POLY ROYAL PLANNING NEARS FINAL STAGES

Preparations for Cal Poly's 37th annual Poly Royal festival have entered the final stages, according to Ed Wentzel, student superintendent of the traditional event. Often referred to as "A County Fair on a College Campus," Poly Royal will be held April 25-26 and is expected to attract more than 65,000 guests for a variety of activities, Wentzel said.

Agriculture, industrial and technical, educational, and other exhibits and displays from Cal Poly's 35 instructional departments will be featured this spring. Also among the highlights will be art, flower, and fashion shows, music concerts, livestock judging and showmanship contests, and the ever-popular intercollegiate championship rodeo.

Planning the traditional open house, as members of the Poly Royal Executive Board with Wentzel, are Christine Barkdull, a sophomore agricultural business management major, director of publicity; John Barrett, a senior majoring in ABM, director of agriculture; Carolyn Berte, a junior mathematics major, director of applied sciences; Tom Burton, a junior majoring in mechanical engineering, second assistant to the superintendent; and James Canaday, a junior business administration major, queen chairman.

Also Mark Carlson, a senior majoring in mechanized agriculture, and Patton Wong, a junior electronic engineering major, carnival co-chairmen; Don Colvin, a senior ABM major, treasurer; Paul Duckworth, a senior majoring in environmental engineering, director of special events; Jeanne Frye, a senior home economics major, secretary; Alan Holmes, a senior majoring in industrial technology, first assistant to the superintendent; Edward Nelson, a senior ABM major, director of arrangements; Chris Wood, a senior majoring in mechanical engineering, director of engineering; and David Wright, a junior business administration major, director of applied arts.

Faculty advisor to the students planning this year's Poly Royal is Tony Amato (Ornamental Horticulture Department). He is assisted by Oswald Falkenstern (Mathematical Sciences Department).

60 TEAMS ALREADY ENTERED IN N C A A MAT FINALS

Sixty teams representing colleges and universities throughout the nation have already entered the National Collegiate Athletic Association College Division National Championship Wrestling Tournament, which will take place in the Men's Gymnasium, March 14-15. Another 31 colleges and universities have advised tournament officials that they may send teams to the tourney, but are not definitely committed at this time.

In addition to Cal Poly's defending national champion Mustangs, Portland State University, South Dakota State University, and Mankato State College (Minn.), the teams that finished 2, 3, 4 in last year's College Division national meet, have all indicated their intention to enter this year.

Other early entries in the 1969 tourney, according to Terry Ward (Physical Education Department), tournament director, include Colorado State College and East Stroudsburg State College (Pa.)
ARMOURED AVAILABLE FOR CLASS LECTURES DURING CAMPUS VISITS

Author-satirist Richard Armour will be available for lectures to various classes during his campus visit next week, according to Ren Liner (Assistant to the Dean of Students), faculty advisor to the College Union Speakers Forum Committee. Any such visits will be in addition to his public lecture, planned for 8 p.m., Jan. 22, in the Cal Poly Theater, and his College Hour lecture at the Cal Poly Amphitheater the following morning. A second evening talk by the well-known humorist, originally scheduled for Jan. 23, has been cancelled.

In addition to being a member of the faculty at Scripps College, University of Texas, Northwestern University, Wells College, University of Hawaii, and Claremont Graduate School, Armour has been a guest-in-residence at over 200 other colleges and universities. He is author of 37 books of humor and satire, has written books and biography and literary criticism, is on the editorial staffs of three magazines and reviews books for several newspapers. The widely-known humorist is best known, however, for over 5,000 pieces of light verse and prose which have been published in magazines in both the United States and England.

Members of the faculty interested in arranging for class lectures by Armour Jan. 23 are invited to contact Liner, Adm-209; (546-2491).

PRINTING TECH SENIORS DEVELOP BADLY-NEEDED LAB EQUIPMENT

Five printing technology and management seniors at Cal Poly are converting a gift valued at nearly $25,000 into a much-needed piece of instructional equipment. Being developed as a combined senior thesis, the students' project includes the research, complete design, and fabrication needed to convert two flexographic printing presses given to Cal Poly by Dow Chemical Company for use in laboratories of the Printing Technology and Management Department.

Members of the project team are Curt Strong of Granada Hills; Anthony Lum of Honolulu, Hawaii; Bill Hoard of San Rafael; Bruce Evans of Ukiah; and Ray Crane of Hawthorne.

The equipment received from Dow Chemical is the first of its kind in the Cal Poly department, according to Guy Thomas who is responsible for design, installation, and maintenance of its widely-varied complement of presses, automatic typesetting, binding, and other printing equipment. "Only the printing unit was included in the gift from Dow," said Thomas, who joined the college staff last year after having been mechanical superintendent for the San Diego Union and Tribune.

"The students are designing and fabricating the parts needed to put the press into operation for printing on materials ranging from metal to paper and polyethylene. Although flexographic presses are especially useful in manufacturing and printing four-color packages, our packaging will be solely for instruction," Thomas continued.

