Cal Poly's Bakari Project Profiled in San Luis Obispo Tribune

SAN LUIS OBISPO -- Cal Poly's Bakari Project was featured Feb. 22 in the San Luis Obispo Tribune. The Bakari Project is a 52-week intervention program at Cal Poly for juvenile criminal offenders. It focuses on helping those at risk improve behavior, gain personal responsibility and steer clear of crime. The program, called the Bakari Project, is endorsed by the county's Anti-Gang Coordinating Commission and overseen by Cal Poly psychology professor Roslyn Caldwell. The program is funded by grant money from local agencies.
