Non-members can't speak to ASI board without invitations

By Lesia Celobasty
Daily Staff Writer

If you are a member of the faculty, staff, community, alumni or any other nonmember of ASI, you will no longer be allowed to address the ASI Board of Directors without a formal invitation from the chair of the board.

Tensions between the Academic Senate and the ASI board meeting Wednesday night as a wall was built between ASI and the Academic Senate over a resolution to exclude controversial chemistry lecturer Gail Wilson from speaking at ASI meetings.

The board voted unanimously to keep resolution #96-08 intact, which means Wilson and non-ASI members cannot address the board without an invitation.

"I think it will not be effective," said Harvey Greenwald, chair of the Academic Senate. "I think it will build a wall around ASI. I think it will isolate ASI and it will turn out to be counterproductive."

Mustang Daily Editor in Chief Jason Plenons and Daily Staff Writer Steve Enders confronted ASI on the legality of excluding members of the public from addressing ASI without an invitation.

Plenons and Enders believe portions of resolution #96-08 are in violation of the California Education Code and may be in violation of the First Amendment.

"To exclude Gail Wilson, or anyone...is against this country stands for...We do not support the President of the Press," Plenons said.

Enders and Plenons feel ASI is subject to open meeting laws as defined in the California Education Code, which does include the right to address the board.

Greenwald supported statements brought to the board by Enders and Plenons.

"I thought the statement from the Editor in Chief (Plenons) and the future Editor in Chief (Enders) was outstanding," Greenwald said. "I think it is a strong message when Mustang Daily, the Staff Council, the Academic Senate and the Vice-President (of Student Affairs) have concerns with the resolution."

Resolution #96-08 states that Wilson, who is a part-time lecturer employed by Cal Poly, is not entitled to the rights and privileges of a member of the Associated Students Inc. This means that she is restricted from speaking to ASI members during Open Forum, and prevents non-members of ASI from addressing the ASI Board during the forum without an invitation.

She is also forbidden from being seen by ASI.

See ASI page 3

Rape survivor frustrated with atmosphere at Poly

By Sandra Houghton
Daily Staff Writer

The positive energy exuding from Katie Koestner as she addressed administrators on how to improve the university sexual assault program quickly faded after the meeting.

The 23-year-old spokeswoman against date rape spent more than an hour offering specific suggestions to representatives of various student services departments.

After her presentation, she was disappointed at the lack of feedback and enthusiasm from the administrators.

"I could've been a lot harder on them but I tried to be helpful and positive," said Koestner, who has traveled to more than 200 schools nationwide to raise awareness about date rape. "I just felt a lot of coldness from them."

Denise Campbell, associate vice president of Student Affairs, said she felt the meeting was productive.

"We have a lot of the same ideas as she presented and we are aware of the areas we need to work on," said Campbell, who joined the administration in the fall. "I want to create an environment where students have information and are aware of what's going on."

Campbell said a task force, composed of various administrators, was set up with these issues, will meet for the first time next week.

"There are many things we can do; we just need to know what will have an effect at Cal Poly and then we'll do it," she said.

However, Koestner doubted the extent of the administrators' pledged support due to their lack of enthusiasm over her presentation.

See KOESTNER page 5

Proposal requires fewer GE classes

By Jesse Miller
Daily Staff Writer

The proposals would create a governing board to oversee this restructuring and a director to oversee the board.

According to the proposals, the board would hear from the different colleges about what classes they would like in the GE curriculum, and report back to the vice president of Academic Affairs.

Hampsey said he was encouraged by the discussion of these topics.

The proposals would allow students to take fewer general education (GE) classes, yet still fulfill the CSU system's requirements for graduation.

All classes would be four units, and credit/no credit grading and the longer time limitation for GE classes. In addition, seven fewer units would be required.

The proposal would create a two people from the College of Science and Math, two from the College of Liberal Arts and two from the rest of the colleges combined.

Many faculty members at the meeting said they would like to see more representation given to the professional colleges.

The board described in the proposal was created because 90 percent of GE classes are liberal arts or science and math, so the committee decided those departments should have most of the control, according to Hampsey.

Those opposed to the composition of the board said GE is not a separate entity, but part of a student's entire education, and each department should have equal say in it.

