LISA DAWSON ELECTED QUEEN OF POLY ROYAL

Lisa Ann Dawson, a blonde 21-year-old home economics major from Lafayette, is "Miss Cal Poly, Queen of Poly Royal," for 1969. Her election for the honor, highest that can be won by a co-ed at Cal Poly, was announced Tuesday (Feb. 18) evening following a two-day election during which nearly 3,000 students voted on five finalists.

The other four finalists -- Jeanne Finlayson of Palo Alto, Diane Scheibach of Mill Valley, Jeanne McCoy of Napa, and Taunita Stock also of Palo Alto -- became the queen's court of princesses and will join in her reign over the widely varied activities of the 37th annual Poly Royal on April 25-26.

The Poly Royal Queen traditionally becomes the spokesman for the "Country Fair on a College Campus" during March and April. She makes a number of public appearances and visits newspapers and radio and television stations throughout much of Central California. Poly Royal, one of the largest events of its kind in the Western U.S., is sponsored and staged by Cal Poly students, and has drawn crowds of more than 60,000 visitors to the campus each of the past two years.
APPLICATION DEADLINE FOR FALL RESEARCH, CREATIVE ACTIVITY LEAVES WILL BE MARCH 13

March 13 will be the deadline for receipt of applications for the three Fall Quarter, 1969-70, Research and Creative Activity Leaves expected to be available to members of the faculty. They are part of a total of nine such leaves the college is scheduled to receive for the next academic year. Six are reserved for the Winter and Spring Quarters.

Forms for applications for the Fall Quarter leaves may be obtained from the Research and Development Office, Adm-311, 546-2630. Upon completion they must be submitted to the appropriate instructional department offices. Application deadlines for the Winter and Spring Quarter, 1969-70, research and creative activity leaves will be announced in October.

PRIVATE TOLL CALLS FROM COLLEGE PHONES DISCOURAGED

College personnel are urged to avoid use of college telephones for toll charge calls which are not official business. In the event that college telephones are used for such personal calls, the individual should (at the time the call is placed) advise the operator to charge the toll to his or her home phone.

Donald S. Nelson (Director of Business Affairs) noted that use of college telephones for personal calls which involve billing of toll charges is time-consuming and expensive. The college must verify the call and then make a request for transfer. Even though the individual reimburses the college for such calls, the reimbursement reverts to the state general fund; consequently reducing the college allotment available for official calls. The recommended practice is to use available pay telephones on campus, or -- in emergencies -- to have the toll call billed to one's home telephone at the time the call is made.

FEDERAL RECRUITERS SEEK SKILLED POLICY ANALYSTS

Cal Poly has been asked to advise faculty members of employment opportunities for evaluating federal government programs. A request from the executive office of the President, Bureau of the Budget, states, "Any change in administrations involves uncertainty, of course, and there has been some doubt as to whether the emphasis on analysis would continue. However, this uncertainty has been resolved and it is now clear that the New Administration wants and needs high-caliber, systematic analysis of Government programs."

The request invites those with analytic skills to seriously consider working for the federal government. A list of the chief policy analyst and personnel director for each governmental agency is provided, and may be examined in the Office of Information Services, Adm-210.

The invitation notes that, in addition to permanent positions, there are opportunities for temporary employment during the summer or for other periods up to one year and for consulting arrangements. Among the 25 agencies listed are: Department of Agriculture and other cabinet department, Agency for International Development, National Aeronautics and Space Administration, National Science Foundation, Peace Corps, and Small Business Administration.
CAMPUS VOTERS REFUSE TO SUPPORT STATEWIDE ACADEMIC STAND

Members of the campus faculty and administrative staff eligible to vote in the Feb. 14 referendum refused by a wide margin to support the resolution of the Academic Senate of the California State Colleges resolution censuring Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke. A report issued last week (Feb. 21) by the Elections Committee of the Cal Poly Academic Senate showed that 304 of the 434 persons who cast ballots voted "no." The remaining 130 recorded "yes" votes. In terms of percentages, the vote was 30 per cent "yes" and 70 per cent "no." The 434 ballots cast was 74.5 per cent of the 599 eligible voters.

