Man charged in SLO sexual assaults to be arraigned

By Gabe Joynt
Staff Writer

The man police believe responsible for a string of sexual assaults in the Cal Poly area during fall quarter is set to be arraigned this morning.

Michael Simon, 23, was charged Tuesday in connection with four incidents of rape and attempted rape.

Simon was being held in San Luis Obispo County Jail on unrelated charges when one of his victims identified him as her assailant. San Luis Obispo Crime Prevention Officer Steve Seybold said one victim, who had left the San Luis Obispo area after one of the attacks, identified Simon as her attacker when she returned. Simon will be arraigned on charges of robbery, attempted rape, sexual penetration with an unknown object, assault with intent to rape, possession of stolen property and being a felon in possession of a firearm, Seybold said.

His arraignment is scheduled for 8:30 a.m. in Division C of the San Luis Obispo Municipal Court.

According to police, the first incident occurred at about 9 p.m. on Nov. 18 and involved a 19-year-old woman who was assaulted on Casa Street and dragged into nearby bushes. A passerby heard the victim's screams and pulled her from the assailant, who fled.

One day later, at 9:50 p.m., a 19-year-old female Cal Poly student was raped and robbed in a parking lot in the 100 block of Santa Rose Street near Foxhill Boulevard.

In that incident, the woman was knocked unconscious with an unknown object before the assailant sexually assaulted her and took $20 from her wallet.

On Dec. 12, a 21-year-old Cal Poly student was getting into her unlocked car in the 700 block of Higuera Street when she felt a man sleeping in the back seat.

The victim was directed to drive to the 100 block of Stoner Street.

After doing so, the man refused to exit the car, pulled the trigger of the ignition and grabbed her.

After the victim screamed, a car pulled behind her vehicle, scaring the victim away.

An hour after that attack, an 18-year-old female student was awakened by a man who climbed on top of her as she lay in bed in her second-floor room in the Sier- ra Madre residence hall.

The assailant fled the scene after the victim hit his tongue.

Student dies in accident
Two killed in Paso when parachute fails to open
By Chris Brandi
Staff Writer

"He was so full of life and energy... He never acted like he was as good as any things as he was," Mike Graf, Cal Poly Student

"The tragic jump was a first for King, who is remembered by his best friend and roommate, Mike Graf, as "someone who totally loved life."

"He was so full of life and energy," said Graf, a computer science senior. "He was involved in everything. He was just an incredible guy. He was athletic and he was really intelligent, and so modest."

"He never acted like he was as good at as many things as he was. His parents didn’t even know how good of a student he was."

King held a 3.5 GPA at Cal Poly and was involved in the Ski Club and the building of the Habrita a project that has gained national attention for Cal Poly. The Ford Motor Co. asked Cal Poly’s

"There’s no particular evidence that would make us think this was either of those things," Rowe said. "But we are conducting a thorough investigation to make sure we’ve covered all our bases."

Rowe said Wednesday.

Although the possibility of a dual suicide has been reported, police said the incident is being investigated for suicide or homicide possibilities only as a matter of routine.

"There’s no particular evidence that would make us think this was either of those things," Rowe said. "But we are conducting a thorough investigation to make sure we’ve covered all our bases."

The tragic jump was a first for King, who is remembered by his best friend and roommate, Mike Graf, as "someone who totally loved life."

"He was so full of life and energy," said Graf, a computer science senior. "He was involved in everything. He was just an incredible guy. He was athletic and he was really intelligent, and so modest."

"He never acted like he was as good at as many things as he was. His parents didn’t even know how good of a student he was."

King held a 3.5 GPA at Cal Poly and was involved in the Ski Club and the building of the Habrita a project that has gained national attention for Cal Poly. The Ford Motor Co. asked Cal Poly’s

"There’s no particular evidence that would make us think this was either of those things," Rowe said. "But we are conducting a thorough investigation to make sure we’ve covered all our bases."

Rowe said Wednesday.

Although the possibility of a dual suicide has been reported, police said the incident is being investigated for suicide or homicide possibilities only as a matter of routine.

"There’s no particular evidence that would make us think this was either of those things," Rowe said. "But we are conducting a thorough investigation to make sure we’ve covered all our bases."

Rowe said Wednesday.

Although the possibility of a dual suicide has been reported, police said the incident is being investigated for suicide or homicide possibilities only as a matter of routine.

"There’s no particular evidence that would make us think this was either of those things," Rowe said. "But we are conducting a thorough investigation to make sure we’ve covered all our bases."

Rowe said Wednesday.

Although the possibility of a dual suicide has been reported, police said the incident is being investigated for suicide or homicide possibilities only as a matter of routine.

"There’s no particular evidence that would make us think this was either of those things," Rowe said. "But we are conducting a thorough investigation to make sure we’ve covered all our bases."

Rowe said Wednesday.

Although the possibility of a dual suicide has been reported, police said the incident is being investigated for suicide or homicide possibilities only as a matter of routine.

"There’s no particular evidence that would make us think this was either of those things," Rowe said. "But we are conducting a thorough investigation to make sure we’ve covered all our bases."

Rowe said Wednesday.

Although the possibility of a dual suicide has been reported, police said the incident is being investigated for suicide or homicide possibilities only as a matter of routine.

"There’s no particular evidence that would make us think this was either of those things," Rowe said. "But we are conducting a thorough investigation to make sure we’ve covered all our bases."

Rowe said Wednesday.

Although the possibility of a dual suicide has been reported, police said the incident is being investigated for suicide or homicide possibilities only as a matter of routine.

"There’s no particular evidence that would make us think this was either of those things," Rowe said. "But we are conducting a thorough investigation to make sure we’ve covered all our bases."

Rowe said Wednesday.

Although the possibility of a dual suicide has been reported, police said the incident is being investigated for suicide or homicide possibilities only as a matter of routine.

"There’s no particular evidence that would make us think this was either of those things," Rowe said. "But we are conducting a thorough investigation to make sure we’ve covered all our bases."

Rowe said Wednesday.

Although the possibility of a dual suicide has been reported, police said the incident is being investigated for suicide or homicide possibilities only as a matter of routine.

"There’s no particular evidence that would make us think this was either of those things," Rowe said. "But we are conducting a thorough investigation to make sure we’ve covered all our bases."

Rowe said Wednesday.

Although the possibility of a dual suicide has been reported, police said the incident is being investigated for suicide or homicide possibilities only as a matter of routine.

