age and women will run the half mile in three groups, also depending upon their age.

Bridges pointed out that the Jogging Club's informal programs are open to any member of the faculty, staff, or student body. Their purpose is to make jogging an enjoyable means of attaining and keeping in good physical condition. Those interested in learning more about the club are invited to contact Bridges in his office, MPE 213, or by telephoning 546-2230.

DINNER GATHERINGS FOR FOREIGN STUDENTS BRING PLANNED THIS WEEKEND

The International Lounge Committee, a subsidiary of the Cal Poly Women's Club Foreign Students Section, is coordinating a program of simultaneous dinner gatherings for the many foreign students who, so far, have not been hosted or had the opportunity of being in an American home. This Friday and Saturday (April 30 and May 1) have been designated as the dates when both Cal Poly and community families will, hopefully, invite one, two, or more foreign students into their homes for an evening of mutual enjoyment. Further information about the special program may be obtained by telephoning 544-2610, between 10 a.m. and 12 noon, Monday through Friday, and 2 to 4 p.m., Mondays through Thursdays.

Typewritten copy intended for the next issue of Cal Poly Report must be received prior to 12 noon Friday, April 30, in the Office of Information Services, Administration-210.
SUPPORT STAFF VACANCY LISTED BY PERSONNEL OFFICE

A vacant position on the college support staff has been announced by S. Milton Piuma (Staff Personnel Officer). A description of the position, which may be filled by promotion or transfer of Cal Poly staff only, is posted on the bulletin board located in the Personnel Office, Adm-111, 546-2236. Guidelines for filling the position are also posted in the Personnel Office. The position is:

Clerical Assistant II-A ($457-$556), Library, Academic Affairs Division. Duties include typing, filing, processing government documents and other clerical activities as assigned. Applicants must be high school graduates, have passed the General Clerical Test, and be able to type 45 wpm.

DISTINGUISHED TEACHING AWARD NOMINATIONS DUE BY MAY 10

The ad hoc committee to select three faculty members for the 1970-71 Distinguished Teaching Award has been appointed by William M. Alexander (Head of the Social Sciences Department), chairman of the Academic Senate. The chairman of the committee is William D. Curtis (Psychology Department). Attached to this issue of Cal Poly Report is a form that may be used to submit nominations for the award to Dr. Curtis in care of the Psychology Department before May 10. Any student or faculty member or group may submit names for the award. The nominee must be part of the teaching faculty for the academic year 1970-71. Additional nomination forms are being made available to each department head.

CAP, GOWN ORDERS BEING TAKEN BY EL CORRAL COLLEGE STORE

Faculty members and members of the administrative staff who are planning to participate in the commencement exercises on June 12 should place their order for cap and gown rentals with Juanita Fredericks in El Corral College Store by May 10. Orders are being taken from 8 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 to 4 p.m., daily. They may be placed after May 10 but delivery cannot be guaranteed in time for commencement. Rent must be paid for caps and gowns whether or not they are used. The bookstore, which cannot be responsible for the cost of regalia ordered and not picked up, has records of all orders placed for caps and gowns for the June, 1970, Commencement. Those who ordered caps and gowns then may telephone and ask to have their orders duplicated for this year's commencement.

HAWAIIAN STUDENTS LUAU WILL BE SATURDAY

Cal Poly Hawaiian students will present their 17th annual luau on Saturday (May 1) at the Veteran's Memorial Building, Grand Ave. and Monterey St., San Luis Obispo. Hui O'Hawaii, the Hawaiian student club, will provide authentic Polynesian dancers and musicians to complement an authentic meal of Kalua Pig, Poi, Haupia (coconut pudding), fresh pineapple, Lomi Lomi Salmon, and Chicken Luau.

Serving will begin at 6 p.m. Attire for the event, to which the public is invited, will be casual. Tickets, priced at $3.50, are currently on sale at Brown's Music Store and Et Cetera, both in San Luis Obispo, and the Julian A. McPhee College Union on the Cal Poly campus. Additional information may be obtained by calling 543-0954.