SUMMER REPAIRS SCHEDULED FOR MEN'S GYMNASIUM FLOOR

The Men's Gymnasium area of the Men's Physical Education Building will be closed for repairs to floor between June 30 and August 1, according to Robert Mott (Head of the Physical Education Department). Dr. Mott pointed out that this information may be helpful to campus groups that are planning use of the gymnasium area during the summer months.
BUSINESS SEMINAR SCHEDULED ON CAMPUS FEB. 20-21

Top-level executives from 25 of the nation's leading business and industrial corporations have been invited to participate in a business seminar on campus Feb. 20-21. The seminar, coordinated by students of the Business Administration Department, is expected to provide successful corporate personnel to answer questions and discuss corporate problems.

Owen L. Servatius (head of the Business Administration Department) said of the seminar, "Our department is geographically remote from large business complexes and our students need exposure with practical and successful executives to stimulate their careers in private enterprise. We believe this seminar will give students a chance to discuss business problems with executives of proven stature."

The two-day event will begin with a keynote speaker at 11 a.m., Feb. 20. Each of the subsequent seminar sessions will be divided into three conferences under the general heading of management, industrial relations, and marketing, Servatius said.

RETIRERED CAMPUS EMPLOYEE DORIS DILLWORTH DEAD

Doris Dillworth, who retired June 30, 1966, after having been a member of the college support staff for 27 years, died unexpectedly in Las Vegas, Nev., last Wednesday (Jan. 8). Miss Dillworth, who was living in that Nevada city in retirement, was recuperating from recent surgery at the time of her death. Her long and valued service to students, faculty, and staff of Cal Poly as a member of the Business Affairs Division personnel and payroll staff were recognized during a retirement reception held on campus in June, 1966. Services were private and the family had requested that flowers not be sent.

OPENING ON COLLEGE SUPPORT STAFF LISTED BY PERSONNEL OFFICE

A vacancy for an accounting technician on the support staff of the college has been announced by Milton Piuma (Staff Personnel Officer). The post, which is described in greater detail on the bulletin board located in the Personnel Office, Adm-111, 546-2236, has these general specifications:

Accounting Technician II, $492-$599, Accounting Office, Business Affairs Division. Establishes and coordinates the technical program for daily accumulation, processing, and recording of all state fiscal transactions in the appropriate books of account. Supervises staff members processing accounting data generated by normal college operation. Prepares or assists with preparation of various fiscal reports, analyses, and other compilations. Minimum of 9 semester hours in professional accounting or 18 months equivalent experience, as well as knowledge of accounting principles, practices, and procedures required.

Two openings for intermediate account clerks and two for clerical assistants II still exist on the staff of the Accounting Office. These vacancies, both described briefly in recent issue of Cal Poly Report, are also posted on the Personnel Office bulletin board.

Cal Poly Report is produced by the Office of Information Services, Administration 210. Material should be submitted in writing prior to noon on Friday.
COMING EVENTS

International Printing Week -- Monday through Saturday, Jan. 13-18, at varied times and in varied locations on campus. Observance of International Printing Week with various programs and activities sponsored by Mat Pica Pi society of printing technology and management students.

Varsity Basketball -- Tuesday, Jan. 14, 8 p.m., Men's Gymnasium. Cal Poly vs. Azusa Pacific College (Preliminary - Cal Poly Colts vs. Azusa Pacific Frosh, 5:45 p.m.). Tickets, $1.50 adults, $.50 students and children.

Cal Poly Women's Club General Meeting -- Tuesday, Jan. 14, 8 p.m., Dexter Memorial Library Room 129. Mrs. Louisana Dart will present program on Portola and California's Bi-Centennial. Members invited.

Cal Poly Women's Club Home and Garden Section Meeting -- Wednesday, Jan. 15, 9:30 a.m. 384 Santa Maria Dr., San Luis Obispo. Regular gathering of section in home of Mrs. Richard Kombrink. Members invited.

Cal Poly Staff Club Luncheon -- Thursday, Jan. 16, 12 noon, Staff Dining Room. Talk titled "Pursuit of Education Abroad" by Miss Ena Marston. Faculty and staff invited.

Architecture Lecture -- Thursday, Jan. 16, 8 p.m., Cal Poly Theater. Architect John S. Gero will discuss design of the Sydney Opera House in Australia, sponsored by School of Architecture and campus chapter of the American Institute of Architects. Public invited.

California Grain and Feed Association Workshop -- Thursday and Friday, Jan. 16-17, all day, Cal Poly campus. Annual workshop on mill operations sponsored by California Grain and Feed Association and hosted by School of Agriculture. By advance registration.

College Hour Concert -- Thursday, Jan. 16, 11 a.m., Cal Poly Theater. Program of chamber music performed by student and faculty groups, sponsored by Music Department. Public invited.

C A R S E S Workshop -- Friday and Saturday, Jan. 17-18, all day, Cal Poly campus. Annual workshop of the California Association of the Refrigeration Engineers Service Society hosted by Environmental Engineering Department. By advance registration.

(Continued on page 5)
COMING EVENTS (Continued from Page 4)

High School Honor Band Tryouts -- Saturday, Jan. 18, 8 a.m., Music, Speech, and Drama Building. Tryouts for San Luis Obispo County High School Honor Band sponsored by the County Music Teachers Association and hosted by Music Department.

