Computer registration is soon to be a reality, but one question remains unanswered: Whose schedules will go into the computer first—will preregistration still exist? Different campus organizations have different answers to the question. The ASI has offered their solution in the form of Senate Bill 79-01, which grants preregistration privileges to 1,296 students, including four ASI officers and 26 senators. The bill was passed by student government last year. According to ASI bylaws, the bill remains in effect this year unless someone wants to make a change. "Officers and student government need preregistration in order to avoid scheduling problems," said ASI Vice President Jeff Land. "It's also a question of other senate work. They are required to put in time for him self and the president, so the computer is up to Mr. Holley," Land, who receives a salary of $150 per month, said. "I want the bill approved. I think we should display some kind of benefit for student senators."

Dean of Student Affairs Russ Brown works with preregistration requests. He said the Student Affairs Council needs to decide very soon about preregistration.

"Now the question is whether the ASI should get preregistration," said Brown. "The fact that students can block out and project time is a major change. With CAR, it's expected we'll be able to adjust sections easily enough."

Brown conveys the feeling that no student should have underscores privileges, except for the physically disabled, who must receive priority.

"My own feeling is that in fairness to the general student population we need to have at a minimum the number of students who get preregistration," said Brown. "I favor not having any."

With CAR, students are now able to project time, an advantage for those who must work in order to finance their education.

"Because a student works in ASI they shouldn't get special benefits. In the long run, the student body is going to be served better by minimizing the number of exceptional cases," said Brown. "The priority of what goes into the computer is up to Mr. Holley."

"The whole thing is still under consideration," said Gerald Holley, Director of Admissions, Records and Evaluations. "Whether or not the ASI gets priority, or the athletes do, or the people that milk the cows, I don't know.

Holley said the ASI made a recommendation, Bill 79-01, that represents students' opinion. The registration and scheduling committee will also come up with a proposal.

"I assume it will eventually go to Vice President (Hazel) Jones," said Holley, and she will eventually discuss it with the president.

Holley was asked what he thought the probable order of students entering the computer would be.

"We know disabled students are probably going into the computer first. Probably new students are going to be next and they'll get a pretty good schedule. Next, probably seniors and grads and then the rest of the students in the same alphabetical rotation that's been used for years and years."

"At this point I don't think the university's going to change its philosophy about new students, seniors and grads. Different people make different recommendations. The ASI is supposed to represent what the students want.

"I agree with bill 79-01," said Brian Scott, senator for the School of Communication Arts and Humanities. "We have eight to nine hours per week in meetings alone. Especially with a computer, you mark off time, but the more you block off, the less of a chance you have for getting classes."

"My sentiments and the feeling running around the School of Architecture and Environmental Design is no preregistration for anyone but the people that milk the cows, I think," said John DeAngelis, senator for that school.

See Registration, page 4

The shooting of Dr. Norman Alexander: one year later

On a gray, rainy day one year ago today, gunshots were fired in a distant parking lot on the Cal Poly campus. Those shots resulted in the death of Library Director Dr. Norman Alexander. Alexander, 49, was found unconscious and lying next to his car in the H-2 parking lot near Pepper Lane and Highland. He was pronounced as dead at approximately 9 a.m. that Monday. Alexander was taken to Sierra Vista Hospital where he was listed in critical condition in the intensive care unit. After questioning witnesses, University Police and San Luis Obispo County Sheriff's department began searching for two male suspects seen arguing with the librarian moments before the shooting. No motive for the incident had been established.

Within hours after the first shooting in Cal Poly's 78-year history, news of the happening spread throughout the campus. Students and faculty members were shocked. By Wednesday, Jan. 17, police said the suspect list was narrowing. On the same day, Alexander was pronounced neurologically dead.

Thursday morning, Holley was asked what he thought the probable order of students entering the computer would be.

"The suspects were transported to the San Luis Obispo County Jail by Cal Poly police and San Diego police. The suspects were then taken into custody and were charged with first degree murder."

On July 3, 1979, Howell Pettrey Harris, 54, and his son, Howell Henry Harris, 17, both of Pismo Beach, were convicted of first degree murder. The husband and son of Cal Poly library employee Mary Harris, the two were arrested by San Diego police when they returned a rented truck to an agency lot. Mary Harris had been a library employee since 1969 but had not worked since November.

