ASI considers bill to establish committee for ethnic relations

By Kelli Martin
Staff Writer

A bill proposing the establishment of a Cultural Relations Committee at Cal Poly was received favorably by the ASI Board of Directors Wednesday, although discussion sparked arguments concerning the makeup of the committee.

The bill states that ASI recognizes the need for diversity within the university population and that multicultural sensitivity and awareness should be a vital component in higher education.

It also formally recognizes that Cal Poly's cultural and ethnic clubs play a unique and significant role in enhancing multicultural perspectives of the university community.

Although ASI has been chided in recent meetings by various cultural clubs about club funding, Franklin Harris, ASI executive vice president, said, "This bill is not a reaction to the cultural clubs who came in here during the Finance (Committee) budget decisions ... and in getting educational equity programs rolling at Cal Poly. We've been working..."

See ASI, page 8

Drink like a sissy, drive like a stud

■ McLintock's, CHP promote designated driver program.

By Tracy Condron
Staff Writer

"Drink like a sissy, drive like a stud," is the new slogan at all four F. McLintock's Saloons and Dining Halls as they participate in the Designated Driver Program sponsored by local law enforcement.

McLintock's in Shell Beach hosted a press conference in cooperation with county law enforcement officials on Thursday for the media and other restaurants to learn more about the program.

The Designated Driver Program is for bars, restaurants, greek activities, private parties or any other event which involves alcohol.

See DRIVER, page 6

Council repeals land resolution

By Shea Roberts
Staff Writer

The City Council voted Tuesday to give itself the authority to consider several huge tracts of land for annexation.

In a 3-2 vote, the council repealed the 1989 resolution barring consideration of annexation requests until the update of the General Plan was complete. Council members Peg Pinard and Bill Roalman were the dissenting votes.

The council originally passed this resolution so they could decide how vacant land in and around the city would be used before considering the addition..."
LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Welcome home Gulf troops

First of all, I would like to welcome home the hundreds of thousands of troops from the Persian Gulf. It is encouraging to see our great nation as a whole attempt to right the atrocities committed during the Vietnam era. I speak not of the thousands of Americans that were killed in battle, but rather the utterly disgusting actions of the Americans at home. It is quite embarrassing to see video tapes, news footage, etc. of war protesters abusing the soldiers. I suppose the greatest amount of damage was done to the Vietnam vets in the way they were per­secuted in everyday life upon returning from home. In hindsight, it is quite obvious that it became "popular" to protest against the war, and, consequently, protest against the "warriors." It is embar­rassing that the people of America (with one of the highest literacy rates in the world) could be so blatantly ignorant in not having the capacity to differentiate be­tween the two issues. Let me also state that I am not sup­porting the decision to become involved in the Vietnam con­flict nor am I condemning it. It is too easy for me or anyone to look back now and say it was a bad idea to even be there. Hindsight is 20/20.

With the conclusion of this war, it is refreshing to see the American populace support­ing the troops of our latest military endeavor. It is also encouraging to see war protesters' signs support the troops even if they disapproved of the war. Although it must be mentioned that once again, I fear that the masses are being swayed by the "popular" opinion. Fortunately, this time we won the war and support of the fighting is the popular opinion. With regards to such issues as sup­port for the troops, this proves to be inexplicably benefi­cial, but I argue that we as a nation must not lose all rationale as we gain intense patriotism.

This concern came to a head last weekend when I turned on the television and saw tanks and missiles parading through downtown Los Angeles. I was utterly em­barrassed that a presumably intelligent, for­ward-thinking nation could revert to such sophomoric practices as parading our weapons of destruction through the street of our major cities. It was reminiscent of a socialist or, God for­bid, soviet propaganda parade. I fear that we have lost all conscience. How quickly we forget that these "fabulous" machines have just caused untold deaths in the world. I believe that we would see the weapons in a much different light if, as they were paraded, the bodies of the dead were draped with the bodies of the deceased. A morbid thought, but what will it take for the people of America to regain their con­science?

Once again ... welcome home troops.

Steve Holley
Landscape Arch

COMMENTARY

'This girl really wanted to die'

By Julie Rogers

It was early Friday morning.
I knew that party time was coming soon.
I made a couple of calls to my friends, of which, Friday night, my company I would lend.

