CHANCELLOR DUMKE CLARIFIES ADMISSION "FREEZE" STATEMENTS

Chancellor of the California State Colleges Glenn S. Dumke's remarks upon issuing his order to "freeze" admission of new students to the state colleges was reported extensively throughout the state last week. Few news media reported it in much detail, however, and several of his remarks are important enough to be reported to members of the college faculty and staff.

Dr. Dumke's announcement of the decision to limit admission of new students followed an emergency meeting with the state college presidents and faculty representatives and an informal briefing session with trustees at the college system's Los Angeles headquarters. The "freeze" affects the 45,000 new undergraduate students expected at the 18 state college campuses, plus lesser numbers of new graduate students and students applying for admission to the summer quarter at the three "year-round" campuses (Cal Poly, San Luis Obispo; Cal Poly, Kellogg-Voorhis; and Cal State at Hayward).

"It appears that we will be able to accept many thousands of these new students next year," said the chancellor, "but with proposed budget limitations and the difficulty of recruiting faculty it may be nowhere near the number we had planned for." He added, "Because we are now entering the critical cycle nationally for college admissions, I do not believe it would be fair to admit students today and then inform them in June, when we have a clear picture of our budget situation, that we have no room for them and they must at that late date seek admission elsewhere."

Chancellor Dumke said that most state colleges started receiving applications for admission about January 1 and under the new action will continue to receive and process them. However, the chancellor indicated that no student will be advised of his acceptance for admission during the "freeze" period. He said the student, instead, will be informed that he will be told his status "at the earliest possible date."

In other action Dr. Dumke ordered that the recruiting of faculty members for current positions which will be vacant next year be cut by five percent. There are some 800 anticipated vacant positions. A temporary moratorium on hiring of faculty for about 500 new positions to take care of the anticipated enrollment increase was ordered a month ago and remains in effect, he said. Director of Finance Gordon P. Smith has promised that the colleges will be informed by January 31 of the number of new faculty positions the colleges will be authorized.

The chancellor's announcement came after four meetings with officials of the new state administration during which reduction of the state college budget for next year was discussed. He said he was "hopful" at the "recent trend of the discussions" but felt he could wait no longer to take the actions due to the uncertainty.

COLLECTION OF PAINTINGS RECEIVED AS GIFT FROM FORD MOTOR COMPANY

Receipt of a collection of 50 original watercolor paintings as a gift from the Ford Motor Company was announced today by the college. Dr. Dale W. Andrews, vice president and chief executive officer of the college who made the announcement, said that the paintings reportedly are valued at $8,465. Many of them are the work of nationally known artists.

Initial showing of the new collection in the local area is scheduled to open Sunday (January 22) evening in the Lobby of Walter F. Dexter Memorial Library on campus. The exhibit, which will continue through February 10, will be free of any admission charge and the public is invited to take advantage of viewing it during regular open hours of the Library.

Vice President Andrews said the new collection will become part of the special collections holdings of Dexter Memorial Library. Transfer of the original watercolors to the college came about as a result of a chance inquiry by Robert G. Reynolds, an artist on the staff of the Audio Visual Department, to Ford Motor Company’s Publications Services Department in Dearborn, Mich.

Reynolds, who is also vice president of the San Luis Obispo Art Association, received encouragement from the initial inquiry and provided the information to L. Harry Strauss, college librarian, and other members of the college administration staff.

FACULTY, STAFF, STUDENTS, INVITED TO PREVIEW SHOWING

Members of the Cal Poly faculty, staff, and student body have been invited to a preview showing of the new collection of original watercolor paintings presented to the college by the Ford Motor Company. Planned as a reception on the occasion of the preview showing and formal presentation of the collection to the college, it will take place from 3:00 to 5:00 p.m., Sunday (January 22) in the Lobby of the Dexter Memorial Library. The public showing of the paintings will begin later that evening and continue for about two weeks.

Final arrangements for transferring the collection to its new home were worked out by Strauss with David G. Dowling, manager of publications services for the automobile manufacturing firm, with the assistance of Carl G. Hysen, co-owner of the Hysen-Johnson Ford Company of San Luis Obispo.

Ranging in size from 24 by 30 inches to 30 by 40 inches, paintings included in the collection are originals of pictures which initially appeared in Ford Times, a publication of the motor company. Perhaps the best known of the 50 artists whose work is included in the collection is Phil Dike, a resident of Cambria. Other highly-regarded artists among those represented are Richard Brough, Merle Shore, Louis Macouillard, John Warren, Charles Harper, and Benjamin Eisenstadt.