The suspects were transported to the San Luis Obispo County Jail by Cal Poly police and San Diego police. The suspects were then taken into custody and were charged with first degree murder. The husband and son of Cal Poly library employee Mary Harris, the two were arrested by San Diego police when they returned a rented truck to an agency lot. Mary Harris had been a library employee since 1969 but had not worked since November.

The suspects were transported to the San Luis Obispo County Jail by Cal Poly police and San Diego police. The suspects were then taken into custody and were charged with first degree murder. The husband and son of Cal Poly library employee Mary Harris, the two were arrested by San Diego police when they returned a rented truck to an agency lot. Mary Harris had been a library employee since 1969 but had not worked since November.

The suspects were transported to the San Luis Obispo County Jail by Cal Poly police and San Diego police. The suspects were then taken into custody and were charged with first degree murder. The husband and son of Cal Poly library employee Mary Harris, the two were arrested by San Diego police when they returned a rented truck to an agency lot. Mary Harris had been a library employee since 1969 but had not worked since November.
See you later, Moscow

Soviet intentions and the thrust of their military forces upon Afghanistan has aroused American feelings toward the USSR — a long standing hatred and cautious awareness of Soviet motives in the world. And now the United States must organize, establish and cohesively group together and respond to USSR action.

Hostages have been held by students in Iran for nine weeks and President Carter has now shifted his attention from that problem to that of the Soviet Union. The purge in Afghanistan by Soviet troops during the stifling hostage hold-out has grabbed President Carter’s attention and his immediate plans to settle one conflict before the other.

The president feels the U.S. should let the Soviet Union recognize our disfavor with the Russian blanket over Afghanistan. We must establish our relations with Russia based on their military bullying.

The Carter Administration must cut off commitments and trading agreements with the Soviet Union. Commitments include the Olympic Games in Moscow where American athletes should not participate — a boycott of the games.

We should express a desire to halt all dealings with the Soviets including involvement this summer in the games at Moscow. Carter should end three years of unanswered weapons curtailment questions, record grain sales and liberalized technology transfers.

Boycotting the games would not adequately be, in itself, a response to the invasion of Afghanistan, but the U.S. cannot continue its present "normal relationship." Some people may disagree because they believe the Olympics should not be a political tool. But we should learn from the Iranian hostage play — to wake, act promptly and according to our intentions and not tiptoe past another international problem which is confronting the United States.

Athletes should not see Moscow after the Soviets clean it up for the world to see. The U.S. cannot stop the Olympics by itself, but Americans will deprive the Soviets of some of the glamour they want as badly as any athlete wants a gold medal. By boycotting, the U.S. will not partake in letting the USSR do what they want to do by staging the Olympics; putting a human face on an inhuman system, as columnist George F. Will says.

He warns that the Olympics, which are big business for a few and mere amusement for millions, will be a propaganda bonanza for the Soviets if we let them be. If we do, we will confirm the Soviet belief in our pursuit of amusement to the point of deterioration.

Letters

ASI update

Editors:

The present ASI administration has now finished its first full quarter. During this quarter there have been numerous important projects we have dealt with. The purpose of this letter is to inform everyone of a few of the most prominent.

I personally have been giving my special attention to three of these projects. The first and most pressing is the proposed $34,000 cut from the Instructionally Related Activities general funds. These are state funds which have previously gone to things like athletics, music, debate and KCPR. I will be working closely with administrative personnel to find alternate sources of funding for these important programs. We desperately need student support in opposition to Jarvis 11 which would cut state income tax in half — thus insuring a substantial tuition at Cal Poly.

My second project is the proposed shortening of the drop period from three weeks to two weeks. I have already sent a strong memo in opposition to the proposal as well as a student senate resolution stating the same position, to all members of the Student Affairs Council and the President, who will ultimately make the decision.

My third project will be proposed adjustments in the present dorm contract. This undertaking I have been working on since early last year with my goal being to make the dorm contract as close to an apartment contract as possible.

