TRUSTEES' POLY VISIT DRAWS NOTICE, CONTROVERSY, PRAISE

What may be the last visit of the full Board of Trustees of the California State Colleges to a state college campus -- at least for a year -- drew statewide public attention to Cal Poly last week. News media covering regular meetings of the board seldom muster more than 15 representatives; last week's meetings saw accreditation of 34 representatives of press, radio and television. Represented were the major daily newspapers of San Diego, Los Angeles, Sacramento, San Francisco, Long Beach, and Fresno, and several television crews including members of the NBC national staff. Associated Press and Life magazine staffers were also on hand.

Professional newsmen and student journalists had opportunities to interview such figures in California higher education as Governor Ronald Reagan, State Superintendent of Public Instruction Max Rafferty, California State Colleges Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke, and San Francisco State College President S. I. Hayakawa. After a day and a half of committee meetings at the Madonna Inn, and a San Luis Obispo Country Club testimonial dinner for former trustees Louis Hielbron and Paul Spencer, the board moved to the Staff Dining Room on Wednesday afternoon (March 26) for the plenary session.

The board indicated that it will send visiting committees of trustees to inspect various state college campuses during the next year, but will hold full official board meetings in the Los Angeles headquarters of the California State Colleges, except for one meeting to be held "North," presumably in Sacramento. In other actions the board approved regulations to define and clarify the scope of auxiliary organizations.

The far-reaching policy establishes guidelines under Title 5 of the Education Code for auxiliary organizations (such as foundations and associated student organizations) and clarifies responsibilities of campus organizations authorized to spend funds collected from mandatory student fees.

The policy was adopted unanimously by board vote following a series of meetings and proposals by representatives from student and faculty organizations, Academic Senate, the Trustees, state college presidents, business and foundation managers and the Chancellor's Office. Trustees emphasized that the policy and regulations would not restrict or curtail the vital services performed by student association and auxiliary organizations.

Other actions taken by the Trustees included: A resolution commending the overwhelming majority of students and faculty who upheld the orderly academic process during recent campus disturbances and strikes; Reaffirmed the Board's opposition to moving the Chancellor's Office to Sacramento and asked the Chancellor's Office for a plan to acquire permanent office facilities in the Los Angeles area; Appointment of a special committee of trustees, college presidents, the Chancellor, Assistant Chancellor, and student body presidents to find ways of improving the relationships between their respective constituencies and thereby improving academic governance.

In the wake of the Cal Poly meeting the San Luis Obispo newspaper received a spate of letters from annoyed students and faculty, and some competitive chiding from local radio stations, after a Wednesday story mistakenly asserted that activist signs and boos were in the majority as Governor Reagan arrived on campus. By Friday the controversy was settling, and Dr. Robert E. Kennedy issued the following praise of Cal Poly personnel who made the board's visit to San Luis Obispo a success: "I wish to generally express my appreciation to the faculty, staff and students of this college who participated in hosting the Board of Trustees of the California State Colleges during its meeting in San Luis Obispo. Students who served as official guides and hosts, and in other capacities, made particularly important contributions to the success of this event.

"The trustees and the presidents of other state colleges who attended the meeting here have repeatedly expressed their admiration for this college's spirit of courtesy and friendliness. I particularly want to convey the respects of these officials, including the Governor of California, to those students who observed the arrival of the Board of Trustees in the area of the staff dining room and to those who were fortunate enough to attend the plenary session.

"Practically everyone who observed the Wednesday afternoon event characterized the gathering as a "friendly crowd." The tolerance expressed for a few dissenters was also noted, as was the fact that dissent at this college at no time appeared to exceed the bounds of responsibility. Your colleagues, your parents and families, and the citizens of the State of California undoubtedly share with me this pride in the men and women of Cal Poly."

REAL ESTATE ACTION MAY PROVIDE FACULTY OFFICES

The way has been cleared to provide office space for some 120 Cal Poly faculty members. The California State Colleges Board of Trustees has granted permission for acquisition of the Palm Royal Apartments on California Boulevard near the campus.