"There’s no particular evidence that would make us think this was either of those things," Rowe said. "But we are conducting a thorough investigation to make sure we’ve covered all our bases."

Rowe said Wednesday.

Although the possibility of a dual suicide has been reported, police said the incident is being investigated for suicide or homicide possibilities only as a matter of routine.

"There’s no particular evidence that would make us think this was either of those things," Rowe said. "But we are conducting a thorough investigation to make sure we’ve covered all our bases."

Rowe said Wednesday.

Although the possibility of a dual suicide has been reported, police said the incident is being investigated for suicide or homicide possibilities only as a matter of routine.

"There’s no particular evidence that would make us think this was either of those things," Rowe said. "But we are conducting a thorough investigation to make sure we’ve covered all our bases."

Rowe said Wednesday.

Although the possibility of a dual suicide has been reported, police said the incident is being investigated for suicide or homicide possibilities only as a matter of routine.

"There’s no particular evidence that would make us think this was either of those things," Rowe said. "But we are conducting a thorough investigation to make sure we’ve covered all our bases."

Rowe said Wednesday.

Although the possibility of a dual suicide has been reported, police said the incident is being investigated for suicide or homicide possibilities only as a matter of routine.

"There’s no particular evidence that would make us think this was either of those things," Rowe said. "But we are conducting a thorough investigation to make sure we’ve covered all our bases."

Rowe said Wednesday.

Although the possibility of a dual suicide has been reported, police said the incident is being investigated for suicide or homicide possibilities only as a matter of routine.

"There’s no particular evidence that would make us think this was either of those things," Rowe said. "But we are conducting a thorough investigation to make sure we’ve covered all our bases."

Rowe said Wednesday.
CHP prepares for potential violence in King verdict

Sacramento, Calif.

The Highway Patrol hopes to have nearly half of its statewide uniformed personnel—2,500 officers—specially trained to handle civil unrest by the middle of April.

"It (the training) started earlier this month," CHP spokesman Sam Haynes said Wednesday. "We hope to have 40 percent trained to handle civil unrest by mid-April to deal with potentially roving gangs.

Haynes added that training was under way at several sites around the state.

He said the CHP has a total of about 5,800 uniformed officers, the third largest police force in the state after the Los Angeles Police Department and the Los Angeles Sheriff's Office.

The San Francisco Chronicle reported Wednesday that gangs also have stolen "E" license plates from police cars. The plates, commonly used to identify government-owned cars, could be bolted to spare police vehicles, enabling gang members to travel more easily through police lines.

Four Los Angeles police officers are being tried in federal court on charges of depriving King of his civil rights by bestowing him following a car chase. King is black.

In a state trial a year ago, the officers were acquitted of most charges related to the beating, which was captured in a widely aired videotape. The acquittals prompted rioting in Los Angeles and several other major cities.

"We've been told that if there are two or more looters in a store, we throw in four gas grenades immediately," CHP veteran administrator said.

Skinhead killer may be retried

Prosecutors will pursue additional charges in the widely criticized case of a skinhead who was sentenced only to probation after being convicted in the killing of a black man.

Tarrant County District Attorney Tim Curry said he has prosecutors researching the question of whether they can still try white supremacist Christopher William Brosky on a remaining organized crime charge.

It appears that Brosky can still be prosecuted on that charge without double jeopardy, but the issue is uncertain because "Texas law on this subject is sparse," Curry said Tuesday.

Brosky, 18, was sentenced only to 10 years on probation for his part in planning the 1991 drive-by shooting of a black man who was talking with white friends in Arlington.

Skinner said Tuesday.

But perhaps a more compelling motivation was expressed by Henry King, director of the Brewers Association of America, in a private training session for the industry lobbyists: "Remember, you're not going up there to save the world. You're going up there to save your bottom line." Clinton has promised to unveil a comprehensive health care package by May 5 that will, among other things, provide health insurance for the 36 million Americans now without it. Many anticipate the White House will propose to help pay for it with higher excise taxes on alcohol and tobacco products—and perhaps firearms.

Powell not called to take stand

Los Angeles, Calif.

In a surprise move, the lawyer for the policeman who struck the most blows against Rodney King refused his case Wednesday without calling Officer Laurence Powell to the witness stand.

Powell testified at length in the earlier state trial at which he and three other officers were defendants. He had been expected to take the stand in the federal case.

But after several hours of testimony from a defense expert witness who absolved Powell of smacking King's face, attorney Michael P. Stone announced: "You're honor, subject to moving the exhibits into evidence, we rest."

So far the only defendant to testify was Sgt. Stacey Koon, the supervising officer at the scene of King's arrest.

Compiled from Associated Press Reports

Is there a Secret to doing well on the... Absolutely.

If you're planning on going to Graduate School or Law School, no one prepares you for the Graduate Record Exams or Law School Admissions Test better than Kaplan. We teach you exactly what the test covers and show you the test taking strategies you'll need to score your best. No one teaches you to think like the test makers better than we do.

Classes now being offered on Cal Poly San Luis Obispo Campus! Classes begin:

GRE: Monday, April 12 from 6-10pm.
LSAT: Tuesday, April 13 from 6-10pm.

The Kaplan-Learning Lab is located in the Cal Poly Library in the Learning Resource Center.

Call today for further information and to reserve your seat!

1-800-KAP-TEST or our Goleta Center at (805) 685-5767

KAPLAN

The answer to the test question.
Senate wrestles with unsavory budget choices

By Amy Hooper
Staff Writer
Cal Poly Academic Senate members expressed dissatisfaction with an Executive Committee resolution on budget cut recommendations at the Mar. 16 meeting, but delayed a vote.

The resolution recommends:
• a 50 percent reduction in state funding for Cal Poly athletics;
• eliminating state funding of both Transportation Services and University Relations and Development;
• the elimination of additional administrative positions in Student Affairs and throughout the university;
• an increase in the number of fee-based student services;
• an evaluation of expenditures toward computing services;
• the offering of remedial courses through Extended Education.

The recommendations regarding athletics, Student Affairs and remedial courses evoked the most discussion.

Marlin Vix, an assistant professor in agricultural and the Senate's designate to the Athletic Board, said the 50 percent reduction in state funding to athletics would violate the "implied contract" created by the passage of the athletic referendum in November 1991.

"The assumption was that (students) were going to increase their commitment to the (Division I) acceptance process," Vix said, "and, over time, we would gradually decrease the general fund allocations." Vix said the allocations have been reduced from nearly $1.7 million in 1991 to $1.2 million as funds raised under edicts of the referendum are applied.