Other projects the ASI will continue to pursue include Tony Kratz’s idea to poll 500 randomly selected students on their opinions on athletics and alcohol. Both of which we will take positions on in accordance with student opinion. Ron Scholtz, our external affairs assistant is working closely with city in pursuit of closer relations and the feasibility of a fraternity row. Neal Meyers, one of our internal affairs advisors, is working toward the acquisition of academic minors and university compliance with the new Title IX definition. Jeff Shapiro, the other internal affairs advisor is working closely with the Foundation and currently pursuing getting a student voting member on the Foundation Board.

Finally, there are many other projects that we are working on and many positions which still need to be filled. So stop by UU 217A and fill out an application.

Sincerely,
Rose Kratz
ASI President
Student project focuses on food waste

California's first nutrition education project is being directed by Cal Poly's Dr. Jenell Ciak and funded with $19,653 grant from the State Department of Education.

One of 153 state-funded nutrition programs, the project will develop a model curriculum that can be used at the university level to train people to direct nutrition projects in public schools.

The project is directed at combating what Ciak calls the "plate waste" problem prevalent in schools nationwide.

A person trained as a nutrition education specialist under Ciak's supervision will develop a model curriculum that can be used at the university level to train people to direct nutrition projects in public schools.

After Ciak submits the plan, it must be okayed by the Nutrition Education Board before adoption by any colleges or universities interested in providing comparable nutrition education.

People who have a background in home economics and training in universities for training nutrition specialists, Clark hopes for the model guidelines to be utilized within three years because of the demand for nutrition specialists.
Dietetics meeting

The Dietetics Club is holding a potluck Mexican dinner and a monthly meeting with guest speaker Marjorie White R.N., U.C.'s Dietetic Internship Director, at the home of Dana Thomas, 86 Los Palos, Jan. 17 at 6:30. Sign up on the DFA bulletin board. For more information, call 541-6750.

ASI films

ASI Films will present "Monty Python and the Holy Grail." Jan. 16, at 6 and 9:15 p.m. in Chumash Auditorium. $1 admission.

NRM meeting

A Natural Resources Management meeting discussing winter activities and a Baja slide show, will be held Thursday, Jan. 17 at 11 a.m. in Science Building Room B-5. For more information, call 544-7775.

Horticulture

The Ornamental Horticulture Club is sponsoring a meeting discussing OH and its major problems with guest speaker David Shinoda from San Lorenzo Nursery Co, Wednesday, Jan. 16, in Science E-27 at 7:30 p.m. For more information, call 541-5193.

Dance class

A beginning square dance class offered by the Holy Twisters will be held in the Cal Poly Square Bar, Thursday, Jan. 16 at 7:30 p.m. Partners are supplied and the first lesson is free. For more information, contact Bill Kittleson (641-4096) or George Cussman (644-9720).

Alpha Zeta

Alpha Zeta is holding a meeting to plan winter activities Wednesdays, January 16 at 7:30 p.m. in the Ag building Room 226.

Nutrition

Interested in losing weight? Gaining weight? Vegetarian diets? Nutrition counsel by the Health Center's Nutrition Education Program, is now under way at the Health Center, Monday through Friday, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. For more information, call 546-1211.

Rose Float

Any interested students in joining the Rose Float, Banner, which disappeared from the upper railing of the UIU Plateau last year, will be appreciated by the Rose Float Club. Information can be left in box #185 in the Activities Planning Center, Jan. 15 at 7:30 p.m. in Science North Room 213. For more information, call 577-6450.

Student senate

The School of Engineering and Technology has one senate seat available. Students who wish to apply must have a 2.0 GPA and will be required to attend the Engineering and Technology Council meeting on Monday, Jan. 15 in 641-1644. The election will be held at their Jan. 21 meeting.

Safety

All persons who plan to shop for equipment at any time are required to attend the Equipment Operator's Safety Program, scheduled for Friday, Jan. 18, in the Agricultural Engineering Shop. Those who attended one of the initial safety programs last year can attend the yearly update session at 1 p.m. and new operators can attend an initial program session at 2 p.m. At this time, all attendees are required to attend the Safety Program, scheduled for Friday, Jan. 18, in the Agricultural Engineering Shop. Those who attended one of the initial safety programs last year can attend the yearly update session at 1 p.m. and new operators can attend an initial program session at 2 p.m. At this time, all attendees are required to attend the Safety Program.