We made a plan.
At eight o'clock we would start drinking.
Now isn't that a shock?
We all met sober.
Is right!
No plans were made of who would drive at the end of the night.

"We will decide later,"
a common phrase was lent.
All well knowing by 1 a.m. our minds would be bent.
I drove to the bar.
Although to walk would not have been far.
It is just easier to drive there.
When it comes time to leave, a coin flip will be fair.
I wanted to die on my Friday night out.

"Who would be the driving dweeb?"
I knew that party time was coming soon.
I made a couple of calls to my friends, of which, Friday night, my company I would lend.

We made a plan.
At eight o'clock we would start drinking.
Now isn't that a shock?
We all met sober.
Is right!
No plans were made of who would drive at the end of the night.

"We will decide later,"
a common phrase was lent.
All well knowing by 1 a.m. our minds would be bent.
I drove to the bar.
Although to walk would not have been far.
It is just easier to drive there.
When it comes time to leave, a coin flip will be fair.
I wanted to die on my Friday night out.

"Who would be the driving dweeb?"
I knew that party time was coming soon.
I made a couple of calls to my friends, of which, Friday night, my company I would lend.

We made a plan.
At eight o'clock we would start drinking.
Now isn't that a shock?
We all met sober.
Is right!
No plans were made of who would drive at the end of the night.

"We will decide later,"
a common phrase was lent.
All well knowing by 1 a.m. our minds would be bent.
I drove to the bar.
Although to walk would not have been far.
It is just easier to drive there.
When it comes time to leave, a coin flip will be fair.
I wanted to die on my Friday night out.

"Who would be the driving dweeb?"
I knew that party time was coming soon.
I made a couple of calls to my friends, of which, Friday night, my company I would lend.

We made a plan.
At eight o'clock we would start drinking.
Now isn't that a shock?
We all met sober.
Is right!
No plans were made of who would drive at the end of the night.

"We will decide later,"
a common phrase was lent.
All well knowing by 1 a.m. our minds would be bent.
I drove to the bar.
Although to walk would not have been far.
It is just easier to drive there.
When it comes time to leave, a coin flip will be fair.
I wanted to die on my Friday night out.

"Who would be the driving dweeb?"
I knew that party time was coming soon.
I made a couple of calls to my friends, of which, Friday night, my company I would lend.

We made a plan.
At eight o'clock we would start drinking.
Now isn't that a shock?
We all met sober.
Is right!
No plans were made of who would drive at the end of the night.

"We will decide later,"
a common phrase was lent.
All well knowing by 1 a.m. our minds would be bent.
I drove to the bar.
Although to walk would not have been far.
It is just easier to drive there.
When it comes time to leave, a coin flip will be fair.
I wanted to die on my Friday night out.

"Who would be the driving dweeb?"
I knew that party time was coming soon.
I made a couple of calls to my friends, of which, Friday night, my company I would lend.

We made a plan.
At eight o'clock we would start drinking.
Now isn't that a shock?
We all met sober.
Is right!
No plans were made of who would drive at the end of the night.

"We will decide later,"
a common phrase was lent.
All well knowing by 1 a.m. our minds would be bent.
I drove to the bar.
Although to walk would not have been far.
It is just easier to drive there.
When it comes time to leave, a coin flip will be fair.
I wanted to die on my Friday night out.

"Who would be the driving dweeb?"
Vigilantes murder 15 in suburbs of Medellin

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — Vigilante groups killed 15 people in two massacres near Medellin, the country’s second most populous city, police said Thursday.

In the Medellin suburb of Bello, gunmen stormed a private home and shot to death 10 of its inhabitants late Wednesday, local police said.

Several radio stations received phone calls from members of the city’s so-called “popular militias,” who claimed responsibility for the killings.

In Ceja, a town near Medellin, assailants dragged five people from their homes early Wednesday, lined them up against a wall and fatally shot them, police said. Authorities said they did not know who was responsible for the massacre.

Iran opens its doors to Western literature

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Iran has opened its doors to “Perestroika,” “The Feminine Mystique” and “The Protestant Work Ethic.”