Strauss said today that the paintings are scenes ranging from street scenes, landscapes, historical sites, seascapes, and people, to sports events, animals, and travel. Represented are 27 of the United States and its territories, as well as Spain, Canada, and Mexico. Media used in the various paintings, in addition to watercolor, are tempera, colored ink, and casein, but a number of them show use of mixed media.
VICE PRESIDENT Andrews COMMENTS ON ADMISSIONS "FREEZE"

Printed below in its entirety is a statement by Dale W. Andrews, vice president and chief executive officer of Cal Poly, issued to news media throughout the Central California Area following announcement of the "freeze" on admission of new students to the California State Colleges. Dated January 13, Dr. Andrews' statement reads:

"Reports in the news media during the past week have carried a variety of information regarding California's current budget problems as they relate to the California State Colleges and, in turn, to California State Polytechnic College.

"Since Governor Reagan's budget proposal for 1967-68 is yet to be presented to the Legislature, we are still not sure what it will be and how it will affect the state colleges and Cal Poly. The best information we can gather at this time indicates, however, that there is a strong likelihood that our operating budget for next year will remain at or below that upon which we are operating this year.

"If this should be the case, it appears that Cal Poly will have to limit student enrollment to about the same level it reached during the Fall Quarter, when about 2,500 students new to the college enrolled. Such a limitation would not make it necessary to change our staffing from what it is at this time. In fact, normal attrition caused by retirements, leaves, and resignations from the college faculty will undoubtedly result in our having to recruit additional instructional staff for 1967-68.

"Let me emphasize, in conclusion, that it simply isn't possible for us to appraise our plans for next academic year with any degree of accuracy at this time. We'll have to wait until the state budget picture is nearer to being finally resolved before we can speak with more certainty.

Dr. Dumke said that in order to preserve educational quality at the same level as the current year, it would appear that the college system would be forced to deny admission to about 22,300 incoming students. He said that no priority system has been devised as yet but "we will make every effort to accept as our first obligation the upper-division transfer students from our public junior colleges. This will mean drastic limitations on freshman and sophomore admissions." Of the 45,000 expected new undergraduate students about 19,000 would be entering freshmen.

The Chancellor pointed out that in any limitation of enrollment, high school graduates would have many choices of junior colleges to attend, while the junior college graduate's selection would be much more limited.

He said that the budget picture, plus the uncertain faculty salary situation, has made it "predictable" that resignations by professors will increase and that recruitment already "has been drastically impaired." These two factors, he stated, make it impossible to predict what the system's enrollment capacity in terms of faculty members will be for next year. Adding to the uncertainty, he said, is the possibility of a tuition charge which he forecasts might turn numbers of new students away from the state colleges and cause other current students to return to their local area junior colleges.
SALE OF TICKETS FOR CAMPUS PERFORMANCE OF HARLEM GLOBETROTTERS BEGINS

Sale of tickets for the performance of the incomparable Harlem Globetrotters, slated for Men's Gymnasium, next Tuesday (January 24), at 8:00 p.m., has begun. Priced at $3.50 each for adults and $2.00 for students and children, they may be purchased either in the office of the Associated Students, Inc., on campus, or at four different locations in downtown San Luis Obispo.

Accompanying the 41st edition of the Globetrotters' own brand of basketball wizardry will be five sparkling halftime acts whose performances, alone, would be worth the admission price. Richard Bergmann, five-time world champion from England, will face Lee Dal Joon of South Korea in a table tennis exhibition; Lee Marx will present an act which incorporated his talents as a clown, acrobat, and juggler; Les Blue and Yvette are billed as juggling unicyclists; a sensational perch act will be presented by the Del Moral Trio; and foot juggling at its best will be offered by the glamorous Miss Loni.

Meadowlark Lemon, of course, is the Trotter who packs them in. Billed as the Clown Prince of Basketball, the 32-year-old Lemon is in his 12th laugh-filled year with the team. Also featured among the world-traveled magicians of basketball are Fred Neal, the dribbling sensation, and Hallie Bryant and Bobby Joe Mason, both former cage stars with major universities.

From the time the Globetrotters go into their hilarious pre-game warmup to the tune of Sweet Georgia Brown until the final whistle concludes the show, spectators have come to expect the very best in entertainment from the famed quintet. The fact that this is their 41st record-smashing year is evidence of their status as the No. 1 sports attraction of the world.