The Palm Royal property, which has been operated as a private off-campus girls residence hall since its construction in 1962, consists of .83 acres including a 44-car parking facility valued at $280,000 by the State Property Acquisition

KING OBSERVANCES NOTED IN EASTER MESSAGE

The official holiday declared Monday to memorialize the late Dwight D. Eisenhower, and the occurrence of an academic holiday on Good Friday, April 4, should not obscure other events of recent history which we may honor during the Easter Season, President Robert E. Kennedy said today in a statement for students, faculty and staff at Cal Poly.

"Easter symbolizes the regeneration of man," Dr. Kennedy said. "In the rebirth of his spirituality he renews his capacity for fellowship and regard for other humans. It is a time for us to reflect on all those who by their example follow Christ's teaching. In particular we should note that this Friday is the anniversary also of the death of Martin Luther King, whose message of change and reconciliation will be honored widely throughout the nation by white and black alike who respect his achievements and subscribe to his belief in the harmonious future of men of all races."

DUTY HOURS FOR GOOD FRIDAY CLARIFIED

A memorandum received recently from the Office of the Chancellor of the California State Colleges clarified the matter of duty hours for state employees for the Easter period. Normal work schedules will be in effect throughout the period except for Good Friday (April 4). That date is already scheduled as a holiday for Cal Poly academic employees. All other employees will be on duty all day. Employees who work and wish to attend religious services will be allowed time off for that purpose between the hours of 12 noon and 3 p.m. The memorandum from the Office of the Chancellor points out that employees who are on vacation; sick leave; compensating time off; or absent without pay for the entire day, or the entire afternoon Good Friday, will be charged the full period of their absence.

TOUR OF NEW O H FACILITIES OFFERED FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Members of the college faculty and staff who are on campus Friday (April 4) afternoon are invited to take part in a tour of the new Ornamental Horticulture Unit facilities located near the Horse Unit on Campus Way. The tour is planned for 3:30 to 5 p.m., and will include visits of the flower shop and the green houses.

Division. The facility is expected to provide 120 faculty office stations and approximately 20 clerical stations with very limited remodeling.

Following the recommendations of its committee on Campus Planning, Buildings and Grounds, the Board of Trustees authorized the chancellor of the California State Colleges to sell two parcels of college property located near but not contiguous to the Cal Poly campus. The parcels, a .7-acre site located at the southeast corner of Santa Rosa and Foothill Boulevard, and a 3.5-acre site on the west side of North Chorro Street are undeveloped and have little instructional value to the college. Approval of the Board of Trustees and the Director of Finance will permit the college to use the proceeds of the sale of the two properties to acquire Palm Royal. The two parcels have an estimated value of $150,000 and $125,000 respectively.
SEARCH FOR COMPUTER CENTER DIRECTOR INITIATED BY COLLEGE

A nationwide search for a highly-qualified, full-time computer center director has been initiated by the college, according to Dale W. Andrews (Academic Vice President). An individual who can bring successful experience with third generation computer systems and who can play a leadership role in developing a variety of uses of the capabilities of the new computer system which should be installed this fall, is being sought, Dr. Andrews said.

The computer center director will be responsible for administration of the on-going operations and development of future operations for the college-wide Computer Center, including budgeting, organization, staffing, scheduling, equipment, facilities and planning for future development. Possession of an advanced college degree, preferably the doctorate, from an accredited college or university, or the equivalent academic or work experience, will be needed. Annual salary range for the new post, which will be on a 12-month basis, will be $17,424 to $21,180.

Vice President Andrews said a screening committee headed by Tom Dunigan (Director of Institutional Studies) has been asked to screen applicants for the position and to recommend two or three as best prospects. "It is my hope that the two or three leading candidates will be able to meet with the Automatic Data Processing Advisory Committee and with faculty working in the area of computer science," Dr. Andrews continued. Other members of the Screening committee are Curtis Gerald and Wayne McMorran (both Mathematical Sciences Department).