Western literature is more popular than ever in this Muslim nation, police said. Their main complaint was the delay in receiving foreign works.

“We admire American knowledge.”

By Katia Salmassi

In an 8,300-member department,” said her chief, “it’s worth the wait.”

A 27-year-old photographer. “We admire American knowledge.”

British police said Thursday. About 750,000 people attended the 10-day national book fair this month, where individuals could order local and imported books.

“The ability to get along with others requires a talent that is natural for some and skills that everyone can benefit from the use of them,” Public Polcy’s Counseling Services offers materials and a discussion group on the topic of interpersonal skills.

Learning how to use these skills can help you express yourself better, present your ideas more clearly and resolve problems faster. And most importantly, interpersonal skills will lead to greater self-respect for yourself and others.

“Communicating effectively involves interpersonal skills, and everyone can benefit from the use of them.”

The ability to get along with others requires a talent that is natural for some and skills that everyone can benefit from the use of them.”

Cal Poly’s Counseling Services offers materials and a discussing group on the topic of interpersonal skills.

Learning how to use these skills can help you express yourself better, present your ideas more clearly and resolve problems faster. And most importantly, interpersonal skills will lead to greater self-respect for yourself and others.

“Communicating effectively involves interpersonal skills, and everyone can benefit from the use of them.”

Learning how to use these skills can help you express yourself better, present your ideas more clearly and resolve problems faster. And most importantly, interpersonal skills will lead to greater self-respect for yourself and others.

“Communicating effectively involves interpersonal skills, and everyone can benefit from the use of them.”

Four-year-old classmate wrote letters to her Gulf War hero.

“School kids viliy killer of their Gulf War hero”

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Teacher John Morgan made up a pupil’s suggestion and had his fourth-grade class write letters this week to a murder suspect, a white supremacist charged with killing a black sailor.

Not the usual fare for 10- and 11-year-olds, but the late Petty Officer 3rd Class Harold J. Mannfield had been the personal Persian Gulf War hero of 29 students at

See NATION, page 7

Infant, sister prepare for marrow transplant

DUARTE, Calif. (AP) — A 19-year-old leukemia victim has begun preparations to receive a bone-marrow transplant from her infant sister conceived in a last-ditch effort to save the young woman’s life.

“Anissa Ayala has entered the hospital to begin the bone-marrow transplant process,” City of Hope National Medical Center spokesman Charles Mathews said Wednesday.

After about a week of tests, Anissa will receive 12 days of major doses of radiation and chemotherapy to destroy her cancerous bone marrow.

She is scheduled to receive an infusion of healthy marrow from her 13-month-old sister, Marissa. Eue, on June 10.

Police official’s beliefs come under scrutiny

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A city councilman is calling for an investigation of the religious preachings by the Police Department’s 20 man, whose views on women, homosexuals and child-rearing have raised eyebrows at City Hall.

Councilman Zev Yaroslavsky said Thursday he wants the Police Commission to determine whether Assistant Police Chief Robert Vernon’s spiritual views could be a contributing factor in the current lack of gay hiring within the Los Angeles Police Department.

“It’s one thing to have an opinion. It’s another thing to have an opinion when you’re in charge of virtually every promotion in an 8,300-member department,” said Yaroslavsky.

CIGNA / Equicor

Health Net

The above health care insurance plans are accepted by:

San Luis Medical Clinic, Ltd.

50 years of providing health care services for the families of San Luis Obispo County.

Douglas Weaver — Administrator

San Luis Obispo: 1235 Osos Street • 546-5600

Robert Power, M.D., Family Practice

Charles Parma, M.D., Urinary

Richard Rigam, M.D., Orthopedic

Paul Swadberg, M.D., Family Practice

Craig Gallagher, PA

Carolyn Kees, NP, Pediactrics

Dom Lucasza, LCSW

Jeanette Leslie, NP

Diane Linn, NP

Kevin McCurns, PA

Carol Misson, MFCC

Marilyn Michener, MS, MFCC

Los Osos:

