ASI Student Government Sponsoring President and Vice President Team Candidate Forum

Associated Students, Inc. student government is sponsoring a public forum for all ASI executive candidates April 24, in Chumash Auditorium from 7 to 8 p.m.

During the town hall-style forum candidates will have the opportunity to state their platforms and express their views on campus issues to which audience members will be encouraged to ask questions.

The forum will offer students a chance to size-up the contenders in this year's ASI executive election. This will be the first election under the new "ticket" system, in which students vote for a president and vice president team.

Previously the elected president would choose his/her vice president after the elections were complete.

The four tickets running this year are comprised of a wide range of potential student advocates, from varying colleges and with a wide range of platforms and ideas. They Are: Jake Parnell, agriculture, and Kaitlin Arrers, business; Meital Manzuri and Gabe Carbujal, liberal arts; Andrew Hunt, engineering, and Leigh Love, agriculture; and Alison Anderson and Wendy Martin, engineering.

"This is a great opportunity for students to get to know their next president and vice president," said ASI President Angie Hacker, who will open the forum.

The moderator for this event will be Cal Poly Young Democrats President John Brison, a political science student, who has made several appearances on local television talk shows discussing political issues.