Those interested in applying for the position or in obtaining additional information are invited to contact Dr. Andrews in his office (Adm-415), or by telephone (546-2101).

EASTER LILIES ON SALE AT FLOWER SHOP

Easter lilies are again being sold at the Flower Shop of the new Ornamental Horticulture Unit located on Campus Way near the Horse Unit. According to Howard Brown (Head of the Ornamental Horticulture Department), the sale began this (Wednesday, April 2) morning and will continue through Sunday (April 6). The plants are priced at $3.50 each.

Dr. Brown reported this week that the current crop of lilies is the best ever grown on campus. The variety is Ace and the plants have been chemically treated to stay short. All have high bud counts with excellent lasting quality. The plants being sold have 7 to 13 buds and will be wrapped for a small additional charge.

STAFF CLUB SCHEDULES LADIES DAY PROGRAM THURSDAY

All women who are members of the Cal Poly Staff Club and the wives of members of the club are invited to attend the luncheon program of the Cal Poly Staff Club, which is planned for Thursday (April 3), starting at 12 noon, in the Staff Dining Room. Guest speaker for the program, which has been announced as a ladies day event, will be Optometrist Larry J. Pirmantgen of San Luis Obispo. His talk will be on "Helping Our Students to Read Better." Reservations will not be required.

DISTINGUISHED ENGINEERING EXECUTIVES, EDUCATORS SLATE CAMPUS VISIT

Six distinguished engineering executives and educators from throughout the nation are scheduled to visit Cal Poly tomorrow (Thursday, April 3) and Friday (April 4). They are members of an Engineers Council for Professional Development committee which will evaluate five School of Engineering degree curricula for possible accreditation while on campus.

Members of the visiting group will be R. P. Harrington, head of the department of Aerospace Engineering and director of the Institute for Space Sciences, University of Cincinnati; D. J. Povejsil, general manager, Westinghouse Electric Corporation's Nuclear Fuel Division; Lester M. Field, vice president, Hughes Aircraft Company; Warren R. Mellin, director of industrial engineering, United Air Lines; R. K. Pefley, assistant dean of engineering, University of Santa Clara; and M. R. Lohmann, dean of engineering, Oklahoma State University.

Scheduled for review by the ECPD representatives during their two-day stay on campus are programs of the Aeronautical Engineering, Electrical Engineering, Electronic Engineering, Industrial Engineering, and Mechanical Engineering Departments.

MO'IT RETURNS TO AFRICA AS P E, SPORTS SPECIALIST

Robert A. Mott (Head of the Physical Education Department) returned to Africa for the third time as a specialist in physical education and sports programs this week. His visit, requested by U.S. embassies in several African countries and by the United States Information Agency in Africa, will be under auspices of the federal Department of State.

While in Africa, Dr. Mott will serve as chairman of the International Seminar on Physical Education and visit the Ministries of Education in Somalia, Ethiopia, Kenya, and Tanzania. The seminar, being held at Makerere University, Kampala, Uganda, will draw educators and physical education and sports program specialists from most of the emerging nations of Africa, according to Dr. Mott who will be aided by 1948 and 1952 Olympic Games gold medal winner, Mal Whitfield.

In 1963 Dr. Mott was chief of a team of four Cal Poly faculty members which trained teachers for the Evelyn Hone College of Further Education in Lusaka, Zambia. He returned to the college in Zambia in 1966 for a general inspection of its progress. A member of the Cal Poly faculty since 1946, Dr. Mott formerly was a member of the coaching staff. He has been head of its Physical Education Department for the past 20 years.

The Physical Education Department head left San Luis Obispo March 27. He expected to arrive in Uganda Monday (March 31) and hopes to resume his campus duties May 5.