"A 50 percent reduction in one year means that the student referendum was for naught, and the students probably should get their money back," he said.

Some faculty members questioned whether students would continue to support the athletic referendum.

"That referendum was taken before there was any talk of fee increases," said Mike Botwin, an architectural engineering professor. "It would be interesting to know what would happen if that referendum was taken today."

ASI Representative Nicole Brown said student officials would support a reduction in athletic funding but not to the degree recommended in the resolution.

"We do feel (athletes) should maybe get more of a cut than in- structor," she said. "But 50 percent is ridiculous.

Brown said if the 50 percent reduction went into effect, students would be putting money into a "dead" program.

Brown said the ASI Budget Task Force survey taken last quarter revealed students' desire to find alternate funding for athletics.

"But in no way did it say, 'Cut athletics,'" she said.

Brown said students are concerned about the possible effects of cutbacks in Student Affairs administrators and in paying fees for more student services.

"If you charge people who need financial aid and use the program, you're defeating the purpose of providing more opportunities to all the services," she said. "(However), we are willing to pay for certain things."

Economics professor Timothy Kersten said he proposed the recommendation to make more cuts.

See SENATE, page 6.

CSU presidents put brakes on charter university plan

By Marla R. Van Schuyver
Senior Staff Writer
SAN JOSE — Plans to make Cal Poly the California State University System's first charter campus by January 1994 have been delayed, CSU Chancellor Barry Munitz announced Friday.

"Basically, it was a matter of the campus presidents coming to me and saying, 'Wait a minute. This is moving too fast.'" Munitz said. "I think it's a great, new, exciting concept, but what they are telling me is that they want to slow it down."

Munitz's announcement came at a press conference held for student reporters from California.

Cal Poly, Humboldt and a proposed campus at Fort Ord in Monterey were all being considered for charter status — a move that would virtually give the campuses autonomy in decision-making on everything from faculty hiring procedures to graduation requirements.

In late January, Cal Poly was the first campus asked to develop a model plan for charter universities. That plan was intended to set the tone for state legislators to write and pass a law that would make charter universities legal.

But at the March meeting of the CSU Board of Trustees, campus presidents — among them Cal Poly President Warren Baker — presented their concerns.

"We asked for the delay for a number of reasons," Baker said Tuesday. "We wanted to ... look at what can be done internally from the Chancellor's office before we ask for legislation. We want to make sure we don't leave anybody out."

Cal Poly faculty and staff met in late February to discuss their concerns with the "rush" to become a charter campus. Those concerns were heard and played a part in the request for delay, Baker said.

"If I think there were a lot of questions and uncertainties as to what the charter concept is, so we decided it would be best to try to develop that further," Baker said. "Through a series of task forces, we intend to develop more of what we are trying to achieve with the charter, why we are trying to achieve it, and how we are going to achieve it. We want a consensus developing on the campus that this is indeed an excellent thing for Cal Poly."

But it will most likely be the 1994-95 academic year before Cal Poly could become a charter campus, he added.

"It's my personal feeling that it will take a while to craft the legislation and establish the charter campuses," Baker said.
They're going up again, folks!

By Bryan Bailey

Welcome back.

MUSTANG Daily charges an additional $200 fee.

NAMES Dưa.

in the following weeks, most will

the CSU and University of ur fees will double by the April fact.

According

Period.

Unfortunately, this sentiment

Munitz by himself can only begin

2. ATM machines/trucks invade the UU Plaza. As if the

The other tree was removed a few days before the start of subject of closing Madonna Mountain. These letters have been pinning all of the blame on “a few careless idiots.” It is very any responsibility for yourself.

Taking responsibility

Recently, there have been many letters to the editor on the subject of closing Madonna Mountain. These letters have been

You haven’t had a chance to notice any of these additions or criticisms to the modern display window.

Shane Daily apologizes for the errors.

Taking responsibility

Recently, there have been many letters to the editor on the subject of closing Madonna Mountain. These letters have been

You haven’t had a chance to notice any of these additions or
criticisms to the modern display window.

Shane Daily apologizes for the errors.

Correction:

Due to a typographical error, Staff Council Representative
Pat Harris was incorrectly quoted as saying “I call to target sports” as telling a committee she “doesn’t want a budget cutting process in which things aren’t done behind closed doors. The quote should read, “in which things are done behind closed doors.”

Mustang Daily apologizes for the errors.

Mustang Daily Policies

Commentaries and reporter’s notebooks are the opinions of the author and do not necessarily reflect the viewpoints of Mustang Daily. Unsigned editorials represent the majority opinion of the editorial staff.

Letters to the editor should be typed, less than 250 words, and should include the author’s name, phone number and major or occupation. Because of space limitations, shorter letters have a better chance of appearing in Mustang Daily.

Mustang Daily comments should be between two and three pages (between 800 and 1000 words, double-spaced, and turned in to the opinion editor’s box at Mustang Daily. Commentaries are welcome from students, faculty, staff, and members of the community;

submission does not insure publication. Mustang Daily’s opinion staff reserves the right to edit letters and commentaries for length, accuracy and clarity. Submissions to the opinion page or computer site at compile a brief list—negative decisions made recently by people in high places.

1. Removal of two long bike racks near the Snack Bar. One of the educational budget vice

The winds of change

As I ventured back to campus on Monday morning a few things seemed amiss. I discovered that they were and decided to collect a brief list—negative decisions made recently by people in high places.

1. Removal of two long bike racks near the Snack Bar. One of the educational budget vice

The winds of change

As I ventured back to campus on Monday morning a few things seemed amiss. I discovered that they were and decided to collect a brief list—negative decisions made recently by people in high places.

1. Removal of two long bike racks near the Snack Bar. One of the educational budget vice

The winds of change

As I ventured back to campus on Monday morning a few things seemed amiss. I discovered that they were and decided to collect a brief list—negative decisions made recently by people in high places.

1. Removal of two long bike racks near the Snack Bar. One of the educational budget vice

The winds of change

As I ventured back to campus on Monday morning a few things seemed amiss. I discovered that they were and decided to collect a brief list—negative decisions made recently by people in high places.

1. Removal of two long bike racks near the Snack Bar. One of the educational budget vice

The winds of change

As I ventured back to campus on Monday morning a few things seemed amiss. I discovered that they were and decided to collect a brief list—negative decisions made recently by people in high places.