2035 9th Street • 528-3767

Los Osos: 2035 9th Street • 528-3767

Mark Heus, M.D. Pediatrics

Health N et

P ers Care

Lifeguard

Five Cities

855 4th Street, Pismo Beach • 546-5800

Charles Blair, M.D., Surgeon

Deborah Cherr, M.D., Internal Medicine

Daniel Cooper, M.D., Family Practice

Jana Hanson, M.D., Internal Medicine

William Mandrup, M.D., Family Practice

G. Miser-Harrisch, M.D., Family Practice

Ken Romens, PA

April Randle, PA

Terrance Scheck, M.D., OB/GYN

Diane Sorr, M.D., Internal Medicine

William Tibbs, M.D., Pediatrics

Christian Vepo, M.D., Family Practice

Michael Ziehlhen, M.D., Internal Medicine

Ashe Shumake, K.N., CS

Atascadero:

9415 El Camino Real • 461-9414

Andrew Andrew, M.D., Family Practice

Went Belanger, M.D., Family Practice

Shannon Brunell, PA

Mike West, PA

Morro Bay:

660 Harbor Street • 722-7731

Patrick Vaughan, M.D., Family Practice
Sports

NIKE QUANTUM FORCE LOW

A lightweight, well cushioned basketball shoe with maximum use of full grain leather for superior support & durability. Available in Black & White.

34.99

TWO PAIR OR

$60

FRENCH TERRY WORTH THUMPER

Great for any outdoor use, have an outdoor grill set up, offering their usual fare of menu items.

AG. celebrates strawberries

Sunday, the traditional 10K “Strawberry Stampede” run will begin at 8 a.m. at Village Green. Registration is $7 in advance and $9 on race day. To enter, call Horner Insurance at 489-8674. T-shirts will also be on sale for $5 each.

“We have had a tremendous response from the participants,” said Spikes’ owner, John Kile. “We have had a tremendous response from the participants,” said Spikes’ owner, John Kile. “Most of the participants are satisfied with the event and want to see it continue in the future.”

SLO beer fest beckons brew fans

Fun, food and foam are just a few of the things the Hospice program of San Luis Obispo County promises at their fifth annual California Festival of Beers. The event will take place at San Luis Obispo Hospital from 8 p.m. to 11 p.m.

Several of the event’s participating companies will have their own booth with displays showcasing each participant’s products and a brief history of their company.

The Hospice program of San Luis Obispo County is dedicated to the care of terminally ill individuals and their families.

Audiologist’s sports

962 MONTEREY STREET

SAN LUIS OBISPO

34.99

TWO PAIR OR

$60

KID'S ATHLETIC SHOES

29.99

$55

BASEBALL/Football DOORBUSTERS

19.99

$30

FRIDAYS IN THE VILLAGE GAZEBO

473-2250

From page 3

“Be assertive and say what you feel. By ignoring your true feelings you might feel manipulated or take it easy, and we will be offering a $5 designated driver ticket to encourage non-drinkers to come and enjoy the event without the beer, and then provide loved ones with a safe ride home.”

Bob Tomlinson, general manager of the Graduates, agreed with Kile’s concern for safety.

“This is definitely not a drink-all-you-can-in-an-afternoon type of event,” Tomlinson said. “We are expecting 1,500 to 2,000 people to attend, but things should stay very light and uneventful. The volunteers running the booths have been instructed to pour one ounce samples of beer, because the emphasis is on tasting, not heavy drinking.”

Tickets for the beer festival can be purchased for $15 in advance and $20 at the door. Spikes’ SLO Brewing Co. and the Hospice building are the local outlets for tickets.

“Free parking will be available at Arroyo Grande High School and the five acre lot next to the Arroyo Grande Woman’s Club on Vernon Avenue. Shuttle buses will provide free transportation from the parking areas to the village. Bus routes will run every 15 minutes between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.”

For more information, call 473-2250.

— Laurie La Pensee
Men send 13 athletes, women send 15 to championships in Texas.

By Jeff Krump
Staff Writer

The Cal Poly track teams and the rest of the country's best Division II track athletes are in Angelo, Texas, this weekend trying to win the national championship.

Kentucky State, North Dakota State and New York Tech are among the more than 50 schools competing at Angelo State University. The meet began Thursday and will run through Saturday.