Tay-Sachs

A important meeting for all Tay-Sachs Program volunteers will be Thursday, Jan. 17 at 11 a.m. in Science North, Room 201. For more information, call 544-8009.

Poly Royal

A meeting for all Biology students interested in contributing to this year's Poly Royal display will be held Jan. 16 at 11 a.m. in Science North, Room 201. For more information, call 544-8009.

Registration

From page one

"I think something is going to be done about 79-01, a new bill will be introduced. I think it will be replaced. I'm opposed to special interest groups receiving special benefits," said DeAngila.

Nancy Brons, accountant for the School of Business, said she supports the bill. "I'm really pleased with it. I talked with Brian Jarvis, and he said there will be a full background on how it was about organizing the bill."

Brian Jarvis drew up the bill last year. The matter was debated in the student senate spring quarter of 1979.

Brian said the committee went to each of the organizations and the campus that asked, "Do you need early registration? Naturally, most of them said yes," said Brian. The committee then created an academic committee that was in charge of organizing this bill. It worked with the committee. Their conclusion was that the academic committee decided to let the academic committee do it.

Brian said, "You have to remember that when early registration came along, not everybody takes advantage of it. Because they qualify under something else. I get early registration two times over because I'm on UUBG and probably will be again. Brons was implying that the pre-registration number of 1,126 students may be inflated and inaccurate.

The registration office of the Student Senate was to have the computer registration for several years, however they did not allow registration for student government.

In a conversation with the Associated Students office of San Jose State, representative Jose Warren said, "Our registration system is all new. Since this student senators just black out three hours Wednesday nights when we have student senate meetings."

"I'm really curious to see how this system will work when participation doubles," said Nick Foresi, Finance Chairman.

We've been studying the financial situation of the Associated Students. And our Consumer Information Report is now easier for you to get, too.

These helpful pamphlets cover a wide variety of services you'll need, including "Baseball at Cal Poly," a useful guide on baseball for those interested in the sport. And our Consumer Information Report, our most convenient service. It's the latest edition to be sure you're up to date about the student banking.

It's available to students and everyone else in the community.

And through our Money, Convenience System™ we offer a wide variety of services. The most useful, including College Plan\dollar, checking for just $1.00 a month the first month. (After that only 35 cents.) Instant Cash, to help you establish credit while you're still in school.

BANK OF AMERICA
Equal opportunity is the aim of Baker and new committee

BY TOM KINISLOVING
Daily Bell Writer

Scanning the multitude of white faces daily going from class to class, most would realize there is an almost complete Caucasian faculty and student body at San Luis Obispo.

Poly administration statistics show minorities in the faculty population last year were outnumbered 1836 to 237 by Caucasian instructors. There are about 3,000 minority students and approximately 12,969 white students.

When Warren Baker became president last fall, two concerned minority faculty groups approached him for a discussion on the issue. Together, Baker the Chicago Coordination Council and the Concerned Black Community conceived the plan to establish the Equal Opportunity Advisory Council.

"The president really expects the council to be effective and stay on top of Affirmative Action," says Larry Voss, who called the 20-member committee inefficient. The two past chairmen of the now defunct committee were "preoccupied" with their own jobs as administrators and hence, Little was achieved, according to Voss.

The primary function of the Equal Opportunity Council, which is an advisory body to the President, is to bring about "improvements and revisions in policy and practice needed to insure equal opportunity for all individuals with the scope of approved campus programs."

Concreteiy, this involves devising ways to increase minority student applications to Cal Poly. Because of the improved structure of the council such as being elevated from the status of a committee, this gives the group "recognition" and a "standing with much more weight," Voss said.

Two Mexican students will serve on the 11-member council, which consists of three blacks, three whites, one Oriental and two other Hispanics, all faculty members. Another major advantage is that the council's chairperson will be a voting member of President Baker's own council.

The council will be comprised of two subcommittees, student and employee, who will meet monthly. Meetings with President Baker will take place three times a year.