Fine Arts Lecture -- Monday, Jan. 20, 8 p.m., Cal Poly Theater. Presentation by artist and art critic Andrew Hudson sponsored by College Union Fine Arts Committee. Public invited.

Cal Poly Women's Club Bridge Sections -- Monday, Jan. 20, 8 p.m., Dexter Memorial Library Room 129. Regular meeting with tables for both experienced and beginning players. Members invited.

Books at High Noon Luncheon -- Tuesday, Jan. 21, 12 noon, Staff Dining Room. Review of William Schutz's Joy by Dale Federer. Public invited.

Cal Poly Women's Club Foreign Student Section -- Tuesday, Jan. 21, 8 p.m., International Lounge. January birthdays of Cal Poly foreign students will be recognized during meeting hosted by section members who have birthdays during January. Members invited.

College Union Speakers Forum -- Wednesday, Jan. 22, 8 p.m., Cal Poly Theater. Talk by author-satirist Richard Armour sponsored by College Union Speakers Forum Committee. Tickets, $1 adults, $.50 students.

Cal Poly Women's Club Newcomers Section -- Wednesday, Jan. 22, 8 p.m., 1750 San Luis Dr., San Luis Obispo. Program on palm reading presented by Mrs. Richard Johnson during meeting in home of Mrs. Richard Hall. Members invited.

College Union Speakers Forum -- Thursday, Jan. 23, 11 a.m., Cal Poly Amphitheater (Cal Poly Theater if weather is inclement). Talk by satirist-author Richard Armour presented by College Union Speakers Forum Committee. Public invited.

Cal Poly Staff Club Luncheon -- Thursday, Jan. 23, 12 noon, Staff Dining Room. Speaker and topic not available. Faculty and staff invited.

Chemistry Seminar -- Thursday, Jan. 23, 2 p.m., Science Building Room D-37. Seminar on "Opportunities for Graduate Studies in Chemistry" with visiting lecturer William L. Jolley, sponsored by Chemistry Department. Faculty, staff, and students invited.

Varsity Wrestling -- Thursday, Jan. 23, 8 p.m., Men's Gymnasium. Cal Poly vs. University of Oregon. Tickets, $1.50 adults, $.50 students and children.

TALK ON STUDENT GOVERNMENT, UNREST SCHEDULED FOR TOMORROW EVENING

Dr. William H. Grant, associate professor of Higher Education at Michigan State University, will speak on student unrest and student government in the Architecture Gallery of the Engineering West Building, tomorrow (Wednesday, Jan. 15) evening. Admission will be free.

Scheduled for 8 p.m., his talk is being co-sponsored by the School of Architecture and the campus chapter of the American Institute of Architects. Claude Dechow and Ron Running, co-chairmen of the event for the AIA group, said Grant's lecture, which will be open to the public, is in conjunction with his duties as a visiting lecturer in the School of Architecture this week.

DEADLINES AND DATEDLINES

Tomorrow (Wednesday, Jan. 15) is the final day for completion of processing of curricula and catalog copy proposals for the 1970-71 academic year by individual instructional departments. Proposals and recommendations should be forwarded by department heads to appropriate school deans by Feb. 1.

Monday (Jan. 20) is the last day students may withdraw from Winter Quarter courses without penalty.

Lists of recommended and non-recommended faculty personnel for one-year reappointments are due from individual instructional department heads in the offices of appropriate school deans Friday (Jan. 17).

MUSTANG CAGERS HOST AZUSA PACIFIC; WRESTLERS BEGIN ROAD TOUR

An infrequent home encounter with Azusa Pacific College's powerful quintet, slated for 8 p.m., this (Tuesday, Jan. 14) evening on the Men's Gymnasium hardwood, is the only home action of the week for Cal Poly's road-weary basketball varsity. In fact, that contest is the only home action of the week on a campus sports calendar that finds the Mustang wrestling team on the road for a three-match tour of the Rocky Mountain area.

This evening's Cal Poly-Azusa Pacific game will see the Mustangs of Head Coach Stuart Chestnut going after their second win of the season following an unsuccessful road trip. They lost at both San Diego State College (74-58) and California State College at Long Beach (87-76) last weekend. The Cal Poly Colts are scheduled to meet Azusa Pacific's frosh in a preliminary game scheduled for 5:45 this afternoon.

For Head Coach Vaughan Hitchcock's Mustang grapplers, this week's matches in Colorado and Wyoming are important ones if they are to maintain their ranking at the top of the nation's colleges. They will put their perfect 4-0 dual match record for the season on the line against Western State College at Gunnison, Colo., Thursday (Jan. 16) night; against University of Wyoming in Laramie, Friday (Jan. 17); and against Colorado State College, the number two ranked team, in Greeley, Saturday (Jan. 18) night.

Next home action for Cal Poly's basketballers is Jan. 24, when they host California State College at Fullerton for the second annual "Camp Fire Girls Night at Cal Poly" game. University of Oregon will provide the competition for the next home match for the wrestling team, Jan. 23.