The Cal Poly men's squad placed fourth in the nation last year, and Head Coach Tom Henderson indicated his team should perform about as well in 1991.

Henderson said that having 13 members of the team qualify gives the Mustangs an opportunity to place fairly high in nationals because most universities do not have that many representatives.

Looking at individual events, the California Collegiate Athletic Association champion Mustangs have some impressive entrants.

In the pole vault, the Mustangs are the team to beat, holding the top four marks out of a field of 11 vaulters.

Tony Castiglioni holds the nation's top mark of 17-1, which he scored in San Luis Obispo this year. Steve Toney, Ed Locquente and last year's title holder, Kevin Rankin, have all cleared 16-0 3/4 and hold the second, third and fourth places in the nation, respectively.

The Mustangs should also score well in the 1,500-meter event. Jim Sorensen scored the second-best time in the nation with a mark of 3:45.86, and Scott Peterson, show second-best time in the nation with a mark of 3:45.86, and Scott Peterson, who is last year's champion, has qualified again this year. Erik Axtell will be the third Mustang running the 1,500-meter.

Cal Poly's three competitors in the 10,000-meter run also provide a good opportunity for the school to gain points.

Matt Hempel, Scott Peterson and Mike Parrott are running this event for Cal Poly.

Brian Stenfeld is also expected to do well. He ran the second-fastest 800-meter time in the nation with a time of 1:49.73 and will run with teammate Shan Forehand.

The CCAA champion Cal Poly women's team should also place high at nationals. Fifteen qualifying scores were compiled by the women's team.

Kristina Hand is a key figure for the Mustangs because she holds the top mark in the nation on both the 1,500-meter and the 3,000-meter events.

Gina Albanese and Melissa White also scored top marks nationally. Albanese ran the 440-meter hurdles in 59.60, and White threw the javelin more than 158-0 this season.

The national champion will be determined Saturday evening.

Looking at individual events, the California Collegiate Athletic Association champion Mustangs have some impressive entrants.

In the pole vault, the Mustangs are the team to beat, holding the top four marks out of a field of 11 vaulters.

Tony Castiglioni holds the nation's top mark of 17-1, which he scored in San Luis Obispo this year. Steve Toney, Ed Locquente and last year's title holder, Kevin Rankin, have all cleared 16-0 3/4 and hold the second, third and fourth places in the nation, respectively.

The Mustangs should also score well in the 1,500-meter event. Jim Sorensen scored the second-best time in the nation with a mark of 3:45.86, and Scott Peterson, who is last year's champion, has qualified again this year. Erik Axtell will be the third Mustang running the 1,500-meter.

Cal Poly's three competitors in the 10,000-meter run also provide a good opportunity for the school to gain points.

Matt Hempel, Scott Peterson and Mike Parrott are running this event for Cal Poly.

Brian Stenfeld is also expected to do well. He ran the second-fastest 800-meter time in the nation with a time of 1:49.73 and will run with teammate Shan Forehand.

The CCAA champion Cal Poly women's team should also place high at nationals. Fifteen qualifying scores were compiled by the women's team.

Kristina Hand is a key figure for the Mustangs because she holds the top mark in the nation on both the 1,500-meter and the 3,000-meter events.

Gina Albanese and Melissa White also scored top marks nationally. Albanese ran the 440-meter hurdles in 59.60, and White threw the javelin more than 158-0 this season.

The national champion will be determined Saturday evening.
Poly's Poultry Unit turns into a profitable project

Improved facilities and a new instructor have helped the unit to pull out of the red and into the black for the first time in 10 years.

By Rob Brockmeyer
Staff Writer

Cal Poly's Poultry Unit looks old on the outside, but a lot is new on the inside. The unit has increased production and is no longer a money-losing operation.

For 10 years, the unit's egg, turkey, and chicken sales were unable to keep up with operating costs. But things have taken a turn for the better since the arrival of animal science professor Bob Spiller in 1989.

"In the last two years, we have made some changes that have helped the unit get back on its feet," Spiller said. "We have tailored our operations to maximize profits in the ever-changing poultry industry."

The market for poultry products operates in a cyclical manner. Historically, October to April has been the most profitable part of the year, while May to September has been the slowest.