1971 SUMMER SESSION BULLETINS NOW AVAILABLE

Copies of a bulletin listing courses to be offered by Cal Poly during the 1971 Summer Sessions are now available to those who wish them. The bulletin gives a full description of the 141 courses to be offered in one-week, two-week, and four-week concentrations.

All will offer college credit in terms of quarter units and will allow students to take several courses and still have time for a vacation. Students may take any of several combinations of the one, two, and three-week programs. In addition to a pre-session of one-week workshops starting on June 14, a first summer session beginning on June 21, and a second summer session beginning on July 19 are planned.

Tuition for the self-supporting summer session courses is $16 per quarter unit. Any adult who meets the course requirements may attend the classes. Application forms for the Summer Sessions are contained in the bulletin. Students only have to submit the form and then register and pay their fees the first day of their classes. Full state college admissions procedure is not required for students planning to attend the summer sessions.

Copies of the bulletin and other information about Cal Poly's 1971 summer sessions may be obtained by contacting the Continuing Education Office, Adm-309, 546-2053.

MAY 15 WILL BE DATE FOR ANNUAL "SPRING FLING"

May 15 will be the date for the Cal Poly Staff Club's annual Spring Fling, according to Robert Adams (Chief of Plant Operations), who is chairman for the event. Selection of a site for the traditional spring outing will be announced later.
MUSTANG DIAMONDMEN FACE "MUST WIN" SERIES THIS WEEKEND

Cal Poly's varsity baseball team will have its "back" against the proverbial "wall" this Friday and Saturday (April 30-May 1) when it hosts the University of California diamondmen in the feature event of this week's campus sports slate. The two teams will meet for a single game at 2:30 p.m., Friday, and conclude their three-game California Collegiate Athletic Association series with a twinbill beginning at 12 noon on Saturday.

Last week saw the Mustang baseballers, who must win this weekend's series to stay in the CCAA race, manage four victories in six outings. That was hardly good enough for them to stay in first place in CCAA standings, however. They dropped into second place behind defending champion San Fernando Valley State College, which has a 14-3 won-lost record in league play. The Cal Poly nine has a 9-3 mark in CCAA competition and a 32-9 mark overall.

Results of other athletic events held last week saw the Cal Poly varsity golf team drop a close match to California State College at Fullerton before entering the tough Stanford Invitational Golf Tournament at Palo Alto where it was eliminated in the opening round. Also eliminated early was the Mustang tennis team which entered the prestigious Ojai Invitational Tennis Tournament.

The performances of sophomore high jumper Reynaldo Brown and junior triple jumper Mohinder Gill were the highlights of an otherwise disappointing week for the varsity track and field team. After dropping a hotly-contested 89-74 dual meet to Fresno State College early in the week, the Mustang thinclads entered the Mt. San Antonio College Relays where Brown had jumps of 6-10 and 7-1 to set new records in both the college and open divisions and Gill jumped 49-9 to set a new mark for the college division.

Other action scheduled this week will find the varsity golfers at home to host Fresno State in a match billed for 12 noon Today (Tuesday, April 27) on the San Luis Obispo Country Club Course before journeying to Fullerton to enter the CCAA Championship Tournament Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. The Mustang track and field varsity will be in San Jose to enter the annual San Jose Invitational Track and Field Meet on Saturday afternoon. The Cal Poly tennis team will return to action on May 6-8, when it will be in Fullerton for the final round of play for the 1971 CCAA championship in that sport.

THOMAS NAMED ACTING HEAD OF GRAPHIC COMMUNICATIONS DEPARTMENT

Guy H. Thomas, Jr., a Cal Poly alumnus who returned to become a member of the college faculty after having been employed in industry for many years, has been appointed acting head of the Graphic Communications Department for the 1971-72 college year. Appointment of Thomas to serve during the sabbatical leave of Roderick W. Carruthers, who is head of the department, was announced recently by Jon M. Ericson (Dean of Communicative Arts and Humanities.