1. Removal of two long bike racks near the Snack Bar. One of the educational budget vice

The winds of change

As I ventured back to campus on Monday morning a few things seemed amiss. I discovered that they were and decided to collect a brief list—negative decisions made recently by people in high places.

1. Removal of two long bike racks near the Snack Bar. One of the educational budget vice

The winds of change

As I ventured back to campus on Monday morning a few things seemed amiss. I discovered that they were and decided to collect a brief list—negative decisions made recently by people in high places.

1. Removal of two long bike racks near the Snack Bar. One of the educational budget vice

The winds of change

As I ventured back to campus on Monday morning a few things seemed amiss. I discovered that they were and decided to collect a brief list—negative decisions made recently by people in high places.

FEES

From page 1 the other hand they feel pressure behind papers put out by UCSB and UC Berkeley. Are members of CIPA. Must have been good on roll developing of a double set of standard size prints from 35mm, Disc. 110 or 126 color print film (C-41 process only). Offer expires 4-9-93.

Cal Poly journalism shines at convention

Mustang Daily Staff Report

According to a California collegiate newspaper association, Mustang Daily is the third best daily college newspaper in California for general excellence, which was put out by UCSB and UC Berkeley.

The Daily’s award came at the 45th annual conference of the California Intercollegiate Press Association, held March 26-29 at the San Jose Hilton. Most California student newspapers are members of CIPA.

The Daily also received 14 other awards for recently published work.

Staff writer Krystn Shrieve was awarded second place in the sports category for “Eating,” a two-part look at college students and bulimia published in fall.

Staff writer Gabe Joynt was awarded third place in the science writing category for “The Sky Is Cring,” a humor-laden report on fall’s first rainfall.

Editor in chief Peter Hartlaub placed first in art criticism with a review of last year's Public Enemy concert. Hartlaub also placed third in the opinion column category for a story on campus lighting.

The Daily was also awarded second place for best arts section and third place in best daily sports section.

Daily staffers also received seven awards for on-site competitions, which included:

• First place, on-site illustration — Illustrator Matt Hubal; Second place, on-site news writing — Senior Staff Writer Maria R. Van Schuyver; Honorable mention, on-site news writing — Features Editor Edwin Bill.

Counseling Services

- Stress/Anger Management
- Women’s Issues
- Career Development/Change
- Relationships
- Assertiveness Training
- Self Esteem
- Creative Transitions
- Personal Growth

Kristen Stensa
Marriage & Family Therapist

- 8½ years as staff member with Cal Poly Counseling Office & Career Services
- 546-3322
- 867 Pacific St.
- SLO, CA

Photocenters on Film Developing

DOUBLE PRINTS

ANY SIZE EXP. ROLL

COUPON
DOUBLE PRINTS

$2.99 ANY SIZE EXP.

Offer good on roll developing of a double set of standard size prints from 35mm, Disc. 110 or 126 color print film (C-41 process only). Offer expires 1-5-93.

WE’RE BACKED BY KODAK’S SEAL OF EXCELLENCE

Kodak Colorwatch System
PARACHUTE

From page 3

Steve Pierce; writing — Opinion Editor Bryan Bailey; inking — City Editor Carolyn Nielson.

Second place, on-site editorial segment of students would be affected by offering remedial courses through Extended Education.

“Large proportion of the remedial English classes are for non-traditional students,” she said. “They’re very often low-income students who need financial aid.”

In order to receive financial aid, students must take 12 units of regular university courses. Reynoso said students taking a four-unit remedial English class through Extended Education would have to increase their class load to 16 units.

Howard Vollmer, director of Extended Education, said the average lecture course costs $70 per quarter unit; therefore, a four-unit class such as English as a Second Language would cost $280.

“We’re really putting an impediment in front of the low-income, non-traditional students,” she said.

John Harrington, an English professor and coordinator of the Writing Skills Program, said if students needing remedial help were forced into regular classes, they would probably fail.

“We need to consider the non-traditional backgrounds (of remedial students),” he said.

The next Senate meeting is scheduled for April 13 at 3 p.m. in UU 220.

SENATE

From page 3

student services fee-based in order to raise the issue for discussion.

Senate members also expressed concern that offering remedial English and math courses through the Extended Education program would reduce the choices available to students needing that help.

Glen Irvin, associate vice president for academic affairs, said more students need remedial classes. He called it a “growing problem.”

“At the very time we’re suffering from budget reductions and wondering how much of this instruction we can afford, we’re seeing more students needing this type of instruction,” he said.

Financial Aid Counselor Wendy Reynoso said a certain segment of students would be affected by offering remedial courses through Extended Education.

“Large proportion of the remedial English classes are for non-traditional students,” she said. “They’re very often low-income students who need financial aid.”

In order to receive financial aid, students must take 12 units of regular university courses. Reynoso said students taking a four-unit remedial English class through Extended Education would have to increase their class load to 16 units.

Howard Vollmer, director of Extended Education, said the average lecture course costs $70 per quarter unit; therefore, a four-unit class such as English as a Second Language would cost $280.

“We’re really putting an impediment in front of the low-income, non-traditional students,” she said.

John Harrington, an English professor and coordinator of the Writing Skills Program, said if students needing remedial help were forced into regular classes, they would probably fail.

“We need to consider the non-traditional backgrounds (of remedial students),” he said.

The next Senate meeting is scheduled for April 13 at 3 p.m. in UU 220.

parachute

From page 1
car-building team to be part of an auto show and competition in Michigan this June.

It was work on the electric car’s braking system — King’s senior project — that kept him in San Luis Obispo during spring break.

“We were supposed to go skiing, but he was so dedicated that he decided to stay here and work on his project,” Graf said.

It was work on the electric car’s braking system — King’s senior project — that kept him in San Luis Obispo during spring break.

“We were supposed to go skiing, but he was so dedicated that he decided to stay here and work on his project,” Graf said.

The news department of KCPR, Cal Poly’s FM radio station, received awards for the on-site sports reporting of News Director John Hubbell; writing — News Editor John Goedde, inking — City Editor Carolyn Nielson.

Second place, on-site sports reporting of News Director John Hubbell; writing — News Editor John Goedde, inking — City Editor Carolyn Nielson.

The news department of KCPR, Cal Poly’s FM radio station, received awards for the on-site sports reporting of News Director John Hubbell; writing — News Editor John Goedde, inking — City Editor Carolyn Nielson.

Second place, on-site sports reporting of News Director John Hubbell; writing — News Editor John Goedde, inking — City Editor Carolyn Nielson.