For example, this year's egg prices were 84 cents a dozen in January, but they dropped 25 cents once Easter was over. Also, the demand for turkeys is the highest during the holiday season than any other time of the year.

To take advantage of these industry trends, the unit maximized egg production in the spring because of increased demand and higher sale prices. This summer, the unit's chicken population will be cut by 50 percent due to lower demand and lack of students.

"Although the effects have been substantial, we have really just made some simple changes," Spiller said. "A lot of the credit goes to the students who have helped turn the program around.

Another change that has enabled the unit to reap profits has been the donation of former local poultryman John Drake's production equipment. Three new laying cages, worth nearly $60,000, have helped boost egg production to 180,000 dozen a month by having weekly and monthly prizes and a grand prize in November. We thank you.

When funds become available, the Poultry Unit may relocate to a new facility across from Cal Poly's Beef Evaluation Unit.
CLASSIFIED

Campus Clubs
JOURNALISTS Guest speaker Lorraine Brannan, co-author of "After the Shooting." Speaker will be speaking on May 29, 7 p.m. in Computer Sci. 207. Sponsored by SHAC. Free, open to all. For more info call 756-1143.

NEWSLETTER
Correction: "California Highway Patrol" should read "California Highway Patrol." From page 3.

Greek News
Congrats Don Clapp and Cindy Nagy on finding parking in the student lots. The brothers of Kappa Sigma.

Word Processing
ACADEMIC MP ON MAC WITH LASER COMPUTER & O.E. SERVICES. $90/hour.

PROFESSIONAL RESUME WRITING SERVICE
Effective resumes written by a 25-year experienced professional. Call 543-1463. Avoid the scams. We're still here. Your address, name, phone, and resume needed.

Employment
ALASKA SUMMER EMPLOYMENT
Alaska Earn $1,000.00 plus free food, housing, and transportation. No experience required. Call 549-9900. For current federal list 549-0742.

ESCAPES ROUTE AUCTION
Equipment no longer in use still in good shape. Tues. 7:00-11:00. U.S. Corp. expanding into SLO. All equipment will be picked up each day. Tuesdays. 543-1816.

English 251i English
Find out what happens! THANKS TO ARA'S and Jindie's for making Southern California Engineering a great place to work.

We are very happy to be working with the CHP in this way," Conner said.

For more information on the Designated Driver Program, contact the San Luis Obispo chapter of the California Highway Patrol at 549-3261.

NATION
From page 3
Shafter Elementary School in Oklahoma City.
On Thursday, the pupils attended military funeral services for Man­nfield in Oklahoma City, con­

Man­nfield survived the rigors of war only to be gunned down in the Jacksonville suburb of Neptune Beach after an argument over a near-accident in a supermarket parking lot.
Man­nfield drove to a ship­

mate's home and then returned to confront the man, who hurled racial insults at Mannfield, who was carrying a brick, police said.
The assailant fired a .25-caliber semiautomatic pistol into Man­nfield's chest in the parking lot. Police issued a murder warrant for George David Loeb, 34,

the Jacksonville leader of The Church of the Creator, a white supremacist organization based in Otto, N.C. He had not been arrested by Thursday.

The assaults, comprised mainly of blacks and Hispanics, had adopted Man­nfield at the start of the conflict last August. The students wrote letters, and Man­nfield sent videotapes from the Bally's Saratoga, where he was an air traffic controller, and the man had met the class April 25 and received a hero's welcome.

"They were appreciative that he had been there and very proud of him that he was a black American," said Roberta.
POULTRY

From page 6
year. The cages hold the hens off the ground and allow students to easily monitor feed and temperatures. It has helped cut costs. It has helped cut feed costs, because when the hens' environment is too cold they eat more to keep their body temperature.

There's something new about the Sentra this year. Namely everything. As you can see we completely redesigned it. Then improved the handling. And gave it a high-performance, DOHC 16-valve, 110-horsepower engine. So now that the homework is done: there's only one thing left to do: tear it up.

Nissan Sentra II 21kMiles

While you were doing your homework, we were doing ours.