LEACH SLATED TO ADDRESS STAFF CLUB LUNCHEON

Richard I. Leach, head of the Poultry Industry Department who returned to his duties on campus earlier this month after a six-month-long sabbatical leave, will be the guest speaker when the Staff Club holds its weekly luncheon meeting Thursday, beginning at noon, in the Staff Dining Room.

A member of the Cal Poly faculty since 1930, Leach is expected to describe his experiences as a speaker before the World Poultry Congress, held last August in Kiev, Russia, and as a participant in the International Institute of Food Science Technology meeting, which took place in Warsaw, Poland.

Fifty-three members of Tau Sigma, the honorary society for engineering students at Cal Poly, were initiated during ceremonies held just prior to the Christmas vacation. The new members bring to 75 the total undergraduate membership of the society whose purpose is to honor outstanding students of engineering.

DEADLINE FOR ARTICLES APPEARING IN NEXT WEEK'S STAFF BULLETIN IS FRIDAY NOON
WINTER QUARTER REGISTRATION REACHES 7,284, EXPECTED TO TOP 7,350

Registration for the Winter Quarter reached a record-breaking total of 7,284 when students returned to campus early this month after their two-and-one-half-week vacation. With late registration for Winter Quarter classes scheduled to continue through last Friday (January 13), the final total enrollment for the quarter was expected to climb to 7,350 according to information issued by F. Jerald Holley, registrar for the college.

Enrollment in Cal Poly's four instructional divisions (during the regular registration period) found the Applied Arts Division recording a total of 2,342 students. Not far behind were the Engineering Division, with 2,166; the Agriculture Division, with 1,531; and the Applied Sciences Division, with 1,245.

Of the college's 35 instructional departments, the Architecture and Architectural Engineering Department had the largest enrollment during the regular registration period with a total of 803. Other departments with more than 500 students enrolled were Social Sciences, with 546; English and Speech, with 527; and Business Administration, with 516.

Of the 7,284 students enrolled at the time these figures were compiled, 6,884 were students continuing their studies from the previous quarter. Another 187 were returning to Cal Poly after an absence of at least one quarter, 134 were transfers from other colleges and universities, and 51 were entering college for the first time.

Registration had reached an all-time high of 6,731 on a like date last year.

CSEA SLATES PREDICTIONS OF JUDGE HARRIS FOR JANUARY MEETING

Members and guests who attend the January meeting of Chapter 97 of the California State Employees Association will hear the well-known "predictions" of Richard F. Harris, judge of the Superior Court in San Luis Obispo. The meeting will take place in the Staff Dining Room, beginning at 12:00 noon, tomorrow (Wednesday, January 18).

Judge Harris' annual predictions on the fate and future of the world, nation, and state have proven to be unusually accurate over the years. His look into his "crystal ball" should prove an interesting program. In addition to the program, an item of business being planned for tomorrow's meeting will find CSEA members voting on a minor change in the constitution of CSEA dealing with associate memberships.

Both members of CSEA and guests are invited to attend.

CREDIT UNION'S ANNUAL MEETING SCHEDULED FOR MONDAY EVENING

Declaration of a dividend, election of officers, and reading of reports are among the items of business scheduled during the annual meeting of the SESLOC Federal Credit Union being planned for Monday (January 23) evening, according to information received last week from Charles A. Elston, secretary of the credit union. The meeting will take place, beginning at 7:00 P.M., in the Staff Dining Room, on campus. "Members are cordially invited to attend and help us share our 25th Anniversary Birthday Cake," Elston said.
NEW HOURS IN EFFECT FOR BUSINESS MANAGEMENT, FOUNDATION OFFICES

New hours for operation of the Business Management Division and Cal Poly Foundation offices located on the lower floor of the Administration Building went into effect January 10, according to an announcement received last week from College Business Manager Donald S. Nelson.

Nelson reported that the Accounting, Personnel, General Office I, Duplicating and Reproduction, Purchasing, and Foundation Accounting Offices all are maintaining open hours from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., continuously, daily, Monday through Friday. The Cashiers' Office is open from 9:00 a.m. to 4:45 p.m., continuously on those days.

Saturday mornings will find one administrative staff member, each, on duty in the Business Management and Cal Poly Foundation areas. In addition, the Personnel, General Office I, Duplicating and Reproduction Offices will be open from 8:00 a.m. to noon.

Nelson also announced that the Information Desk and Switchboard located in the Lobby of the Administration Building will be open from 8:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m., continuously, Monday through Friday, and from 8:00 a.m. until noon, on Saturdays.