MUSTANG GRAPPLES FINISH FIFTH IN N C A A UNIVERSITY MEET

Tom Kline, who became the first Cal Poly athlete to win a national championship in University Division competition, won the individual crown at 191 pounds to lead Coach Vaughan Hitchcock's Mustangs to a fifth-place finish in the National Collegiate Athletic Association's university wrestling championships at Provo, Utah, last weekend. It was the highest finish ever recorded in the tournament by either a team from California or by a College Division team.

Four of the seven Cal Poly entries in the meet at Brigham Young University placed fourth or better and contributed to the Mustang's team score of 52 points. In addition to Kline's title-winning performance, John Woods was runner-up at 167 pounds, Terry Hall finished third at 115 pounds, and Ken Bos was fourth at 177. Other members of the team that entered the meet were Rick Arnold, Steve Johnson, and John Finch. Heavyweight Dennis Petracek qualified for the tournament but was unable to compete because of an injury.

Both Woods and Kline are scheduled to join Coach Hitchcock as participants in the annual NCAA East-West all-star wrestling match at Pennsylvania State University, Saturday (April 5). Hitchcock and Dale Thomas of Oregon State University are co-coaches of the West team, which will include the two Mustang matmen.

As far as other events on the campus sports calendar are concerned, all of the activities this week is on the road, where the Mustang baseball, golf, and tennis teams are slated to see action. The next campus sports event will find Coach Ed Jorgensen's tennis team hosting Fresno State College in a match scheduled for 2:30 p.m., next Tuesday (April 8), on the courts adjacent to Men's Gymnasium.
CAL POLY COED INVITED TO INTERNATIONAL TRACK MEET

Linda McArthur is a slightly-built girl who may be seen running along side a men's track team. Studious and pretty, she is a junior at Cal Poly and is also one of the nation's top women track stars. She is also deaf. The 21-year-old physical education student from Ojai is holder of the American deaf record for the 80-meter hurdles (12.5 seconds) and is planning to compete in the long distance relays in the XIth International Games for the Deaf at Belgrade, Yugoslavia, in August.

That is, if she can raise the $1,800 needed to make the trip. She does not want to be left behind, but the organization of the "deaf olympics" requires that participants pay for their own travel. The money-raising campaign officially began last week. "Right now we don't have a single penny," said Evelyn Pellaton (Physical Education Department) who is coordinator of Linda's athletic adventure.

Since its beginning in 1924 the International Games for the Deaf have grown from the original 6 participating countries to a total of 36, with 681 contestants, in the 1965 games held in Washington, D. C. Linda, who trains two hours each day -- sometimes running ahead of Coach Dick Purcell's Mustang varsity track team -- plans to enter the 100- and 200-meter dashes and the 400-meter relays in the games this summer.

Beside being one of the nation's top women athletes, Linda is a top student. She has a solid "B" average for her three years of study at CalPoly and has been named to the President's List each year.

"I got the chance to go to Yugoslavia after competing in a qualifying meet at Berkeley School for the Deaf," Linda said. She placed third in both the 100- and 200-meter dashes there, and since she holds the 80-meter hurdles record, was assured of a position on the Belgrade-bound U. S. team. "Until June," she explains "I will be practicing specific running problems, like starting and arm movement, at Cal Poly. Then I will move to Ventura for heavier workouts."

But for the time being Linda will concentrate on getting enough money together for the trip. "Although we are kicking off our campaign right now," says Miss Pellaton, "some of the other participants already have their quotas met." Miss Pellaton notes that the game rules do not prohibit athlete sponsorship. "It would really be something if San Luis Obispo County sent Linda to the Olympics," she added with typical feminine optimism.

An account has been set up for Linda's benefit at Bank of America's College Square Branch in San Luis Obispo. "Contributions may be sent to the Linda McArthur IGD Fund in care of the bank," Miss Pellaton said.