766 Boysen Avenue
- 2 Bedroom furnished apartments
- School year lease - Sept. 1 to June 30
- $790 per month
- 3 Person occupancy
- 1/2 mile to Cal Poly Campus
- Cable TV, water, trash provided
CONTACT DAN AT 543-6819

Serving San Luis Obispo Since 1872

== Built for the Human Race ==

While you were doing your homework, we were doing ours.

There's something new about the Sentra this year. Namely everything. As you can see we completely redesigned it. Then improved the handling. And gave it a high-performance, DOHC 16-valve, 110-horsepower engine. So now that the homework is done: there's only one thing left to do: tear it up.

Nissan Sentra II 21kMiles

While you were doing your homework, we were doing ours.

766 Boysen Avenue
- 2 Bedroom furnished apartments
- School year lease - Sept. 1 to June 30
- $790 per month
- 3 Person occupancy
- 1/2 mile to Cal Poly Campus
- Cable TV, water, trash provided
CONTACT DAN AT 543-6819

Serving San Luis Obispo Since 1872

== Built for the Human Race ==

While you were doing your homework, we were doing ours.

There's something new about the Sentra this year. Namely everything. As you can see we completely redesigned it. Then improved the handling. And gave it a high-performance, DOHC 16-valve, 110-horsepower engine. So now that the homework is done: there's only one thing left to do: tear it up.

Nissan Sentra II 21kMiles

While you were doing your homework, we were doing ours.

766 Boysen Avenue
- 2 Bedroom furnished apartments
- School year lease - Sept. 1 to June 30
- $790 per month
- 3 Person occupancy
- 1/2 mile to Cal Poly Campus
- Cable TV, water, trash provided
CONTACT DAN AT 543-6819

Serving San Luis Obispo Since 1872

== Built for the Human Race ==

While you were doing your homework, we were doing ours.

There's something new about the Sentra this year. Namely everything. As you can see we completely redesigned it. Then improved the handling. And gave it a high-performance, DOHC 16-valve, 110-horsepower engine. So now that the homework is done: there's only one thing left to do: tear it up.

Nissan Sentra II 21kMiles

While you were doing your homework, we were doing ours.

766 Boysen Avenue
- 2 Bedroom furnished apartments
- School year lease - Sept. 1 to June 30
- $790 per month
- 3 Person occupancy
- 1/2 mile to Cal Poly Campus
- Cable TV, water, trash provided
CONTACT DAN AT 543-6819

Serving San Luis Obispo Since 1872

== Built for the Human Race ==

While you were doing your homework, we were doing ours.

There's something new about the Sentra this year. Namely everything. As you can see we completely redesigned it. Then improved the handling. And gave it a high-performance, DOHC 16-valve, 110-horsepower engine. So now that the homework is done: there's only one thing left to do: tear it up.

Nissan Sentra II 21kMiles

While you were doing your homework, we were doing ours.

766 Boysen Avenue
- 2 Bedroom furnished apartments
- School year lease - Sept. 1 to June 30
- $790 per month
- 3 Person occupancy
- 1/2 mile to Cal Poly Campus
- Cable TV, water, trash provided
CONTACT DAN AT 543-6819

Serving San Luis Obispo Since 1872

== Built for the Human Race ==

While you were doing your homework, we were doing ours.

There's something new about the Sentra this year. Namely everything. As you can see we completely redesigned it. Then improved the handling. And gave it a high-performance, DOHC 16-valve, 110-horsepower engine. So now that the homework is done: there's only one thing left to do: tear it up.

Nissan Sentra II 21kMiles

While you were doing your homework, we were doing ours.

766 Boysen Avenue
- 2 Bedroom furnished apartments
- School year lease - Sept. 1 to June 30
- $790 per month
- 3 Person occupancy
- 1/2 mile to Cal Poly Campus
- Cable TV, water, trash provided
CONTACT DAN AT 543-6819

Serving San Luis Obispo Since 1872

== Built for the Human Race ==
DUE TO THE MEMORIAL DAY HOLIDAY, THE FOLLOWING ISSUES OF THE MUSTANG DAILY WERE NOT PRINTED:

VOLUME 55, NO. 126
MONDAY, MAY 27, 1991

AND

VOLUME 55, NO. 127
TUESDAY, MAY 28, 1991