The news department of KCPR, Cal Poly’s FM radio station, received awards for the on-site sports reporting of News Director John Hubbell; writing — News Editor John Goedde, inking — City Editor Carolyn Nielson.

Second place, on-site sports reporting of News Director John Hubbell; writing — News Editor John Goedde, inking — City Editor Carolyn Nielson.

The news department of KCPR, Cal Poly’s FM radio station, received awards for the on-site sports reporting of News Director John Hubbell; writing — News Editor John Goedde, inking — City Editor Carolyn Nielson.

Second place, on-site sports reporting of News Director John Hubbell; writing — News Editor John Goedde, inking — City Editor Carolyn Nielson.

The news department of KCPR, Cal Poly’s FM radio station, received awards for the on-site sports reporting of News Director John Hubbell; writing — News Editor John Goedde, inking — City Editor Carolyn Nielson.

Second place, on-site sports reporting of News Director John Hubbell; writing — News Editor John Goedde, inking — City Editor Carolyn Nielson.

The news department of KCPR, Cal Poly’s FM radio station, received awards for the on-site sports reporting of News Director John Hubbell; writing — News Editor John Goedde, inking — City Editor Carolyn Nielson.

Second place, on-site sports reporting of News Director John Hubbell; writing — News Editor John Goedde, inking — City Editor Carolyn Nielson.

The news department of KCPR, Cal Poly’s FM radio station, received awards for the on-site sports reporting of News Director John Hubbell; writing — News Editor John Goedde, inking — City Editor Carolyn Nielson.

Second place, on-site sports reporting of News Director John Hubbell; writing — News Editor John Goedde, inking — City Editor Carolyn Nielson.

The news department of KCPR, Cal Poly’s FM radio station, received awards for the on-site sports reporting of News Director John Hubbell; writing — News Editor John Goedde, inking — City Editor Carolyn Nielson.

Second place, on-site sports reporting of News Director John Hubbell; writing — News Editor John Goedde, inking — City Editor Carolyn Nielson.

The news department of KCPR, Cal Poly’s FM radio station, received awards for the on-site sports reporting of News Director John Hubbell; writing — News Editor John Goedde, inking — City Editor Carolyn Nielson.

Second place, on-site sports reporting of News Director John Hubbell; writing — News Editor John Goedde, inking — City Editor Carolyn Nielson.

The news department of KCPR, Cal Poly’s FM radio station, received awards for the on-site sports reporting of News Director John Hubbell; writing — News Editor John Goedde, inking — City Editor Carolyn Nielson.

Second place, on-site sports reporting of News Director John Hubbell; writing — News Editor John Goedde, inking — City Editor Carolyn Nielson.

The news department of KCPR, Cal Poly’s FM radio station, received awards for the on-site sports reporting of News Director John Hubbell; writing — News Editor John Goedde, inking — City Editor Carolyn Nielson.

Second place, on-site sports reporting of News Director John Hubbell; writing — News Editor John Goedde, inking — City Editor Carolyn Nielson.

The news department of KCPR, Cal Poly’s FM radio station, received awards for the on-site sports reporting of News Director John Hubbell; writing — News Editor John Goedde, inking — City Editor Carolyn Nielson.

Second place, on-site sports reporting of News Director John Hubbell; writing — News Editor John Goedde, inking — City Editor Carolyn Nielson.

The news department of KCPR, Cal Poly’s FM radio station, received awards for the on-site sports reporting of News Director John Hubbell; writing — News Editor John Goedde, inking — City Editor Carolyn Nielson.

Second place, on-site sports reporting of News Director John Hubbell; writing — News Editor John Goedde, inking — City Editor Carolyn Nielson.

The news department of KCPR, Cal Poly’s FM radio station, received awards for the on-site sports reporting of News Director John Hubbell; writing — News Editor John Goedde, inking — City Editor Carolyn Nielson.

Second place, on-site sports reporting of News Director John Hubbell; writing — News Editor John Goedde, inking — City Editor Carolyn Nielson.

The news department of KCPR, Cal Poly’s FM radio station, received awards for the on-site sports reporting of News Director John Hubbell; writing — News Editor John Goedde, inking — City Editor Carolyn Nielson.

Second place, on-site sports reporting of News Director John Hubbell; writing — News Editor John Goedde, inking — City Editor Carolyn Nielson.
East, West Coasts connect in unique U.C. art show

By Kristina Rockhold
Staff Writer

While many students were relaxing on the beach in Mexico or hitting the ski slopes over Spring break, 78 Poly students from various majors were riding in a tour bus and singing across Northern and Central California. Cal Poly’s 23-voice PolyPhonics and 55-member University Singers are back in town now and will perform once again this weekend.

After a six-day tour in which they traveled to Van nuick, Red Bluff, Sacramento, Stockton, Modesto and Porterville, the two choral groups will perform their annual home concert in San Luis Obispo this Saturday at 8 p.m. to top off the tour.

The concert will be held at the First Baptist Church of San Luis Obispo at 2075 Johnson Ave.

"We sang a lot on tour and it was pretty rigorous," said Grace Davids, director of choral activities, and accompanied by piano instructor Susan Azarad, Davids will present a varied program of sacred and secular music from the Renaissance period to the present.

"The concert should appeal to a wide base of students," said Davids.

The Poly groups also will be performing "Lift the Savior Up," a gospel piece taught to the choir members by fellow member Robert Stokes. Stokes, a member of the House of Prayer church in San Luis Obispo, had his mother Rosemary Harding, also a PolyPhonics Manager Liz Lucas, who also was involved in planning of the tour. "You become more comfortable singing in front of an audience." Both ensembles, who are being conducted by Thomas Davies, director of choral activities, and accompanied by piano instructor Susan Azarad, Davids will present a varied program of sacred and secular music from the Renaissance period to the present.

"The concert should appeal to a wide base of students," said Davids.

The Poly groups also are presenting "The Lion Sings Tonight," a remake of the doo-wop song by Ladysmith Black Mambazo.

University, Long Beach Concert Choir also will perform a segment of the concert. Lynn Bielefeldt will be directing.

The Poly groups also will be performing "Lift the Savior Up," a gospel piece taught to the choir members by fellow member Robert Stokes. Stokes, a member of the House of Prayer church in San Luis Obispo, had his mother Rosalyn Harding, also a member of the choir, write the song.