CORRECTION IN ARTICLE ON RECREATIONAL SWIMMING SCHEDULE NOTED

The article on revision of the recreational swimming hours at Crandall Pool, which appeared in last week's issue of Cal Poly Report was incorrect and added to the problem of changing over to the new hours. Under the revised schedule, as it should have read, recreational swimming for staff and faculty of the college will be from 5 to 6 p.m., Monday through Friday, rather than from 3 to 5 p.m. as reported last week. The Wednesday, 7 to 9 p.m., and Sunday, 2 to 4 p.m., hours will continue. Family dependents are welcome to join faculty and staff for the Sunday and Wednesday hours.
CAL POLY ORGANIZATIONS INVITED TO ENTER FIESTA PARADE

Cal Poly organizations are being invited to enter floats in the annual San Luis Obispo La Fiesta Parade, which is scheduled for the morning of May 17, in downtown San Luis Obispo. L. J. Vanoncini (Director of Alumni and Community Affairs), who represents the college on the community-wide La Fiesta Committee, said last week the theme for the 1969 observance, "Portola’s Trek," recognizes that this year is the 200th anniversary of the Spanish explorer's use of San Luis Obispo as his temporary headquarters.

Noting that the May date will undoubtedly find many campus groups and individuals involved in other programs, Vanoncini said the committee had been unable to locate a time when some conflict with other activities would not be present. "We hope some organizations will have members not heavily burdened with Poly Royal and other programs who might take on the responsibility of building a float for the parade. Cal Poly interest can assist considerably in making La Fiesta a worthy event for the entire community," he continued.

Organizations or individuals interested either in entering a float or in learning more about plans for the 1969 La Fiesta Parade are invited to contact Vanoncini by telephone (546-2540) or in his office, Adm-210.

NEW ADMINISTRATIVE ASSISTANT FOR PAYROLL AND GENERAL SERVICES

Arthur L. Spencer, a former manager of cost accounting for Link Group, General Precision, Inc., began his new duties at payroll-general services coordinator and assistant to the accounting officer at Cal Poly last month. In that newly created position, he will work with Robert J. Miller (Accounting Office) and will direct the Payroll and General Services Sections. His office will be Adm-110.

A native of Minnesota, the new Business Affairs Division staff member has an extensive background in cost and payroll accounting with several years as staff accountant for large industrial concerns. Locally, he was previously employed by Belcher and Company, a certified public accounting firm. Spencer obtained a certificate in business and accounting from the Hartford Institute of Accounting, Hartford, Conn. and attended West Valley College at Campbell, Calif., on a part-time basis.

28th HOME CONCERT SLATED APRIL 18

Six performing groups totaling more than 150 members are scheduled to perform during the 28th annual Home Concert the evening of Friday, April 18. The traditional music festival is set for 8 p.m., in the Men’s Gymnasium. Tickets for the concert, priced at $1.25 for adults and $.75 for students and children, may be purchased at Brown's Music and Ogden's Stationers in San Luis Obispo, at the Associated Students Office on campus, and from individual members of the six performing groups.

Under the direction of Harold P. Davidson (Head of the Music Department), originator of the concert series 28 years ago, the concert is a complete musical show. Schedule to provide a widely varied program for the 1969 Home Concert are the Men's Glee Club, the Woman's Glee Club, the Collegians stage and dance band, the Majors and Minors, the Collegiate Quartet, and the Woman's Sextet.
Sarah E. Burroughs (Home Economics Department) is one of 30 persons chosen to attend a summer institute on the History and Philosophy of Science and Mathematics at American University, Washington, D.C., this summer. Scheduled for June 18-July 25, the institute is being sponsored by the National Science Foundation. Dr. Burroughs initially learned of the event through a notice which appeared in Cal Poly Report.

Sabah Al-Hadad, Joseph Carlson, George M. Lewis, Daniel F. Stubbs, and Neal R. Townsend (all Mathematical Sciences Department) attended the 49th regular meeting of the Southern California Section of the Mathematical Association of America, which took place in mid-March in Fullerton.