Rodney Keif (Environmental Engineering Department), who is chairman of the campus faculty senate, said yesterday (Monday, Feb. 24) he had been informed that counting of the ballots from throughout the state college system would begin at 9 o'clock this Tuesday (Feb. 25) morning in the statewide senate's offices at San Fernando Valley State College. Impartial observers of the counting procedure will be a certified public accountant and an attorney-member of the San Fernando Valley Bar Association who are not associated in any way with the California State Colleges.

DISTINGUISHED TEACHER NOMINATIONS DUE NEXT MONTH

The committee to select Distinguished Teacher Award recipients for 1968-69 at Cal Poly is inviting faculty members and/or groups of faculty members to submit nominations of persons to receive these awards. A form on which a nomination may be made is attached to this issue of Cal Poly Report. Additional copies of the nomination form may be obtained in the General Office, Adm-109. March 13, 1969, is the deadline for the submission of nominations. The selection committee urges faculty members to submit nominations in the hope that the names of all likely candidates thus will be brought before the committee.

SALE OF TICKETS FOR NCAA WRESTLING TOURNAMENT CONTINUES

Sale of tickets for the sixth annual National Collegiate Athletic Association College Division Wrestling Tournament, which is slated for March 14-15, in Men's Gymnasium, is continuing, according to Tournament Director Terry Ward (Physical Education Department). Tickets covering the entire tourney are priced at $2 for students and $4 for the general public and may be purchased either at the Associated Students Office on campus or from Larson's Village Squire or Ogden's Stationers, in San Luis Obispo.

Entries for the NCAA event continue to promise an outstanding tournament. Some 70 colleges and universities from throughout the nation have indicated their intention to send either teams or individual competitors to challenge Cal Poly's defending national champions.

In a related announcement, Head Wrestling Coach Vaughan Hitchcock (Physical Education Department) said last week that two Western U.S. records were established when his Mustang grapplers hosted the defending NCAA University Division champion Oklahoma State University team recently. Both the attendance of 2,388 and the gate receipts of $2,364.80 were the largest ever recorded in collegiate wrestling history on the West Coast.
SANTA CLARA SYMPHONY CONCERT SLATED FRIDAY EVENING

A symphony orchestra that has drawn favorable notices from critics throughout Northern California since its organization four years ago will perform in concert before a campus audience Friday (Feb. 28) evening. Scheduled for 8 p.m., the performance by the Amici Della Musica Orchestra of Santa Clara will take place in the Cal Poly Theater under sponsorship of the College Union Fine Arts Committee.

Founded in 1965, the orchestra from the University of Santa Clara has given concerts all over the northern part of the state. The 37-piece group directed by Richard Williams offers a wide variety of serious music. Among the works to be performed during Friday evening's concert are Mozart's "Symphony No. 29," Stravinski's "Dumbarton Oaks Concerto," and Britten's "Simple Symphony."

Both Williams and the orchestra have drawn good reviews from music critics; typical are the comments of a San Francisco Chronicle writer who believes the youthful conductor has "style, suavity, and finesse to burn."

Tickets for Friday evening's concert are priced at $2.50 for students and $3.50 for the general public. They are being sold at the Associated Students Office on campus in advance and will be available at Cal Poly Theater ticket office windows prior to curtain time Friday evening.

FOREIGN STUDENTS NEED HOST FAMILIES

Foreign students currently enrolled at Cal Poly come from all over the globe, but they all have one thing in common -- they need friends in their new environment. Many of them are away from their own families for the first time. These students can be less lonely and learn about U.S. culture more quickly through invitations into homes, not only on special occasions but frequently throughout the year.

The Host Family Program of the Foreign Student Office provides many foreign students with the opportunity for this important friendship and cultural exchange. It offers participating families the challenge of sharing another person's culture and the satisfaction of contributing to world understanding at a personal level.

There are still many students on campus who do not have host families but would like to have. There are students who have asked to experience cultural exchange by living with an American family. The Foreign Student Office can provide the names of such students or more information about the Host Family Program. Those interested are invited to call Audrey June Dempsey (Foreign Student Activities Advisor), 546-2376.

The procedures, approved by the full Academic Senate of Cal Poly on January 28, implement a policy adopted by the Board of Trustees in June, 1968, and include a section approved by the Cal Poly Academic Senate on February 11, 1969. The procedures become effective March 24, 1969; grievance matters to which existing procedures have been applied but which have not yet been completed, should be handled according to procedures in effect when consideration of the matter first began.