See SENATE page 3

Non-members can't speak to ASI board without invitations
Finer Womanhood Week a success

By Jennifer English

Daily Staff Writer

"Finer Womanhood Week" has been a time for one sorority to redefine itself to community service. The Cal Poly chapter of Zeta Phi Beta sponsored the second annual community service week from May 12 to May 18. The week included a nutrition workshop and comedy forum, and will end with a dance tonight.

"We want the campus to notice that we do our community service," said Rebekah Wilbert, a nutrition senior and Zeta member. "We don't just party." Wilbert said the "Dating, Mating and Relating" comedy forum Tuesday was very successful. Sheryl Underwood, a Zeta Phi beta graduate member and a comedienne who has appeared on HBO and Soul Train, appeared at the forum.

"She's someone we respect and admire," Wilbert said. "She is someone we see as a celebrity, and she takes the time to do things like donate her time to an AIDS research project."

Thi Hoang, an environmental engineering junior and ASI program board member, said she was glad the board chose to cosponsor Underwood's forum.

"I've never seen a stand-up comic of that caliber before," Hoang said. "It was comedy, but it also dealt with African-American culture and women's issues of respect."

Wilbert said Underwood asked to return to Poly after appearing at the first Finner Womanhood Week.

"She's interested in helping us build up our chapter," Wilbert said.

In association with the event, the ethic sorority is also See WOMANHOOD page 3

AIDS Memorial Quilt arrives at Poly

By Greg Mauld

Talk IncuDed Sports Editor

In 1987, the NAMES Project AIDS Memorial Quilt began with one person trying to deal with and explain the loss of his friend to AIDS. From there, the AIDS Memorial Quilt has grown from one panel that he created to more than 33,000 panels in all.

One hundred panels, each representing a person who has died from AIDS, will be on display today through Sunday at the Ree Center. Admission is free to everyone.

This is the third time a portion of the quilt has been brought to San Luis Obispo. In 1990, the quilt came to San Luis Obispo High School and in 1993, the quilt returned, this time to the Ree Center. While on display for three days that year, 10,000 people from throughout the community came to view the quilt.

The AIDS Support Network (ASN) of San Luis Obispo County is responsible for bringing the quilt to campus.

"It humanizes the disease," said Stephan Lamb, president of the board for the ASN of San Luis Obispo. "There's a lot of phobia and homophobia around the disease. The quilt puts the disease on a human level."

The AIDS Support Network will cost $8,000 to bring the quilt to San Luis Obispo, Lamb said — $4,000 for the quilt itself, and another $4,000 for publicity and other costs.

The quilt will be on display starting today at 10 a.m. It will be unveiled and the names of those displayed in the quilt will be read during the Opening. See QUILT page 5

Graduation Classified Order Form

Special "Scroll Frame" up to 8 words boldface only $5

SPECIAL SYMBOLS ONLY $2.00 extra!!!

Classified Advertising Policies

All advertising copy and materials are subject to acceptance by the Mustang Daily Business Manager. The Business Manager reserves the right to reject any such portion of the ad as may be submitted at any time prior to publication, even if material that has previously been accepted or published.
From page 1

Greenwald said the resolution is no more than control over information. "This is just a control of the flow of information and it does not deal with the issue," Greenwald said.

At Amral, Foundation executive director, agreed. "I'm not sure it will accomplish much," Amral said. "We are sorry to see so much bickering." Because of the controversy raised by the resolution, several board members said the resolution should not be discussed until next fall.

"I'm sitting here shaking," said Mike Rocca, liberal arts representative. "I'm disgusted. We should not be discussing representation, said Mike Rocca, liberal arts representative. "I'm disgusted. We are sorry to see so much bickering," Greenwald said.

"My feeling is that we needed some more input from other constituencies on campus," McShane said. She added that her company had been threatened by the Academic Senate that they won't be disheartened that it's a fundamental issue of trust... I beg you to reconsider... It is a systemic issue of trust..." Gonzalez said.