With special guest Rick Derringer

Biology extension deals with otters

The biology and natural history of the sea otter will be studied in a Cal Poly Extension course, Sea Otters and the Ecology of Marine Communities, scheduled to begin Thursday, Jan. 24.

Lectures will focus on the ecology of coastal marine communities inhabited by sea otters in Central California and Alaska.

Pregistration is required by Jan. 17.
Sports

Wrestlers take three meets, making record 8-1

BY DAVE BONTA

Daily Staff Writer

Cal Poly's wrestling team continued to demonstrate why it is ranked third in the nation as it rolled past 25th-ranked Temple University 36-12 Thursday night in the Main Gym. The 472 fans in attendance must have initially wondered if they would actually see any wrestling activity. The first three matches ended in rather unspectacular fashion, with none of the contest going the distance. In the 118 and 136-pound classes the decisions were determined by forfeit. The Mustang's Gary Fischer and Chris Cain ended up as benefactors of the free victories.

The 126-pound match did not go the entire three periods either. Cal Poly wrestler Robert Arata was forced to default because of illness in the final period, thus giving Temple's Steve Gifuni the win. However, the evening matches created the expected action, and two unexpected upsets.

In the 150 and 190-pound divisions, Cal Poly wrestlers came up with clutch performances to turn back two nationally-ranked opponents. The 150-pound contest was an intensely fought battle, which at times appeared to be moving in fast motion. Mustang Randy Flurry came back from an early deficit to defeat fourth-ranked Doug Partin 8-4.

The other upset involved Cal Poly's 190-pounder Joe Davis. Davis, though not gaining an actual victory, did gain a moral one as he tied Brian Gaffney 6-6.

The contest was characterized by slow play. Several controversies by freshman Luis Montez were disputed. Both coaches accused the Tiger's coach Tom Milovich of disbelief of the score, by using the Tiger's calls.

The contest was close, 18-14, with the lead changing hands several times. Gary Fisher, 21-2, for the season, started the scoring with a 9-1 decision over 118-pound Tony Leon in overtime. Legendary Pat Lovell was the referee.

After Flurry's win, the Mustangs' 8-1 score held until the 134-pound division, where Randy Fleury, 10-2, started a big 11-4 victory over David Miller. Fleury is No. 1 in the nation at 134.142.

Fleury, 10-2, started the Mustangs' come-from-behind win with a big 11-4 victory. Craig Troxler, 17-2, also contributed a big win over Rick Worel followed with 7-4, 16-5 and 11-1 decisions, respectively. The four victories put the score out of reach of the hungry Tigers, who won the last two bouts.

Boeing will be here within the next two weeks. So sign up for your interview today in the Placement Office.

Then we can tell you in person about all the opportunities you'll have to work with us.

If this time is inconvenient for you, just write us: The Boeing Company, P.O. Box 3707 VPS Seattle, WA 98124.

An equal opportunity employer.

If you're about to graduate with an engineering or computer science degree, we'd like to talk to you about your future.

Will it be in commercial jetliners? We're building two new planes — the 767 and 757. While the orders for 757s, 737s and 747s keep coming from all over the world.

Perhaps you'd like to get into the aerospace field. God knows what projects going on you can shake a calculator at.

Whatever path you take at Boeing, you'll enjoy living in Seattle — one of America's most beautiful cites.

Boeing will be here on campus soon.

Boeing will be here within the next two weeks. So sign up for your interview today in the Placement Office.

Then we can tell you in person about all the opportunities you'll have to work with us.

If this time is inconvenient for you, just write us: The Boeing Company, P.O. Box 3707 VPS Seattle, WA 98124.

An equal opportunity employer.

Cal Poly, 8-1, will end its five-game home stand at 8 p.m. against Ball State in the Main Gym.

Sports

Wrestlers take three meets, making record 8-1

BY BARRY SHORTZ

Sports Editor

The Cal Poly wrestling team made a clean sweep on the weekend, defeating Brigham Young University 30-18 Friday night and Auburn University 19-14 Sunday afternoon in the Main Gym.

The two victories kept the Mustang winning streak alive at eight, raising the season record to 8-1.

The Mustangs, ranked No. 3 in the nation, had their hands full against unranked BYU and 15th-ranked Auburn. Before the Friday night game, Mustang coach Vaughn Hitchcock said he would go with his best available lineup against the tough BYU team that defeated No. 16-ranked Oregon State.

