Student-Designed Device Allows Disabled Man to Compete in SLO Triathlon

Three Cal Poly students created a hydrodynamic watercraft to help 20-year-old Joseph Cornelius participate in the San Luis Obispo Triathlon with his father, a stunning accomplishment considering that Cornelius has cerebral palsy and can't control movement of his limbs. The father/son team have competed together in about 100 races, from 5Ks to marathons, but never in a triathlon because of the swimming component. Called the Aquabullet, the 6-by-4 foot flotation device allows Cornelius to lie on his stomach and see through a clear shield that protects his face while his father pulls him through the water. A trial run at the Rec Center attracted media attention from across the county. For highlights, see local coverage in the Tribune, network coverage from Fox News, and television coverage from major markets including Philadelphia and St. Louis. For post event coverage, see Team Joseph cross the finish line in the Tribune and comments from one of the student engineers on KEYT.

New Partnership Will Help Train Future Marketing Mavens

With the emphasis on big data and digital, mobile and social media, the field of marketing has become more dependent on technology and those who know how to use the platforms and information effectively. The Orfalea College of Business has developed a partnership with marketing software company Marketo to create data-centered curricula designed to help students develop core competencies necessary to prosper in a technology-based environment. To read more about the partnership, go to the Wall Street Journal's MarketWatch

Poly Sci Student Changes the Way CSU Buys Electronics

The CSU has adopted a plan that prevents the purchase of electronics made with "conflict materials," minerals mined in the Republic of Congo and sold to finance war efforts in the region. The plan was originally developed for Cal Poly by political science major Katie Hoselton, but her efforts have resulted in the strategy being implemented by the largest public university system in the world. For more on Hoselton and the ban, visit the KSBY website.

Mentoring Program in the Running for $10,000 'Your Favorite Charity' Contest

The Bakari Mentoring Program at Cal Poly has been chosen for the final round of the inaugural Your Favorite Charity contest sponsored by KSBY and PG&E. The Bakari Mentoring Program is a culturally sensitive and gender-specific prevention and intervention program for at-risk youth in San Luis Obispo County that helps participants successfully transition into adulthood. The program was one of 22 selected by a panel of judges from more than 120 nominations. The public can vote for the organization most deserving of the $10,000 grand prize at ksby.com through Friday, Aug. 1.

Faculty & Staff

Administration & Finance Announces Slate of New Appointments and Expanded Roles

The Administration & Finance Division (AFD) has announced a slate of new appointments and expanded roles for key management, including Leigh Ramirez, interim executive director for Facility Services; Lorie Leetham, Cal Poly Corporation interim executive director/associate vice president commercial services; Starr Lee, associate executive director of the Cal Poly Corporation; Brett Holman, interim director of Fiscal Services/university controller; Tammy Logan, student accounts manager; Lori Serna, payroll services manager; Marc Benadiba, associate controller; and Dru Zachmeyer, who has added risk and real estate management to his role, which is now director of Contracts & Procurement/Risk & Real Estate Management (formerly Contract and Procurement Services). Dave Carroll, former risk manager, has accepted a new position to develop a robust safety program for the campus and will report to the director of Environmental & Health Safety. For more information about the AFD appointments and expanded roles, visit the Cal Poly News website.

New Faculty Orientation Set for Sept. 12

The annual New Faculty Orientation will take place from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Friday, Sept. 12, on the second floor of Kennedy Library, next to Julian's Café. The event will include an opportunity to meet the provost and key support staff, connect with other new faculty, enjoy a catered lunch, complete important tasks (payroll paperwork, campus identification cards, etc.), and choose from sessions that offer essential information for starting your Cal Poly career. All new faculty (tenure-line and lecturers) hired in 2014 are invited, including those with winter, spring and fall quarter start dates. For more information, contact the Center for Teaching, Learning & Technology at ctl@calpoly.edu.

Faculty Workshop Offered Aug. 27 on Engaging the Co-Curricular

A workshop in how to connect courses to co-curricular opportunities will be offered from 9 a.m. to noon Wednesday, Aug. 27, in the Center for Teaching, Learning & Technology (CTLT). Breakfast will be provided. The workshop will include definitions and examples of Integrative Learning and High Impact Practices, using the Cross Cultural Center's fall programming as a launching point to write, revise and connect out-of-class learning experiences with in-class curriculum. Bring ideas, a working syllabus, and an eagerness to collaborate. For more information or reserve a seat, visit the CTLT website or contact Robin Parent at raparent@calpoly.edu.

CSU Fee Waiver Benefit Available

The fee waiver program provides eligible faculty, staff and management employees the opportunity to attend classes at CSU campuses at greatly reduced rates. The benefit may also be transferred to eligible dependents. For information regarding eligibility, guidelines, procedures and deadlines, visit the Administration & Finance website. For additional information, contact Terizza Miller at tmiller@calpoly.edu or ext. 6-7354.

Catastrophic Leave

Gareth McCain, groundsworker in Facility Services, has qualified for catastrophic leave. Those wishing to donate leave credits to help him remain in full-pay status during an extended leave of absence should contact catastrophic leave coordinator Laura McCarren at ext. 6-5212 or lmccarre@calpoly.edu to request a donation form.

Retirements

Tim Dugan, professor of scenic and lighting design for the Theatre & Dance Department, is retiring after 16 years of service. In addition to teaching scenic and lighting design, he also taught costume design and stagecraft and designed lighting and scenery for department productions. Dugan served as chair of the Theatre & Dance Department from 2006 until his retirement. Dugan has also provided design services to professional and semi-professional theater companies, including the Lake Tahoe Shakespeare Festival and Shakespeare Napa Valley. Dugan will continue to design professionally.