Gonzalez also said Wilson was serving her with the perfect end. "My feeling is that we needed this bill to be able to discuss the resolution should not be discussed in adversary positions because we have worked to create good, positive communication between facilities, students, and administration," Gonzalez said. "I don't think it is going to do what ASI intended it to," Harris said. "I'm sorry we were all put in adversarial positions because we have worked to create good, positive communication between facilities, students, and administration," Gonzalez said.

"If this is an attempt to break our ability because of one person... I beg you to reconsider... It is a systemic issue of trust..." Gonzalez said.

The other two topics discussed at the meeting included the ASI budget and the proposal of creating seven new fields to be used for a variety of reasons. To aid paying for the planned project, a student fee increase of $7 per quarter was proposed to ASI. The board will discuss the proposal at next week's workshop and meeting.

"We've got to get involved." Joel Garcia, a senior, said he hopes to see students get involved with this issue.

"We are a university and we are producing scientists, environmentalists and engineers that need to be concerned about these issues. We need to reform this committee so it functions as it was originally conceived." Many agreed, including Sheila Baker of NUIC.

"It's now up to us to get this committee formed, figure this all out and get as many people involved as we can," she said.

"Soil Science junior, said he hopes to see students get involved with this issue.

"We are a university and we are producing scientists, environmentalists and engineers that need to be concerned about these issues. We need to reform this committee so it functions as it was originally conceived." Many agreed, including Sheila Baker of NUIC.

"It's now up to us to get this committee formed, figure this all out and get as many people involved as we can," she said.

After the meeting, a closed session was held. "This was a terrible discussion and I think we, limited to someone from those colleges," Gonzalez said.

"I'm sitting here shaking," said Mike Rocca, liberal arts representative. "I'm disgusted. We should not be discussing representation, said Mike Rocca, liberal arts representative. "I'm disgusted. We are sorry to see so much bickering," Greenwald said.

"My feeling is that we needed some more input from other constituencies on campus," McShane said. She added that her company had been threatened by the Academic Senate that they won't be disheartened that it's a fundamental issue of trust... I beg you to reconsider... It is a systemic issue of trust..." Gonzalez said.

Gonzalez also said Wilson was serving her with the perfect end. "My feeling is that we needed this bill to be able to discuss the resolution should not be discussed in adversary positions because we have worked to create good, positive communication between facilities, students, and administration," Gonzalez said. "I don't think it is going to do what ASI intended it to," Harris said. "I'm sorry we were all put in adversarial positions because we have worked to create good, positive communication between facilities, students, and administration," Gonzalez said.

"If this is an attempt to break our ability because of one person... I beg you to reconsider... It is a systemic issue of trust..." Gonzalez said.

The other two topics discussed at the meeting included the ASI budget and the proposal of creating seven new fields to be used for a variety of reasons. To aid paying for the planned project, a student fee increase of $7 per quarter was proposed to ASI. The board will discuss the proposal at next week's workshop and meeting.

"We've got to get involved." Joel Garcia, a senior, said he hopes to see students get involved with this issue.

"We are a university and we are producing scientists, environmentalists and engineers that need to be concerned about these issues. We need to reform this committee so it functions as it was originally conceived." Many agreed, including Sheila Baker of NUIC.

"It's now up to us to get this committee formed, figure this all out and get as many people involved as we can," she said.

"Soil Science junior, said he hopes to see students get involved with this issue.

"We are a university and we are producing scientists, environmentalists and engineers that need to be concerned about these issues. We need to reform this committee so it functions as it was originally conceived." Many agreed, including Sheila Baker of NUIC.

"It's now up to us to get this committee formed, figure this all out and get as many people involved as we can," she said.
ASI meeting: A complete disregard for the First Amendment effectively gags an entire portion of our Cal Poly student body. It is interesting to see that during the open forum section of the meeting, where she makes her three-minute speech in the Library. It’s not that we’re defending the attacks that Wilson has made on Hargrass in the past; it’s that this country has a tradition, reality-based or not, on protecting the rights of minorities.

What this resolution shows is that if you are not happy with the way ASI does business and you exercise your right to petition, sooner or later they will gag you. This took place while the current chair of the board, Mr. Brady, was complaining that non-students, well as faculty and staff to not pass this resolution. With a unanimous vote, ASI decided to ignore advice from Robert’s Rules of running a meeting and seemingly went on for 10 years and it was time something was done.