The Poly groups also will be performing "Lift the Savior Up," a gospel piece taught to the choir members by fellow member Robert Stokes. Stokes, a member of the House of Prayer church in San Luis Obispo, had his mother Rosalyn Harding, also a member of the choir, write the song.

In the spring, the concert also will be performed. But choir members are enthusiastic about their final concert this weekend and expect it to be a polished performance full of character and energy.

"Every time you perform a song it gets better," said PolyPhonics Manager Liz Lucas, who also was involved in planning of the tour. "You become more comfortable singing in front of an audience." Both ensembles, who are being conducted by Thomas Davies, director of choral activities, and accompanied by piano instructor Susan Azarad, Davids will present a varied program of sacred and secular music from the Renaissance period to the present.

"The concert should appeal to a wide base of students," said Davids.

The Poly groups also will be performing "Lift the Savior Up," a gospel piece taught to the choir members by fellow member Robert Stokes. Stokes, a member of the House of Prayer church in San Luis Obispo, had his mother Rosalyn Harding, also a member of the choir, write the song.

The Poly groups also will be performing "Lift the Savior Up," a gospel piece taught to the choir members by fellow member Robert Stokes. Stokes, a member of the House of Prayer church in San Luis Obispo, had his mother Rosalyn Harding, also a member of the choir, write the song.

In the spring, the concert also will be performed. But choir members are enthusiastic about their final concert this weekend and expect it to be a polished performance full of character and energy.
A show featuring the photography of a Cal Poly student and a Cal Poly grad will open Sunday at Jamaica You in San Luis Obispo. The work of Dana Howard, a recent Poly graduate and Todd Hahn, a GRC senior, will be on display and for sale through May 1.

The photos are a mix of black and white, color, still life, abstract and other styles. Howard called it an "eclectic collection" and said the work represents a mix of styles.

A reception will be held Sunday from 3-5 at Jamaica You, located at 1817 Osos St., in San Luis Obispo.

The Friends of SLO Botanical Garden and RLCO County Parks will sponsor a Garden Festival at El Chorro Regional Park Sunday, April 4 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Admission is free to the festival, which will include a flower show, BBQ, music, arts and crafts, rides, tours and a plant sale. There also will be activities for young people and a forum for plant and gardening questions. For more information contact the Anytime ArtLine at 756-1421.

The second in Richard Wagner's four-opera cycle, "Der Ring des Nibelungen," will be broadcast live from the stage of the Metropolitan Opera House on April 10 at 10:30 a.m. KCPR, 91.3 F.M., will air "Die Walküre" over the Deane Metropolitan Opera Interna tional Radio Network. The cycle continues on April 10 with "Wagner" and concludes with "Gotterdammerung" on April 17.

Underground Audio
We repair most makes and models Stereos, Amps, CD's, and Speakers.

FREE TECH SESSIONS EVERY THURSDAY NIGHT 7-9PM
BRING YOUR QUESTIONS
Call Russell Bellamy 549-9582
1130 Garden Street SLO

SUMMER JOBS AVAILABLE
The Morning Star has hauled tomatoes from farmer's fields to canneries for the past 20 years. We require approximately 80 drivers starting July 1st through the later part of October in Los Banos. OUR DRIVERS EARN FROM $900 TO $1,100 PER WEEK depending on driver performance, and seasonal volume. Most of our drivers are college students. We provide guidance to obtain a Class A drivers license and pre-season training. The work is extremely demanding, requiring significant time and mental commitment. SPRING GRADUATES AND THOSE WILLING TO HELP FALL QUARTER ARE ENCOURAGED TO APPLY. WE PROVIDE FREE HOUSING FOR ALL DRIVERS. MUST BE AT LEAST 21 YEARS OLD

Please call (916) 543-1422, 543-1450 for an application and leave your name, address, and phone number or write Morning Star Company, 712 Main Street, Woodard, CA 95695 for an application.
CALENDAR

thursday, april 1

mustang daily classified advertising order form

name

club name

telephone

ad to start on:

(place name that ad must be turned in two business days in advance before 11a.m.)

of days in run:

days of work should run:

mon tues thu fri

saturday, april 3

- howard warshaw will discuss his book "conquering college at earthling bookshop from 2 to 6:30 p.m.

- linnaea's cafe presents robert heart and his stories in light at 8 and 9 p.m.

- slo brewing co. presents dave rose at midnight rider plays at slo brewing co. at 9:30 p.m. for a $2 cover.

- loco ranchero performs pudding skin with knucklehead at 8 p.m.

- backstage pizza presents absolute jazz ensemble "mood" at earthling bookshop at 8 p.m.

- midnight rider plays at slo brewing co. at 9:30 p.m. for a $3 cover.

- linnaea's cafe presents the folk rock music of just plain jon at 8 p.m.

- mr. lee's club in paso robles presents the bar sharks at 8 p.m.

sunday, april 4

- drum circuit drum competition comes to loco ranchero.

- linnaea's cafe presents big variety night on linnaea's birthday at 8 p.m.

- mr. lee's club in paso robles features stampedo.

monday, april 5

- linnaea's cafe presents conversations on legalization and medical uses of marijuana, a public forum at 8 p.m.

- slo brewing co. presents davis' 30th birthday at 8 p.m.

- slo brewing co. presents derby days with peace frog at 9:30 p.m. for a $2 cover.

- midnight rider plays at slo brewing co. at 9:30 p.m. for a $3 cover.

- linnaea's cafe presents robert heart and his stories in light at 8 and 9 p.m.

- loco ranchero features a 70s saturday disco inferno dance party.

- slo brewing co. presents liquid idiots at 9:30 p.m. for a $2 cover.

- drum circuit drum competition comes to loco ranchero.

- linnaea's cafe presents big variety night on linnaea's birthday at 8 p.m.

- mr. lee's club in paso robles features stampedo.

tuesday, april 6

- linnaea's cafe presents the slo rhythm sharing circle at 8 p.m.

- slo brewing co. presents derby days with peace frog at 9:30 p.m. for a $2 cover.
Are you Interested in Becoming a Summer Resident Advisor?
If so, please attend one of these information sessions. Applications will be available!