REVIEW OF "THE TERRITORIAL IMPERATIVE" SCHEDULED FOR "BOOKS AT HIGH NOON"

Robert Ardrey's The Territorial Imperative will be discussed during the Books at High Noon luncheon meeting being planned for next Tuesday (January 24). The reviewer will be Ian McMillan of Shandon, well-known in this area as an ecologist and conservationist.

According to a recent review of Ardrey's book by Jean Stafford, which appeared in Vogue: "There are three needs that must be satisfied to perfect the territorial imperative psychologically; these are security, stimulation, and identity. Security is provided by the heartland, maintained and communally guarded; stimulation is found at the borders which may be threatened by marauders; and finally, the creature establishes his identity within the group by seeking out his individual perch in a tree or on a rock."

On today's (Tuesday, January 17) program Arthur Frietzsche, a member of the English and Speech Department faculty, will review Snoopy and the Red Baron by Charles M. Schulz. Starting time and place for today's program are both the same as those shown for next week's luncheon.

FINE ARTS COMMITTEE SLATES SHOWING OF "I AM A CAMERA"

Twin showings of the English film I Am A Camera have been scheduled by the College Union Fine Arts Committee for Friday (January 20). Part of the committee's 1966-67 Fine Arts Film Series, the showings are planned for 7:30 and 9:00 p.m., in the College Theater. Admission will be $.50.

Directed by Henry Cornelius, the film is the hilarious tale of Bohemian life in the Berlin of 1931, which, at the same time, manages to convey some of the turmoil and tragedy of the period when the spirit of the city prepared to bow before impending chaos.
MAIL ROOM ISSUES CALL FOR ZIP CODES

Announcement that all mail, except first class and air mail, which does not have zip codes included in its addresses will be returned to senders was included in a reminder issued by the college Mail Room last week. Cause for the crackdown on use of zip codes, according to the reminder, is the U.S. Post Office Department's regulation that the five number code be included in the address of all except first class and air mail. That requirement became effective January 1.

Also announced in the reminder was a request that all campus mail be sealed before being sent to the Mail Room.

ADDITIONAL COPIES OF JANUARY "C S C REVIEW" AVAILABLE

Additional copies of the January issue of The California State Colleges Review, which arrived on campus last week, are available in both the Faculty Reading Room of the Library and the Public Relations Office, Room 216, Administration Building. Those who did not receive copies when they were distributed via campus mail last week are invited to call or pick up one at either of these locations.

DEFENSIVE DRIVER TRAINING CLASSES SLATED THURSDAY, FRIDAY

The only defensive driver training classes to be offered during the Winter Quarter will be held Thursday and Friday (January 19-20) afternoons beginning at 3:30 p.m., in Room 123 of the Agricultural Engineering Building, according to an announcement issued last week by the Business Management Division.

Also included in the announcement is a reminder to department heads and supervisors that neither students nor member of the faculty and staff can drive state-owned vehicles without having successfully completed the defensive driver training program.

STUDENT MUSICIANS WILL PERFORM DURING COLLEGE HOUR CONCERT

Five musicians who are members of the Cal Poly student body will be featured performers for the College Hour Concert which will take place Thursday (January 19) beginning at 11:00 a.m., in the College Theater.

Twin pianists Tonya Schroeder and George Ferrell are scheduled to play numbers by both Clementi and Schumann, while Lois Fugate, also a pianist, will perform numbers by Schubert and Poulenc, a contemporary French composer. Also slated to play during the concert are Lou Wiens, a soprano, and clarinetist Virginia Wright.

Admission is free and the public is invited to attend the concert.

The California Council of Industrial Arts Teacher Educators held its quarterly meeting on campus last weekend (January 13-14). The council represents industrial arts faculty at the nine California State Colleges which have industrial arts departments. Some 20-25 persons attended the meetings, which were presided over by Wirt L. McLoney, a member of the San Diego State College faculty. J. M. McRobbie, head of Cal Poly's Technical Arts Department, was host for the meetings.
PARTY, FASHION SHOW HEAD LIST OF ACTIVITIES FOR CAL POLY WOMEN'S CLUB MEMBERS

At the top of the list of activities on tap for members of the Cal Poly Women's Club during the next few days are the annual Women's Club-Staff Club Party and a Family Fashion Show, scheduled by the club's Ways and Means Committee as its annual fund-raising event.