We are also extremely disappointed in the performance of the ASI president, Cvetin Brady, who is a journalism major. Talk about an oxymoron. If anyone should know laws pertaining to open meetings in that line drawn between support and non-support? Was it four to six responses equals full support? Shoudn’t this have been on the survey so the students know the con­tent of the survey results as the trustees, you are turning your backs on the students and tarnishing the image of ASI. Why would students want to be involved with non-support ASI if you are not doing your job? Once again, please understand that I am NOT here to criticize. I am in full support of the fact that ASI has recognized a problem and is trying desperately to fix it. However, I think some changes need to be made in the processes.

Bogus percentages and the Poly Plan by Tiffany Marshall

Editor, L El Corral ripoff

When I read that the Cal Poly Foundation made a net profit of $756,846 on textbooks sold last year, I was fra­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­…
From page 1
She said most of the schools she has visited over the last two and half years welcomed her with much more enthusiasm and support. At one college, the president introduced her and donated $2,000 to purchase books on the subject.

"If they say they've had the same ideas as me then why haven't they done anything?" she asked in a perplexed voice.

"At the meeting, Koestner reviewed every detail of the sexual assault policy printed in the college's publications, including rape?" asked Koestner, who was the 20th time she says 'yes,' is it

"I only want a little bit of knowledge from a variety of engineering senior, said he

"The committee will meet today to discuss the topics presented at the meeting and to begin revising the proposals for a second reading, and a vote, in two weeks."

KOESTNER: "Each of you has to try to catch the victim and support her"

"I'm sure I could handle fewer classes if I were forced to.

Microbiology junior Trish Wong said she felt torn.

"It would be nice to have less classes that I would have to crash, but I like my general eds for their variety," Wong said.

Will Leu, an architectural engin­ ering senior, said he wouldn't like a change to four­

"I only want a little bit of knowledge from a variety of general ed classes, so I don't think the four unit proposal is a good idea," Leu said. "With three-unit classes, I can take more subjects less intensively."

Some students are concerned about losing the credit/no credit option. Koestner also explained a

"I only want a little bit of knowledge from a variety of general ed classes, so I don't think the four unit proposal is a good idea," Leu said. "With three-unit classes, I can take more subjects less intensively."
SCHLICK: Worked at the Volleyball Festival Organization, one of the years' largest tournaments

From page 8

It's always been easy to use. Now it's easier to afford.

With the Apple Computer Loan you can get the Mac you want. Just call 1-800-Apple-LN (1-800-277-5356 ext. 200)

Many students are surprised to find out how affordable and easy it is to get the Mac® they want with the Apple Computer Loan. In less than 15-minutes, you can be pre-approved over the phone and off to your campus reseller. There is no need to worry about low credit card limits or high interest rates. With the Apple Computer Loan, you can get the money you need to buy the Mac you want, with low monthly payments you'll love. So before you leave school, call 1-800-Apple-LN and see how easy it is to take home a Mac.

For more information visit El Cocreal Bookstore Computer Department - 756-5511

Hours: Mon-Thurs 7:45am - 6:00pm; Fri. 7:45am - 4:30pm; Sat. 10:00am - 3:00pm • Check us out at our Website: www.fdn.calpoly.edu/eub

© 1999 Apple Computer, Inc. All rights reserved. Apple, the Apple logo, and Macintosh are registered trademarks of Apple Computer, Inc. Mac is a trademark of Apple Computer, Inc. All Macintosh computers are designed to be accessible to individuals with disabilities. To learn more (U.S. only), call 800-688-7768 or TTY 800-775-0021

BELLE:

From page 8

Budig said, explaining why this penalty is different. "The American League is directing him to participate in immediate — counseling, and both the Indians and the American League will monitor his participation. Failure to comply will result in a suspension."

Belle, who led the majors with 50 home runs last season and was second in AL MVP voting, did not immediately comment on the decision. His agent, Arv Teim, could not be reached.

"Albert Belle has a problem and the American League has a problem," Budig said. "This problem must be addressed in a forthright manner for the good of all concerned."

Budig hasn't discussed the penalty with Belle. Budig and Selig have spoken with Indians owner Dick Jacobs in recent weeks to try to convince Jacobs that Belle has a problem that needs to be addressed.