JOURNALISM SOCIETY HONORS FORMER CAL POLY TEACHER, ADMINISTRATOR

A veteran journalist who was one of the earliest members of Sigma Delta Chi professional journalism society has been honored by the Central Coast Chapter of Sigma Delta Chi upon completion of more than 50 years of news work, teaching, and public relations. Douglass W. Miller was honored in a recent resolution passed unanimously by the Central California Coast Chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, of which he is also a charter member. He was a member of the faculty and administrative staff of Cal Poly from 1953 until last fall.

Dr. Miller became a member of Alpha Chapter of the professional journalistic society at DePauw University, Greencastle, Ind., in 1913, soon after its organization, and has been a faithful member of the society to the present time. After receiving his BA from DePauw in 1916, he served as a reporter, editor, and publisher for such daily newspapers as the Greencastle Daily Banner, the European Edition of Stars and Stripes, and community newspapers in both Syracuse, N.Y., and Los Angeles. He obtained his MA degree from University of Wisconsin in 1927 and LittD from DePauw in 1941.

An early member of the American Association of College News Bureaus, now known as the American College Public Relations Association, Dr. Miller served as both a regional and national officer of that organization.

The Sigma Delta Chi resolution praised Dr. Miller for enhancing the growth of higher education through his dedicated service in the public relations, publications, and public information programs of Ohio Wesleyan University, Syracuse University, Case Institute of Technology, and Cal Poly. The veteran journalist also played a major role in the development of untold numbers of young journalists through his achievements as a member of the journalism faculties of Ohio Wesleyan, Stanford University, and Wisconsin, as well as at Cal Poly, and through his contribution as author of a widely-used college textbook on journalism and reporting.

Dr. Miller, who retired from his full-time assignment as director of public information and publications at Cal Poly, October 1, 1968, continues to be active in the field of public relations on a consultant basis in education and industry.
GLEE CLUB, COLLEGIANS SET MARCH 24-28 TOUR OF LA AREA

A 17-performance concert tour in the Los Angeles area, March 24-28, has been announced for the Men’s Glee Club and the Collegians stage band. The two ensembles, with a total membership of nearly one hundred Cal Poly students, will offer their program of classical, popular, religious, and show tunes to high school and college audiences in Van Nuys, Glendale, Westminster, Santa Ana, Garden Grove, Downey, and Los Angeles.

One of several performing groups of the Music Department, the Men’s Glee Club will present a wide range of well-performed music. Included in the numbers in this year’s program are the hymn, "O Lord, Increase My Faith," the old folk song "Black is the Color of My True Love's Hair," and "Call Me," a popular tune. The 15-member Collegians stage band specializes in smooth dance music reminiscent of the Glenn Miller era. Among its selections are "One Note Samba," "It's Not Unusual," and "Don't Sleep in the Subway."

H. P. Davidson, chairman of the Music Department, leads the two groups. An old hand at directing student musicians, Davidson started Cal Poly's unique music program in 1936. Next month's tour will be the 28th he has made with the Men’s Glee Club and Collegians.

Smaller groups made up of glee club members also appear during the tour. Those participating in this year's tour are the barber shop-oriented "World Famous Majors and Minors" — that's the group's full name — and the Collegiate Quartet.

FACULTY, STAFF INVITED TO COLLEGE-UNION SPONSORED "COFFEE HOUSE REVIEW"

Members of the college faculty and staff are invited to enjoy a "Coffee House Review" scheduled for Sunday, March 2, at 7:30 p.m., in the Staff Dining Room, according to Steve Sefton, chairman of the College Union Special Events Committee, which is sponsoring the event.

Sefton, who pointed out that an underlying goal of the Coffee House Review is to develop better lines of communication among students and faculty, said the Staff Dining Room will be decorated to resemble a coffee house. Music will be by the Repertory Music Company and coffee and other refreshments will be served.

"With the informal atmosphere we want to develop, we hope the audience will feel free to talk about the issues which face the world," the student chairman said. "We also hope those attending will not feel pressured into staying for the whole program. People will be welcome to come and go as they please."

Sefton, who said admission to Sunday evening's Coffee House Review will be free, pointed out that it is the first of a series of such events his committee has planned for the remainder of the current academic year. Others are being planned for March 2, April 13, May 4 and 25, and June 1.