First to appear on the calendar is the Women's Club-Staff Club Party, which is being planned for 6:30 p.m., January 27, at Cassera's restaurant in Morro Bay. Arranged as a buffet dinner and dance, the affair will cost $5.00 per couple. Tickets, which must be purchased on or before next Tuesday (January 24), may be obtained from Mrs. Fred Steuck (543-4259), Mrs. John Steckman (544-0158), Mrs. J. Ordner Gibson (543-2565), Mrs. Russell Nelson (543-3585), and Mrs. J. M. McRobbie (543-8564), all members of the women's club. They may also be purchased on campus from Mrs. Rita Henry, General Office I, Room 110, Administration Building; Fred Steuck, head of the Electronic Engineering Department, Room 114C, Engineering East Building; John Steckman, Animal Husbandry Department; or J. Barron Wiley, Education Department, Room 16A, Business Administration and Education Building.

Fashions for the entire family will be shown during the fashion show, which will take place in the Gold Room of the Madonna Inn, San Luis Obispo, beginning at 8:00 p.m., February 11. In addition to the fashions provided by Riley's Department Store, San Luis Obispo, dessert will be served. Tickets priced at $2.75 each, may be purchased from any of the club's section chairmen or from Mrs. Roger Bailey (543-5616). Tables for four, at $12.00, or for six, at $18.00, may be reserved by calling Mrs. Bernard Dusek (544-1086). Tickets will also be on sale in the Ladies Ready to Wear Department at Riley's in downtown San Luis Obispo.

Home and Garden Section - Mrs. Evelyn Laughlin, a well-known China painter, will demonstrate her art during the meeting of the Home and Garden Section of the women's club, being planned for tomorrow (Wednesday, January 18) at the home of Mrs. David Montgomery, 101 Indio Drive, in the Sunset Palisades area. Those planning to attend the meeting, which will take place beginning at 10:00 a.m., are invited to make reservations by calling Mrs. William Boyce (544-0865).

Bridge Section - Next meeting of the CPWC's Bridge Section will be Monday (January 23) evening, beginning at 8:00 p.m., in Room 129 of the college Library.

Walking Group - A walk in Pismo Beach is on tap for members of the club's Walking Group during their meeting being planned for next Tuesday (January 24). Those planning to take part are invited to meet in the parking lot of the Williams Brothers Market, San Luis Obispo, at 9:00 a.m., to drive to the Pismo Beach area together.

Book, Music, and Art Section - Next Tuesday (January 24) is the date announced for the next meeting of the women's club's Book, Music and Art Section. Both the time and place for the meeting are yet to be announced.

Newcomers Section - Members of the Newcomers Section of CPWC are scheduled to meet January 25 for a work night. Time for the meeting, which will take place in Room 129 of the Library, will be 8:00 p.m. Planned for the evening are making of decorations for the Family Fashion Show being staged by the club's Ways and Means Committee.

MUSTANG CAGERS HOST PASADENA QUINTET; WRESTLERS MEET U C L A, OREGON

Contests scheduled for this week find both the Mustang varsity basketball and wrestling teams in action before hometown fans. First to do so will be Coach Stuart Chestnut's cagers who hope to return to the victory column when they host Pasadena College in a game scheduled for 8:00 p.m., tonight (Tuesday, January 17), in Men's Gymnasium. Coach Vaughan Hitchcock's grapplers wait until Friday, when they meet University of California at Los Angeles and University of Oregon in dual matches slated for 4:00 p.m. and 8:00 p.m., respectively, in Men's Gymnasium.

In other sports actions this week, the Mustang basketballers will be in the San Francisco area for a pair of weekend contests. They meet California State College at Hayward at 8:00 p.m., Friday, and San Francisco State College at 8:00 p.m., the following evening. Preliminary action for tonight's Cal Poly-Pasadena basketball game will find the Cal Poly Colts hosting Cuesta College beginning at 5:45 p.m.

PLACEMENT CALENDAR -- INTERVIEWS ON CAMPUS THIS WEEK

U.S. AIR FORCE RECRUITING TEAM. Sgt. Samuel McBride and Sgt. Delbert Whetstone will interview seniors in all majors for placement in the U.S. Air Force. They are particularly interested in discussing the pilot and navigator programs with eligible seniors and also the various Air Force engineering fields with engineering seniors. In addition, they will talk with seniors in business administration, applied arts and sciences regarding various officer administrative positions. (1/17)

MARQUARDT CORPORATION, Van Nuys. John Murray, personnel representative, and Steve Bell, technical representative, will interview seniors in aero and ME. (1/17-18)