"I have had a number of conversations with both Mr. Jacobs and with (general manager) John Hart, and they have assured me that the Indians will work with the league on the Belle matter," Budig said.

Both Hart and Indians manager Mike Hargrove declined comment on Budig's decision.

"I think what people have to try and understand is that we are all human beings, and sometimes he cannot hold it any longer," Indians pitcher Dennis Martinez said. "There is a lot of pressure in playing this game."

MUSTANG DAILY

It's Always Been Easy To Use. Now It's Easier To Afford.
FBI agents, Colorado Senator meet with Freemen in field

By Tom Lesky
Associated Press

JORDAN, Mont. — After ten­ native handshakes on a dusty road, FBI agents and members of the extremist Freemen group met face-to-face Thursday for the first time since their standoff began on March 25.

Four Freemen negotiators talked with two FBI agents and
began on March 25.

Two Freemen sentries kept
watch in a pickup truck nearby,
and a corps of reporters and photographers about half a mile away observed the talks through long-lens cameras and binoculars.

A local resident at the scene

identified two of the Freemen as Rodney Skurkal and Edwin Clark, who are among the leaders of the extreme right-wing
movement said the Freemen
might have been a tape recorder.

Observers could not determine whether the FBI agents or the Freemen were armed.

Duke is a leader of the
"patriot" movement in his state
and a candidate for the Republican U.S. Senate nomination. Gritz, a national figure in that movement said the Freemen
surrender.

A television reporter identified a third Freemen involved
in the talks as Russell Landers, a North Carolina man and fugitive from Colorado who is accused of filing phony property liens
against officials.

The Freemen have also met with Montana state Rep. Karl Ola, three other Montana legislators and the state's top
prosecutor, Assistant Attorney
General John Conner Jr.

CLASSIFIED

TO ADVERTISE IN MUSTANG DAILY CLASSIFIED, CALL 756-1743

Announcements

GOT SOMETHIN' TO SELL?
GOT SOMETHIN' TO RENT?

Put it in the Mustang Daily and GET RESULTS!
Stop by the Mustang Daily Office Graphic Arts Bldg, 3rd fl in the pavement. It's simple, easy and effective.

Mustang Daily: At Your Service!

MUSTANG DAILY SATURDAY, MAY 17, 1996

FRIDAY, MAY 17, 1996

P O W E R  T H E  O S X P L A T E X  O B J E C T  " by Joe Martín

M I S T E R  M A R T I N

MUSTANG DAILY

M I S T E R  B O F F O

almost two hours in a steady rain near the gate of the 960-acre ranch in eastern Montana. Duke had met separately with the Freemen for 2½ hours Thursday morning before returning with the agents.

Two Freemen sentries kept

watch in a pickup truck nearby,

and a corps of reporters and

photographers about half a mile

away observed the talks through

long-lens cameras and

binoculars.

A local resident at the scene

identified two of the Freemen as
Rodney Skurkal and Edwin
Clark, who are among the
leaders of the extreme right-wing
movement said the Freemen

might have been a tape recorder.

Observers could not determine
whether the FBI agents or the

Freemen were armed.

Duke is a leader of the
"patriot" movement in his state

and a candidate for the Republican U.S. Senate nomination. Gritz, a national figure in

that movement said the Freemen

surrender.

A television reporter identified a third Freemen involved

in the talks as Russell Landers, a

North Carolina man and fugitive

from Colorado who is accused of

filing phony property liens

against officials.

The Freemen have also met

with Montana state Rep. Karl

Ola, three other Montana legislators and the state's top

prosecutor, Assistant Attorney

General John Conner Jr.

without reaching a surrender

agreement.

The Freemen group met face-to-face
Thursday with FBI agents and four of its negotiators in eastern Montana. The standoff between the agents and the Freemen
began on March 25.

Four Freemen negotiators
talked with two FBI agents and
began on March 25.

Two Freemen sentries kept

watch in a pickup truck nearby,

and a corps of reporters and

photographers about half a mile

away observed the talks through

long-lens cameras and

binoculars.

A local resident at the scene

identified two of the Freemen as
Rodney Skurkal and Edwin
Clark, who are among the
leaders of the extreme right-wing
movement said the Freemen

might have been a tape recorder.