Kathy Dugan, a faculty member in the Theatre & Dance Department, is retiring after 11 years of service. She supervised the costume shop and taught costume design and other classes. She has applied her costuming skills to the Cal Poly-original "Black Cat Cabaret" and the Shakespearean classic "As You Like It," among others. Dugan has received awards for costume design from the Sacramento Area Regional Theatre Alliance and the Foothill Theatre Company in Nevada City, Calif. In retirement, Dugan will continue freelance design and fabric work.

In Memoriam

Bill Brown, AIA, founding head of the Construction Management (CM) Department, died on June 25. He came to Cal Poly in 1957, and in addition to teaching CM, taught architectural engineering and architecture. Brown retired in 1992 but remained an active member of the CAED Foundation and was awarded the George Hasslein Medal in 2012. A funeral service was held July 13.

Robert Valpey, professor and dean emeritus, passed away on April 12. The West Point grad served as dean of the College of Engineering from 1972-84. Valpey was a professional educator and engineer. He came to Cal Poly after serving as dean of the School of Engineering at Cal State Fullerton. He was also a member of the faculty at the U.S. Air Force Academy and taught at the U.S. Military Academy. As a professional engineer, he directed the Launch Vehicles Section and the Advanced Programs Section for the Space Systems Division of the U.S. Air Force Special Projects Office.

Student Successes

Math Student Selected for Summer Research Program

The National Institute for Mathematical and Biological Synthesis (NIMBioS) selected mathematics major John Shamshoian to attend the Summer Research Experience for Undergraduates and Teachers at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville (UTK). Shamshoian is one of 18 undergraduates and two high school teachers selected from across the U.S. to participate in the eight-week summer program. Undergraduate participants receive free housing, a stipend of $3,600, and up to $650 for travel to and from Knoxville. Participants work in teams with NIMBioS postdoctoral researchers and UTK faculty on research at the intersection of mathematics and biology. Projects include modeling Argentine ant super-colonies and tracking facial expressions and the conscious experience of emotion. For more information, visit the NIMBioS website.

Two Seniors Selected for Congressional Internship Program with Panetta

Institute for Public Policy

A pair of Cal Poly seniors are the university's 2014 representatives to the Panetta Institute for Public Policy's Congressional Internship Program. Jessica Burke, an industrial engineering major, and Yenifer Origel, a business administration major with a concentration in accounting, will spend two weeks in August training at the Panetta Institute, at Cal State Monterey Bay, followed by 11 weeks in Washington, D.C., working full time in the office of a congressional representative. They are among 26 students from around the Golden State taking part in the program. For more on the selection, see the Cal Poly website.

Students Build Vertical Garden in Downtown SLO

An interdisciplinary team of horticulture, landscape architecture and biology students built a vertical garden, or green wall, at Scout Coffee Co. in downtown San Luis Obsipo. Alumnus David Brenner (B.S., Environmental Horticultural Science, 2009), owner of Habitat Horticulture in San Francisco, donated the supplies for the garden. Students designed the garden and grew the plants during winter and spring quarters. The garden is visible from the street and the bar inside the coffee shop.

Youth Swim Lessons Offered at Recreation Center this summer

ASI is offering youth swim lessons at the Recreation Center this summer. Private and semi-private swim lessons are available Saturday mornings through Aug. 23 for children 12 months to 15 years. Sessions are 50 minutes and start at 10 a.m., 11 a.m. and noon. Private lessons are $40 per session, and semi-private lessons are $25 per child per session. Swim lessons include a same-day guest pass for the Rec Center. A parent or guardian must be a current Rec Center member at the time of purchase and time of lesson. Registration is available at the Rec Center front desk only; online, phone and mail-in registration are not available. For more information, call the Rec Center at ext. 6-1366 or email aquatics@asi.calpoly.edu.

2014 Biennial Sustainability Report for Facilities & Operations is Available

Facilities has produced the 2014 Biennial Sustainability Report for Facilities & Operations. Started in 2006, this is the campus' fifth biennial report. It highlights Facilities efforts, accomplishments and challenges as the department strives to be better stewards of the environment and natural resources. This year's report has an increased focus on student activities and the work of Cal Poly faculty. The report is available on the Administration & Finance website. Hard copies can be requested in any increment from one to a box of 80. To request copies, email Dennis Elliot at delliot@calpoly.edu.

Statistics Department Provides Consulting Service During Summer Quarter

The Statistics Department provides a statistical consulting service to the university community to facilitate research design and data analysis in a wide variety of disciplines. Consulting will be available Aug. 11-22 in Faculty Offices East (Building 25), Room 236. Walk-in hours are Mondays through Thursdays from 2 to 3 p.m. and Wednesdays 3 to 4 p.m. The consulting service is intended to support projects and research of faculty and staff and provide assistance for students working on senior projects and graduate research. Ulric Lund will serve as the consultant. He is available to advise on data collection, experimental design, and analysis of research projects. In addition, he will be available to lead seminars or tutorials on requested topics and offer advice on various computer packages available at Cal Poly. If there is a special area of statistical inference that is of interest to a group in your department, contact Lund to arrange possible lectures on that subject. Faculty, staff and students interested in utilizing the consulting service are encouraged to access the Statistics Department Web page for office hours and other information, including what you should bring to a consulting session. To schedule an appointment outside office hours, contact Lund at ext. 6-6122 or ulund@calpoly.edu.