Mustangs Gary Fisher, No. 3 in the nation, normally wrestles at 118 pounds but wrestled at 126 pounds for the Friday bout. He had no problem with his opponent Ed Strohn in a 11-5 decision.

BYU took an early 13-2 lead when the Mustangs forfeited the 118-pound division, and Lee Stratton of BYU upset Chris Cain. Cain, who boasts Stratton earlier in the Boise State Tournament, was wearing a bandage over an injured elbow and Stratton made good use of it.

The Mustangs, ready for a fight, bounced back with an impressive 7-2 victory over No. 16-ranked Auburn, at 142 pounds.

Cal Poly then came on strong with wins by All-American Scot Brayson and heavyweight David Jack. Rick's win showed Mort Curtiss of BYU why he is No. 1 in the nation at 217 pounds, with a 7-3 win. Joe Davis made it four-out-of-four, by defeating his opponent, 11-4.

Final score: Cal Poly 30, BYU 15.

Before entering Sunday's meet against No. 15 Auburn, the Mustangs had wrestled three tough meets in the previous four days.

The contest was characterized by slow play. Several controversies by Pat Lovell were disputed. Both coaches accused the Tiger's coach Tom Milovich of disbelief of more than one of Lovell's calls.

The game was close, 18-14, with the lead changing hands several times. Gary Fisher, 21-2, for the season, started the scoring with a 9-1 decision over 118-pound Tony Leon in overtime. Legendary Pat Lovell was the referee.

After Flurry's win, the Mustangs' 8-1 score held until the 134-pound division, where Randy Fleury, 10-2, started a big 11-4 victory over David Miller. Fleury is No. 1 in the nation at 134.142.

The contest was characterized by slow play. Several controversies by freshman Luis Montez were disputed. Both coaches accused the Tiger's coach Tom Milovich of disbelief of the score, by using the Tiger's calls.

The contest was close, 18-14, with the lead changing hands several times. Gary Fisher, 21-2, for the season, started the scoring with a 9-1 decision over 118-pound Tony Leon in overtime. Legendary Pat Lovell was the referee.

After Flurry's win, the Mustangs' 8-1 score held until the 134-pound division, where Randy Fleury, 10-2, started a big 11-4 victory over David Miller. Fleury is No. 1 in the nation at 134.142.

The contest was characterized by slow play. Several controversies by freshman Luis Montez were disputed. Both coaches accused the Tiger's coach Tom Milovich of disbelief of the score, by using the Tiger's calls.

The contest was characterized by slow play. Several controversies by freshman Luis Montez were disputed. Both coaches accused the Tiger's coach Tom Milovich of disbelief of the score, by using the Tiger's calls.

The contest was characterized by slow play. Several controversies by freshman Luis Montez were disputed. Both coaches accused the Tiger's coach Tom Milovich of disbelief of the score, by using the Tiger's calls.
RAIDERS STILL EYE LA

OAKLAND, (AP) — Al Davis talked of his loyalty to Oakland—and also of tentative plans for operating in the Los Angeles Coliseum should he move the Oakland Raiders south.

"I think our record speaks for itself. We have a tremendous loyalty to our fans and to our community," the Raiders managing general partner said Sunday while giving his side of the dispute between the National Football League team and the Oakland Coliseum.

As for his personal loyalty to the Raiders, which he joined in 1963 as head coach and general manager, Davis said, "In 1972,方案 Hilton wanted to buy the Los Angeles Rams, if I'd run the team for him, I could have gone then.

Davis is talking about the possibility of leaving now because he feels Oakland Coliseum management is being unreasonable in refusing to commit itself, in a new lease, to improvements sought by the Raiders.

Davis was asked Sunday if he was concerned about the NFL rule requiring 21 team owners' voters to approve franchise moves.

"Everybody played reasonably well, but it's hard to play your best against a weak team," he said.

The women's next home game will be Friday, Jan. 25 at 7 p.m. in the Main Gym against UC Irvine.
UNITED NATIONS (AP) — The General Assembly, expressing overwhelming disapproval Monday night of the Soviet Union's military intervention in Afghanistan, voted on the resolution with 130 in favor, 18 against and 18 abstentions.