Prior to joining the college faculty in 1968, Thomas had worked as supervising machinist with the Union-Tribune Publishing Company in San Diego, head machinist for the Santa Monica Evening Outlook, machinist for the Chicago Sun-Times, and as field engineer for the Merganthaler Linotype Company in Chicago and San Francisco. He earned his BS degree in printing at Cal Poly in 1953.

Typewritten copy intended for the next issue of Cal Poly Report must be received prior to 12 noon Friday, April 30, in the Office of Information Services, Administration-210.
ELECTION RESULTS ANNOUNCED BY ACADEMIC SENATE

Results of last week's election of members of the Cal Poly Academic Senate and a new Cal Poly representative to the Academic Senate of the California State Colleges have been announced by J. Murray Smith (Speech Department), who is chairman of the local senate's Election Committee. Also chosen during the election, which took place on April 20, were two members and three alternates for the Cal Poly Academic Senate's Personnel Review Committee.

Smith reported that results are final in all but two of the races for representatives to the Cal Poly Academic Senate. A run-off election to be held today (Tuesday, April 27) will be used to choose a representative from the School of Architecture and Environmental Design and an additional representative for the School of Business and Social Sciences. Those elected in the positions where the results are final are:

"TWO-FOR-ONE" SALE SLATED AT ORNAMENTAL HORTICULTURE UNIT

Faculty, staff, and students may landscape homes at bargain prices during the "two-for-one" sale at the Ornamental Horticulture Department’s retail sales laboratory at the Ornamental Horticulture Unit this Saturday (May 1).

The sale will include ornamentals in one gallon cans. There also will be specials on bedding plants, vegetable plants, herbs and house plants. All of the items for sale have been grown by students in the Cal Poly foundation sponsored enterprise program. The sale will be conducted between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

EXHIBIT OF STUDENTS' WORK CONTINUING AT ART CENTER

An exhibit of work by students of the Art Departments of Cal Poly and Cuesta College opened April 18 at the Art Center on the Mission Plaza in San Luis Obispo and will continue through Sunday (May 2). Also being shown is a collection of work from the portfolios of the High School Art Award contestants. Open hours for the exhibit are 12 noon to 3:30 p.m., Sundays and Tuesdays through Saturdays.

STUDENT COMMITTEE WILL REVIVE "CHARLIE'S AUNT"

Charlie's Aunt, the classic situation comedy involving female impersonation, will be presented in the Cal Poly Theater at 8:30 p.m. on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday (April 29-30 and May 1). The production is under auspices of the Drama Committee of Cal Poly's Associated Students, Inc. Performances will be open to the public. General admission tickets will be $1.50 for adults and $1 for students.
Donald E. Morgan (Head of the Industrial Engineering Department) has accepted an executive appointment to an advisory committee of the California Department of Agriculture which will assist in the development of an economical system of measurement for the certification of standards of weights and measures used in California industry. The California department is preparing to assume the U.S. Bureau of Standard's role of certifying standards of weights and measures in California.

Richard A. Anderson (Men's Physical Education Department) has been recognized by the College Swimming Coaches Association of America as a "Distinguished Coach." Word of his selection was received recently by President Robert E. Kennedy from William H. Sanford of State University of New York at Buffalo, who is president of CSCAA. Anderson, who joined the Cal Poly faculty in 1947, recently completed his 24th year as coach of the college's water polo and swimming teams. He was president of CSCAA in 1969-70 and served on the organization's executive council for six years.

Anthony J. Buffa (Physics Department) has been selected to participate in a National Science Foundation sponsored research program for college teachers. He will spend the coming summer at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration Space Radiation Effects Laboratory, which is operated by the Physics Department of the College of William and Mary in Virginia. Dr. Buffa will do basic research in intermediate energy nuclear physics, using a pion beam produced by a 600 MeV synchrocyclotron.