Tuesday, April 6 7 pm - Sierra Madre Hall
Wednesday, April 14 8 pm - Santa Lucia Hall
For further information, contact the Department of Residential Life and Education at 756-1226

1993 SUMMER PRE-LAW PROGRAM
JUNE 14 – JULY 16
♦ 5-Week Program for Undergraduates on a Law School Campus
♦ 3 Classes – 6 UOP Undergraduate Credits
♦ Optional Guidance Sessions on Law School Applications, Financial Aid, Career Development, Writing Skills, and LSAT
♦ On-Campus Housing Available

MCGEORGE SCHOOL OF LAW
UNIVERSITY OF THE PACIFIC
For Informational Materials, Write To: Summer Pre-Law Program • UOP McGeorge School of Law
3200 Fifth Avenue • Sacramento, CA 95817 • (916) 739-7105

YOU SAVE A BAG
WE PLANT A TREE
To further our recycling efforts, El Corral Bookstore will provide bags by request only.

For each bag saved, we will donate $1 for the planting of a tree on campus.

sponsored by
El Corral Bookstore
and the Mortar Board Society
1400 AM suggests-
ENHANCE YOUR CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENT WITH YOUR OWN VOICE.

CALL 900-726-1400 where-$3.00 for the first minute and
$2.00 for each minute thereafter is the cost for your Radio Home Shopping ad.
Avg. call length is 2 min./Avg. cost per call is $5.00

CALL 900-726-1400 NOW
($3 for the 1st min./$2.00 for each add'1 min.)
AND MENTION THIS AD IN YOUR OWN VOICE.
You must have a touchtone phone.
(About 100 words can be read in one minute.)
Your ad can be heard throughout San Luis Obispo County, CA

Parental consent required if you are under 18 years old.
Call 800-549-1500 for additional information only
Radio Home Shopping - 1400 AM San Luis Obispo, CA
Pushing the envelope
Nine Cal Poly students take speed to the limit
By Syd Finch
Staff Writer

Team Cal Poly, Cal Poly's only arcade motorcycle squad, races on a Suzuki video motorcycle simulation device in the games area. The unit allows two bikers to race simultaneously while viewing their progress on high tech video monitors. The name of the game is speed, Team Cal Poly member Buck "Buzzcock" Murdock said. "It's a pure rush — just you and your ride and the road; all fired-up and your mind free wheelin' danger zone."

Murdock, who is ranked third nationally on the Suzuka Circuit, has raced Suzuka for only a year, but competed on other racing organizations, including Team Hang On and Team Pole Position. Team Cal Poly competes with several other schools in California and across the nation. The team just returned from a race at CSU Northridge, where it placed first ahead of several video powerhouses from Northridge, CSU Fresno, UCLA and UC Santa Barbara.

"That was a good victory," said team captain Chet "Momma's Boy" Pierce. "We were on Northridge's home track and we smoked their collective asses."

Murdock said the sport is taken very seriously by the nine members of Team Cal Poly, and that people who race with "better be ready for a fight." "You better be fast and you better be smart. If you want to ride with me, you better be ready to take it to the limit and you better be ready to put your token on the line."

Murdock said that the team gets frustrated by some of the rookies who frequent the arcade.

"People think that if they can get to the third banana on Ms. Pac Man that it means 'they're ready to ride with me," he said. "That's when it's time to go to school."

Murdock recalled a time when an "arcade panic" he was competing with careened off his bike, ending up with 22 stitches across his cranium.

"I think it was the first or second turn when our bikes started bumping," Murdock said. "He hit a patch of bad pavement and lost control. The next thing I knew he had lost it, cartwheelled off his ride and smashed his head open on a pinball machine.

"It was totally bitchin'," he said. Murdock said he has little remorse for the injured rookie.

"People know the risks. They see the 'no refund' sign. I guess he thought it was just some kind of game or something."

Members of Cal Poly's Suzuki program admit they are not well known. Recently, however, the sport has been recognized by many Cal Poly administrators. This list includes an enthusiastic Cal Poly President Warren Baker.

"I think this program is an incredible asset to our campus," Baker said. "I really believe that some students make Cal Poly their choice because we have such an outstanding Suzuki biking program."

Since visiting the team, Baker has started taking time from his lunch hour to ride with them. He describes the experience as "exhilarating."

"It's like that line in that Jimi Hendrix song, 'excuse me while I kiss the sky,'" Baker said. "That's what I feel like I'm doing when I'm on the ride — kissing the sky."

The program is supported from a special discretionary fund that comes out of the Chancellor's office. The fund contributes more than $125,451.37 per year for traveling costs, gear and miscellaneous intangibles.

Pierce said expenditures like those incurred by the team's new $26,000 high altitude training program come up all the time, "Our next race is in Denver, so it was a necessity to buy a de-oxygenating tent with a special fetzer valve to simulate the conditions well face," Pierce said. "It's great. The money just seems to keep comin' and comin'."

Despite the support from Baker, the Chancellor and "literally hundreds of babes," Pierce said he is disappointed by the lack of support from the school as a whole. He cited a recent controversy concerning the Bee Sports space vacated in the University Union as an example.

"We applied to use the space as a personal training center and spa," Pierce said. "Then ASI had the gall to give it to some other group."

ASI President Kristin Burnett said ASI's decision was a sound one and that Pierce has been less than understanding. "He's a weasel," she said.

Pierce, Murdock and the other members of Team Cal Poly are gearing up for the race in Colorado, and then move on to the national championships at BYU.

"We're just taking things one race at a time," Pierce said. "I'm just glad to be here ... pushing the envelope for God and the country I love."

Syd Finch is a Mustang Daily correspondent. Reporter April Fules contributed to the story.
It's Spring Quarter!
Time to Go Hawaiian with Woodstock's Pizza

April First Special:
Free Hawaiian Vacation!!!
Just purchase The Hawaiian:
LARGE 16" Canadian-style Bacon, Pineapple & Xtra Cheese Pizza for only $9.99!

The Real Deal:
April Monthly Special
The Hawaiian
LARGE 16" Canadian-Style Bacon, Pineapple, and Xtra Cheese Pizza (sans vacation) for a trifling $9.99

Woodstock's Pizza
Good for Nothing... one hundred coupons per pizza; good with any other offers
1000 Higuera St. 541-4420

Mustang Daily Coupons

MEDIUM 12" 1-Topping Pizza
Only $5.99
Not good with any other offer; one coupon per pizza; exp. 4-15-93
1000 Higuera St. 541-4420

LARGE 16" 3-Topping Pizza
$3.00 off
Not good with any other offer; one coupon per pizza; exp. 4-15-93
1000 Higuera St. 541-4420

LARGE 16" 1-Topping Pizza
Only $8.99
Not good with any other offer; one coupon per pizza; exp. 4-15-93
1000 Higuera St. 541-4420

LARGE 16" or MEDIUM 12" Pizza
$2.00 off
Not good with any other offer; one coupon per pizza; exp. 4-15-93
1000 Higuera St. 541-4420

2 MEDIUM 12" 1-Topping Pizzas
$11.99
Not good with any other offer; one coupon per pizza; exp. 4-15-93
1000 Higuera St. 541-4420

Hot Quality, Cool Price!
FLYIN' FREE DELIVERY
GOOD-TIME DINING
QUICK PICK-UP
1000 Higuera St. 541-4420
Mr. Spock, President Baker and Flavor Flav would like to take this time to wish you a prosperous spring quarter.