Robert J. Rodin (Biological Sciences Department) attended a meeting of the California Botanical Society, March 20, at University of California at Berkeley. According to Dr. Rodin, who is teaching plant ecology this quarter, a highlight of the meeting was the illustrated presentation on tropical vegetation in the Pacific islands given by Grady Webster of University of California at Davis.

George J. Hasslein (Dean of Architecture) was guest speaker at the meeting of the Southern Louisiana Chapter of the American Institute of Architects which took place in Lafayette, La., March 12. Later last month, Dean Hasslein was a judge for a competition sponsored by the Los Angeles Department of Water and Power and attended a meeting of the Advisory Committee on Environmental Design and Urban Studies of the California Coordinating Council on Higher Education.

Gary Fuller, Olive M. Andersen, John H. Manning, George H. McMeen, Allen D. Miller, and Chester H. Scott (all Mathematical Sciences Department) and Milo E. Whitson (Head of Mathematical Sciences Department) were participants in the conference of the Central Section of the California Mathematics Council, held March 21-22, in Bakersfield. Dr. Miller is president of the section.

The barbecued steak dinner for coaches of the teams which entered the National Collegiate Athletic Association College Division Wrestling Tournament, held last month at Cal Poly, resulted in a contribution of about $800 to the athletic aid program of the Mustang Boosters Club. Harry Henderson, president of the boosters group which sponsored the affair, reported that the contribution assured the club of meeting its 1968-69 budget allocations.

Members of the School of Architecture faculty have been busy attending professional meetings during recent weeks. Those so involved include Benjamin K. Polk and Kenneth E. Schwartz, who attended the Monterey County Planning Council’s annual conference at Asilomor; Kenneth Hall and Dell Orey Nickell, who participated in a Seminar on Plastic Steel Design for Multistory Braced Frame Steel Structures in Los Angeles and another program on advanced steel design; and Albert Davies who joined Hall and Nickell for the Seminar on Advanced Steel Design.

DEADLINES AND DATELINES

Requests for purchase (Forms 5) for supplies or equipment which are to be charged to current 1968-69 appropriations must reach the college Purchasing Office no later than April 15, if they are for items which must be processed through the State Office of Procurement on estimate forms, and June 1, if they are for items which can be ordered on local Sub-Purchase Orders. Additional information or clarification may be obtained by contacting the Purchasing Office, Adm-117, 546-2231.
AUDI O VISUAL EQUIPMENT FOR POLY ROYAL

This year, as in the past, the Audio-Visual Department is making all audio-visual equipment on campus available for use during Poly Royal, April 25-26. With the limited amount of equipment that is available and heavy scheduling anticipated, all equipment now on quarter loan may be recalled for the Poly Royal weekend and re-issued for events scheduled as part of the annual open house activity.

Departmental clubs and student organizations should be advised to schedule A-V equipment for their Poly Royal projects by first obtaining a Form 81 from the Activities Office, Temporary College Union and then contacting the A-V Service Office, Room 9, Business Administration and Education Building. Requests will be filled on a first-come, first-served basis. Since there has never been enough equipment to fill all requests, the A-V Department is urging members of the faculty and staff who may be advisors to student groups to have their organizations submit their requests now.

STUDENT COMMITTEE FINALIZES PLANS FOR HOME ECONOMICS COLLEGE CAREER DAY

Karen Berlin, a graduate student from Santa Cruz, heads a committee of 13 home economics majors that has finalized its plans for the second annual College Career Day which will take place on campus April 9. Sponsored by the Home Economics Department, the event is expected to draw high school and junior college students from throughout the state who are interested in knowing more about the "career" of being a college student; specifically, a home economics student.

Mrs. Marie Pfeiffer (Head of Home Economics Department) said this week the conference will include seminars, campus and class tours, and a box luncheon. In addition to the events for students, the College Career Day is also expected to provide teachers and counselors of high schools and junior colleges with information on preparation for and participation in the Cal Poly home economics curriculum, Dr. Pfeiffer said.