Richard C. Carlston (Welding and Metallurgical Engineering Department) will conduct research on undersea corrosion of metals this summer under a continuation of a grant from the National Science Foundation. He expects to work with K. G. Compton, an authority on marine corrosion at the Rosentiel School of Marine and Atmospheric Sciences at the University of Miami in Florida. Dr. Carlston will also travel to Miami to help teach a concentrated short course in marine corrosion next week (May 3-7) as part of the grant.

Mary Stallard (Women's Physical Education Department) will take part in the second annual National Golf Foundation Seminar for Teachers to be held Aug. 16-20 at Pine Needles Country Club in Southern Pines, N.C. Participation in the program is by invitation and is limited to 160 persons at each of two sites in the nation each year. Last week's Cal Poly Report incorrectly reported that Mary Lou White (Head of the Women's Physical Education Department) had been invited to take part this year.

Walter E. Elliott and Theodore C. Foster (both Physics Department) and Mrs. Joyce A. Wright (Speech Department) are participating in interdisciplinary laboratory and lecture-demonstrations which supplement the Introduction to Audiology (Sp X402) course of the Speech Department. The innovative course, being offered for the first time this spring, is concerned with audiometric tests and measurements, with the rehabilitation of the hard-of-hearing and with the development of programs in schools and industry that relate to levels of environmental noise pollution. Dr. Foster and Dr. Elliott are serving as technical consultants for the course.

ECOLOGY AND AGRICULTURE ART BEING SHOWN IN LIBRARY

An exhibit of art work by Marguerite Costigan (Audio Visual Production Office) is on display in the foyer of the Dexter Library Building. Featured in the exhibit are paintings that will become part of a multi-media kit titled "Ecology and Agriculture" which is being prepared by the Instructional Materials Program, a federally-funded program located on campus. The exhibit will continue through May 7.
COFFEE HOUR HONORING RETIRING FOUNDATION EMPLOYEES SCHEDULED FRIDAY

A coffee hour scheduled for 3 p.m. this Friday (April 30) in the Staff Dining Room will honor three employees of the Cal Poly Foundation who are retiring after extended periods of service. Honored guests at the occasion, to which the entire faculty and staff of the college and foundation are invited, will be Paul Dillon, George Ellis, and Joseph C. Hampl. Senior of the three in terms of service is Hampl, who has been employed by the foundation for 27 years. Dillon and Ellis have served 24 years and 10 years, respectively.

PHI KAPPA PHI CHAPTER WILL ELECT NEW OFFICERS AND MEMBERS

All faculty and student members of the Cal Poly Chapter of Phi Kappa Phi national honorary society are being urged to attend an important meeting of the chapter at 4:30 p.m. on Thursday (April 29) in Erhart Ag-241. According to Kenneth G. Fuller (Computer Science and Statistics Department), who is president of the chapter, business to be considered during the meeting includes election of chapter officers for 1971-72 and election of new student members who became eligible during the Winter Quarter.

READERS THEATRE SLATED FRIDAY EVENING

A "Readers Theatre" arranged by some students studying English at Cal Poly will be held in the South Lounge (Room 203) of Julian A. McPhee College Union on Friday (April 30) evening. Students David Arnold, Tony Merrill, Richard Carriger, and Paul Holtzen will conduct the program. Included will be readings and musical accompaniment. Other participants announced by the students include Fred Rizzo (English Department), Hart T. Goodman (Art Department), and Alan Ross of Radio Station KVEC in San Luis Obispo. The program, open to students, faculty, staff, and the public, will begin at 8 p.m.

NATIONAL SOCIETIES WILL MEET AT CAL POLY IN 1972

A joint annual meeting of the American Fisheries Society and the Wildlife Society will be held at Cal Poly on Jan. 28-29, 1972. Jack Whalls (Head of the Natural Resources Management Department) says about 500 are expected to attend the meeting which will be co-hosted by the Natural Resources Management and Biological Sciences Departments of the college.
The two representatives of the Battelle Development Corporation who are speaking this Thursday about patents, have some time available to meet individually with a few persons who want to explore an invention that might be patentable. Please call this office for an appointment (2630).