Only 55 days left.
"Expedients are for the hour, but principles are for the ages."
Special Cal Poly Visitor Rate: 1800 Monterey Street 544-8600

Cal Poly
San Luis Obispo
presents...

Spectacle '93
April 22 & 23, 1993

~ Host a visiting community college student over night~
~ Take them with you on your daily schedule~
~ Show them Cal Poly life firsthand~

For more information, call University Outreach Services at 756-2792 or stop by Administration Building, Room 208

Get Involved!!!
Big inning leads Poly to 10-5 win by hitting a wind-sided double over the head of Westmont outfielder Brent Tucker, bringing home Grant Munger and Jon Macdutias, tying the game at 4-4.

After a Todd Coburn single drove in Scott Ferreira, Cal Poly took a 6-4 lead when Brent Tucker hit a solo home run off the glove of Warrior shortstop Matt Jamison, scoring Tucker.

During this time, it was reported that Bob Neal blasted a shot off the wall in left-center field, allowing three Mustangs and producing an uninspiring 9-4 lead.

Neal, who scored on a Warrior error to make it a 9-4 game, struck out in the third inning and finished with five RBIs.

"Bob hit the ball real well today," McFarland said. "He's had his days lately where he can hit the ball well, and days he can't. Today was a good day for him."

Through five innings Tuesday, it seemed like Westmont was putting together an exact duplicate of its March 2 win.

"The Warriors jumped out to a 3-0 lead midway through the third and were receiving a strong outing from starter Chris Cammila," McFarland said. "While Neal's two-run single pulled Cal Poly to within 3-2 at the end of three, Westmont answered with another run in the top of the fourth."

Soon, it was rally time, and the huge Mustang lead was solidified by the pitching of Shannon Stephens and Kevin Hannoning, who combined to allow Westmont one hit only in the final four innings.

Hannisinger summarised his mound performance with a gem in the seventh by Cal Poly's 10-5 win.

Cal Poly's defensive effort was highlighted in the seventh by a spectacular diving catch by Phil James in shallow left field.

Cal Poly returns to California Collegiate Athletic Association play Friday at Cal State San Bernardino for a three-game series. The entity will play a doubleheader Saturday.

Muscatine athletes spring into action

Nike Cal Poly Invit. draws big numbers

The Nike Cal Poly Invitational lived up to its billing as large crowds turned out to watch Olympians, along with collegiate and high school athletes in a two-day meet tantalised by Sport'sChandas.

It's too bad Rec Sports couldn't follow the athletic department's example. Our super-duper Rec Center won't be opening until summer, which means I brought my racquetball racket down to SLO for nothing.

Get your spittoons ready! The World Tobacco Spitting Championships will be held this weekend in Calico Ghost Town. For the fifth year, the event is open to all and free.

After losing 7-3 to the number two team in the nation, Cal Poly's defensive effort was highlighted in the seventh by a spectacular diving catch by Phil James in shallow left field.

The big blow of the inning came when Rob Neal blasted a shot off the wall in left-center field, allowing three Mustangs and producing an uninspiring 9-4 lead.

Neal, who scored on a Warrior error to make it a 9-4 game, struck out in the third inning and finished with five RBIs.

"Bob hit the ball real well today," McFarland said. "He's had his days lately where he can hit the ball well, and days he can't. Today was a good day for him."

Through five innings Tuesday, it seemed like Westmont was putting together an exact duplicate of its March 2 win.

The Warriors jumped out to a 3-0 lead midway through the third and were receiving a strong outing from starter Chris Cammila. After a Todd Coburn single drove in Scott Ferreira, Cal Poly took a 6-4 lead when Brent Tucker hit a solo home run off the glove of Warrior shortstop Matt Jamison, scoring Tucker.

During this time, it was reported that Bob Neal blasted a shot off the wall in left-center field, allowing three Mustangs and producing an uninspiring 9-4 lead.

Neal, who scored on a Warrior error to make it a 9-4 game, struck out in the third inning and finished with five RBIs.

"Bob hit the ball real well today," McFarland said. "He's had his days lately where he can hit the ball well, and days he can't. Today was a good day for him."

Through five innings Tuesday, it seemed like Westmont was putting together an exact duplicate of its March 2 win.

The Warriors jumped out to a 3-0 lead midway through the third and were receiving a strong outing from starter Chris Cammila. After a Todd Coburn single drove in Scott Ferreira, Cal Poly took a 6-4 lead when Brent Tucker hit a solo home run off the glove of Warrior shortstop Matt Jamison, scoring Tucker.

During this time, it was reported that Bob Neal blasted a shot off the wall in left-center field, allowing three Mustangs and producing an uninspiring 9-4 lead.

Neal, who scored on a Warrior error to make it a 9-4 game, struck out in the third inning and finished with five RBIs.

"Bob hit the ball real well today," McFarland said. "He's had his days lately where he can hit the ball well, and days he can't. Today was a good day for him."

Through five innings Tuesday, it seemed like Westmont was putting together an exact duplicate of its March 2 win.

The Warriors jumped out to a 3-0 lead midway through the third and were receiving a strong outing from starter Chris Cammila. After a Todd Coburn single drove in Scott Ferreira, Cal Poly took a 6-4 lead when Brent Tucker hit a solo home run off the glove of Warrior shortstop Matt Jamison, scoring Tucker.

During this time, it was reported that Bob Neal blasted a shot off the wall in left-center field, allowing three Mustangs and producing an uninspiring 9-4 lead.

Neal, who scored on a Warrior error to make it a 9-4 game, struck out in the third inning and finished with five RBIs.

"Bob hit the ball real well today," McFarland said. "He's had his days lately where he can hit the ball well, and days he can't. Today was a good day for him."

Through five innings Tuesday, it seemed like Westmont was putting together an exact duplicate of its March 2 win.