The stunning rebuke to the Soviet Union, which opposes the resolution, followed a similar resolution in the Security Council.

The Assembly vote came after four days of a tense debate called after the 169-nation UN Security Council action.

Lining up against the Soviets were the vast majority of Moslem and Communist nations.

Nuclear self-policing planned

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — The president of an organization of companies that operate nuclear power plants says the industry will soon begin a self-policing program that goes beyond meeting government safety regulations.

"Three Mile Island taught us that meeting the government's regulations does not give adequate assurance of prevention of accidents," said Bill Lee, chairman of Nuclear Power Operators.

Lee, president of the new Institute for Nuclear Power Operations, said the organization would have inspectors who evaluate a company's program that goes beyond the government's regulations.

In making the announcement last week, Lee said the inspectors will begin certifying the performance of the nation's 79 nuclear plants in about two years.

He said it has not decided whether to make the public the evaluation reports and name the plants that fail to pass but that Duke Power will make public its evaluation reports.

Date set for Corona retrial

OAKLAND (AP) — Juan Corona, charged with the 1971 backing deaths of 25 Itinerant farm laborers, will be retried in Alameda County Superior Court on April 26, a judge ruled Monday.

In a pre-trial hearing, Superior Court Judge Robert Patton set the retrial date on Tuesday for Juan Corona, who was retried from special prosecutor Robert Fahey, now a private attorney who was hired as a special

Chaplains' requisites changed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Protestant chaplains in state prisons no longer must be seminary graduates, a state Personnel Board says.

The board has endorsed a staff proposal that erases the requirement.

Violent tornado hits Turlock

TURLOCK (AP) — A violent tornado roared through Turlock Monday afternoon, skidding over the main city streets, wrecking what police called "extensive damage" during its brief, violent voyage.

"It damaged buildings, cars, our sewer facility a little bit, and one elderly woman," said Turlock police Sgt. Charles Holmes.

Located in the San Joaquin Valley, Turlock is about 100 miles east of San Francisco.

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Two-year FBI investigation of former Lt. Gov. Marvin Dynally didn't find enough evidence to warrant criminal charges, says U.S. attorney's office in Los Angeles.

Dynally, who blames his 1976 defeat by Republican Mike Curb in part on reports of the FBI probe, issued a bitter statement after being told that he had been cleared of wrongdoing.

"I feel that my integrity and character have now been vindicated, and I find some consolation in that," he said.

"But I find no compensation for the economic losses I have suffered, nor for the psychological anguish to which my family and I have been subjected.

Dynally has entered the Democratic primary for the 1st Congressional District seat now held by Charles Wilson, D-Los Angeles.

U.S. Attorney Andrea Ordin confirmed Monday that she had sent a letter to Dynally's lawyer, Edward Harby, saying the investigation had been ended and that there was "insufficient evidence to warrant criminal prosecution."

Among subjects reported to have been investigated were Dynally's involvement in a prepaid health plan while he was sponsoring legislation on such plans, his investment in a real estate business that came under federal scrutiny, and allegations that a religious group offered him $10,000 in return for urging a legislative investigation of government harassment of the group.

Unleashed Russia aggression

Bulgaria's leader said the U.S. rebukes Russian aggression over the invasion of Afghanistan. He also told U.S. officials how the Soviet military invasion was planned.

"The eyes were closed and he was taking oxygen," Bleedon said.

Durante, who had been reported in fair condition, was wounded since the weekend, said hospital spokeswoman Marsha Bolyanatz.

"There is a deterioration in vital signs from the weekend," she said.

"Progressive pulmonary condition remains serious," Bleedon said.

Bledon said close family and friends had visited the ailing comedian in his private room.

"Jerry and Patt£ Lewis came up, Danny Thomas, Peter Lawford's been there—and of course his wife Marjorie and adopted daughter Coce," Bleedon said.

Meanwhile, Ms. Bolyanatz said friends and fans have been flooding the hospital with cards, letters and telephone calls.

"We've been receiving phone calls nationwide and also some international phone calls," she said.

"There were 50 to 75 a day over the weekend."