The College has received a renewal of a grant to strengthen the dietetics program in Home Economics. The grant also includes for the first time support to develop the medical technology program in Biological Sciences. The combined grant is for $32,985.

The National Science Foundation is welcoming proposals for "support of scientific activities overseas which will incur costs payable in the currencies of Burma, Guinea, India, Morocco, Pakistan, Poland, Tunisia, United Arab Republic (Egypt), or Yugoslavia". Proposals will be considered for support of research, science education, and related activities in Biology, Engineering, Mathematics, Physical, Social, or Environmental Sciences.

Interdisciplinary activities are also eligible as well as proposals concerned with science-technology policy and planning, the organization and management of scientific and technical resources, formation and training of scientific and technical cadres, and science information.

A small brochure is available for use in this office.

Cal Poly has several overseas programs based in agriculture, but perhaps the base could be broadened with an NSF grant. We may have much to offer the above nations by way of our knowledge and interest in teaching how to do something as contrasted with explaining what the principles are.

The U.S. Office of Education is soliciting proposals for the:

evaluation of federal programs to increase the pool of special education teachers;
evaluation of selected aid-to-states programs for the education of the handicapped; impact study of vocational education programs, including an assessment of the state plan mechanism and a follow-up of high school graduates; longitudinal evaluation of the adult basic education program; evaluation of special services programs in higher education for disadvantaged students; evaluation study of the Education Professions Development Act training programs for higher education personnel; evaluation of the Library Services and Construction Act, assessing the provision of services to special target groups; evaluation of programs supporting research and training abroad; evaluation of quality and utility of National Center for Educational Communication information analysis products; evaluation of Project Trend, which is a priority effort of OE to strengthen the coordination and planning of educational programs for the disadvantaged at the school district level; evaluation of the nation-wide installation of the multi-unit elementary school models; and a process evaluation of the Bureau of Educational Personnel Development to study the effects of the Bureau's programs on students, teachers, and institutions.

Interested organizations must demonstrate an awareness of current program efforts, an understanding of the problem, originality and completeness in research designs, adequate professional staff and facilities, experience in survey design, operations, analysis, and reasonableness of cost.

Request for proposal forms may be obtained by writing to Mrs. Marion Washington, Contracts and Grants Division, Office of Education, 400 Maryland Avenue S.W., Room 1077, Washington, D.C. 20202. Ask for RFP 71-25.

This office has received a copy of a 72 page list of granting agencies and foundations that was prepared by Dr. Anthony Moye, Acting Director of Research and Governmental Relations at Los Angeles State. This is the best small compendium of where to go for money that I have seen. Most lists are so large as to be difficult for the novice to use. Feel free to use it in this office.
DISTINGUISHED TEACHING AWARD NOMINATION FORM

Members of the faculty or student body may submit nominations. The nominee must be a member of the teaching faculty during the 1970-71 academic year. When completed, this sheet together with any supporting information should be mailed to Dr. William Curtis, Psychology Department, Chairman of the Committee on Distinguished Teaching Awards, by May 10, 1971.

I nominate ________________________________

...to receive the Distinguished Teaching Award for the 1970-71 academic year at Cal Poly.

Nominator

A statement in support of the nomination is requested. Please use the space below and on the back, or attach additional sheets if necessary.

The committee, which will select three teachers to receive the awards, is named by the Academic Senate and makes its recommendations directly to President Robert E. Kennedy.

In considering the qualities that mark an outstanding teacher, the committee uses criteria such as:

Evident student improvement in critical and analytical ability.

Student ability to apply learning to future problems.

High degree of personal interaction between students and instructor.

Depth and breadth of instructor competency.

High personal standards of professional integrity.

Subject matter consistently accurate and fundamental.

Lectures interesting and well organized.

Impact of own knowledge and experience in teaching.

Teaching procedures contribute to student enthusiasm and high performance level.
