Senior citizens need friends, too

By BEVERLY LANGLOIS

Senior citizens Margaret and Sarah have a special relationship. One of them has "adopted" the other. After having lived together in the same hospital, it's difficult to tell "adoptive" from "biological" families.

Sarah Mitchell is a former Cal Poly student from Laguna Beach. She is married with two grown sons and lives in the Cleveland, Ohio, area. Sarah and Margaret "adopted" each other last summer. Sarah began to realize the importance of relationships to older citizens, and she began to look for ways that she could help. Sarah met Margaret through a friend who introduced them to the Volunteer Beefy Community Services Association. She has been a volunteer at Cal Poly since last year, helping out with events and activities at the Continuing Education Department.

Sarah and Margaret have a special bond. They have a sense of connection and understanding that comes from shared experiences. "I tell you, I had a tough time when I was old," says Sarah. "I had no one to talk to."

Although being old with no one to talk to is a "normal" experience, it is not "normal" for everyone. Many older people, especially those who are in hospitals or nursing homes, may not have anyone to talk to. This is where volunteers like Sarah and Margaret come in. They help provide companionship and support to older people who may otherwise be isolated and lonely.

Plan may aid Poly education grads

By GAIL STEIGER

Daily Student Writer

The plan to aid Poly education graduates is a double job opportunity available from Cal Poly. It will provide employment for current students and potential employers. This plan will help Poly students find permanent employment and improve their skills.

The plan involves a study of the job market for Poly education graduates. The study will be conducted by a task force of faculty members and administrators. The task force will identify the skills and knowledge needed by potential employers and develop a plan to help Poly students gain these skills.

"Although the plan is still in its early stages," says Dr. L. W. Smith, Chair of the Poly Department, "we are confident that it will provide employment for Poly education graduates and improve their skills."

The plan will provide employment opportunities for Poly education graduates. Students will be placed in internships and jobs that will help them develop the skills and knowledge needed by potential employers. This will improve their employability and help them find permanent employment.

They said the job hunt is not easy and that they have encountered many obstacles. They believe that the plan will provide a valuable service to Poly education graduates and help them find permanent employment.

"We are excited about the plan and believe that it will provide employment opportunities for Poly education graduates," says Dr. Smith. "We are confident that it will be successful and help Poly education graduates find permanent employment."

Ags gather for conference

By RANDEY NORD

Daily News

If you've ever been to Cal Poly or Canada and have seen the student union, you know that both Cal Poly and Canada have a student union. At Cal Poly, the student union is called the Cal Poly Student Union, and at Canada, the student union is called the Canada Student Union.

Richard Benson, an expert on the marketing of food in the United States, who is an Agricultural Trade Specialist at the U.S. Department of Agriculture, said that the conference is not only for Canada students but also for people attending. The conference started today at 9 a.m. with an introduction by President Robert Kennedy, and it will continue throughout the day.

Daily concept is approved

Daily News

A proposal to make the daily concept the official daily newspaper of the university was approved by the Student Senate.

After two attempts by President Richard Benson and Keith Gurrola to schedule a vote, the Senate approved the proposal by a vote of 11 to 6 with 1 abstention.

The proposal, presented by Benson to the Senate, was opposed by President Robert Kennedy, but it was approved by the Student Senate.

The approval of the proposal was approved by the Student Senate.

ATHLETE OF THE WEEK

Bart Williams

Williams was the driving force behind the Cal Poly track team winning its fourth CCAA title last weekend in Bakersfield. The junior from Vallejo competed in four events, finished first in all four and set conference records in all four.

Williams set a conference and school records in winning the 200 meter dash, 20.1, and the 400 meter dash, 44.1. He also ran legs on Poly's victorious 400, (40.4) and 1600 (3:11.5) relay squads. Poly won its first conference championship since 1970 finishing with 113 points.

Tracksters gear up for nationals

By Tuesday night, sophomore Maggie Kayne and Kent Ronda will be on their way to Lawrence, Kansas, for a shot at the NCAA Track and Field nationals. Provided by the Mustangs' relay team, Kayne and Ronda will run the 100 meters and Kayne competed in the 4x400 meter relay which placed ninth in the finals.

"We have both really been working," said Ronda. "I've been working on a lot of big moves this year and that enabled us to gain the experience in running in big meets." Ronda's fastest time for the course is 11.55 while Kayne has clocked 12:04. Both claim they are hoping to finish in the top ten.

Attributing much of their success to the coaching they have gotten from the man's team, Ronda says that he hopes to see the men's team's names merge into one.

"I don't think Maggie and I would be running as well as we are if it hadn't been for the coaching we've gotten," Ronda said. "Coach Miller has helped us out a lot," she said.

"I don't think Maggie and I would be running as well as we are if it hadn't been for the coaching we've gotten," Ronda said. "Coach Miller has helped us out a lot," she said. "We've received as much attention as anyone on the men's team." The Student Senate has approved a contingency request of $645 to help finance the trip for the women's and men's track programs.

Frisbees will fly on Sunday

Ronda will be flying high on Sunday flying Frisbees for the boys at NMU. While the girls are not as focused as the boys, Ronda is sure to have a good time.

You shouldn't have to change banks every time you change lifestyles.

Graduation is one time you change lifestyles. But it's certainly not the only time.

It happens when you move. It happens when you get married. It happens when you have children, take a new job, and so on.

The point is, you shouldn't have to worry about changing banks every time it happens.

And if your bank is Bank of America, you might not have to worry at all.

For starters, with nearly twice as many locations as any other California bank, we're usually close by. If you're moving within California, it's easy to transfer your account to whichever branch is most convenient for you.

Next, we offer a wide range of checking plans to fit your changing needs. Like our All-in-One Checking Plan, with several services in one simple package, including Bank of America Travelers Cheques, commission-free when purchased at any of our California branches. We also offer loans for important needs that may crop up along the roads ahead. And BankAmericard Visa® and MasterCard® if you qualify, to give you ready credit when you need it. We give you a choice of saving plans, too. From Regular Savings Accounts to long-term, higher-yield Investor Passbooks and Certificates of Deposit.

Later on, whether you need trust services or safe deposit service, we can help you there, too. In fact, chances are whatever changes you make, Bank of America can probably help you make them easier.

We even have available for you a continuing series of free Consumer Information Reports, helpful guides on such financial matters as "How To Establish Credit," "Personal Money Planner," and "Ways To Save Your Money." They're available at all our branches to help you through some of the changes. So why not stop by and take a look today.

We serve more Californians than any other bank. And we'd like to serve you.