Observers could not determine
whether the FBI agents or the

Freemen were armed.

Duke is a leader of the
"patriot" movement in his state

and a candidate for the Republican U.S. Senate nomination. Gritz, a national figure in

that movement said the Freemen

surrender.

A television reporter identified a third Freemen involved

in the talks as Russell Landers, a

North Carolina man and fugitive

from Colorado who is accused of

filing phony property liens

against officials.

The Freemen have also met

with Montana state Rep. Karl

Ola, three other Montana legislators and the state's top

prosecutor, Assistant Attorney

General John Conner Jr.

without reaching a surrender

agreement.

The Freemen group met face-to-face
Thursday with FBI agents and
four of its negotiators in eastern Montana. The standoff between
the agents and the Freemen
began on March 25.

Four Freemen negotiators
talked with two FBI agents and
began on March 25.

Two Freemen sentries kept

watch in a pickup truck nearby,

and a corps of reporters and

photographers about half a mile

away observed the talks through

long-lens cameras and

binoculars.

A local resident at the scene

identified two of the Freemen as
Rodney Skurkal and Edwin
Clark, who are among the
leaders of the extreme right-wing
movement said the Freemen

might have been a tape recorder.

Observers could not determine
whether the FBI agents or the

Freemen were armed.

Duke is a leader of the
"patriot" movement in his state

and a candidate for the Republican U.S. Senate nomination. Gritz, a national figure in

that movement said the Freemen

surrender.

A television reporter identified a third Freemen involved

in the talks as Russell Landers, a

North Carolina man and fugitive

from Colorado who is accused of

filing phony property liens

against officials.

The Freemen have also met

with Montana state Rep. Karl

Ola, three other Montana legislators and the state's top

prosecutor, Assistant Attorney

General John Conner Jr.

without reaching a surrender

agreement.

The Freemen group met face-to-face
Thursday with FBI agents and
four of its negotiators in eastern Montana. The standoff between
the agents and the Freemen
began on March 25.

Four Freemen negotiators
talked with two FBI agents and
began on March 25.

Two Freemen sentries kept

watch in a pickup truck nearby,

and a corps of reporters and

photographers about half a mile

away observed the talks through

long-lens cameras and

binoculars.

A local resident at the scene

identified two of the Freemen as
Rodney Skurkal and Edwin
Clark, who are among the
leaders of the extreme right-wing
movement said the Freemen

might have been a tape recorder.

Observers could not determine
whether the FBI agents or the

Freemen were armed.

Duke is a leader of the
"patriot" movement in his state

and a candidate for the Republican U.S. Senate nomination. Gritz, a national figure in SPORTS

Schlick taking control of volleyball program

By Jennifer Carnes
Daily Staff Writer

He first learned about volleyball to support his college girlfriend while she played at UC Riverside.

His relationship with her ended, but fortunately for Cal Poly, his interest in volleyball was just beginning.

Steve Schlick is the new women's volleyball coach at Cal Poly, taking over for Craig Cummings, who was let go after the 1995 season.

Schlick comes to Cal Poly fresh from an assistant coaching position at Notre Dame, which he held for five years under former Olympian Debbie Brown.

Under Brown, Schlick said he learned "program organization, importance of prioritizing and time usage."

"I feel very lucky to have had the chance to be there," he said.

Prior to coaching at Notre Dame, Schlick spent three years as the assistant coach at Arizona State (ASU), also under Brown.

In 1988, Schlick had the opportunity to run the program at ASU while Brown was helping coach the Olympic team.

He had the same opportunity at Notre Dame when Brown was on maternity leave.

"I've had the chance, because of different reasons, to be interim head coach at numerous times," he said. "It was a great learning experience."

He began coaching after graduating from University of California, Santa Barbara with a degree in physical education. With free time on his hands, he decided to volunteer as a coach.

Schlick enjoyed coaching but had no intentions of making a career out of it. He said he felt it was a great learning experience and was grateful for the opportunity.

Outside hitter Amy Aberle said Schlick is a good addition to the team because he makes players think about how they play.

Bowe going home for Golota fight

By Rick Warner
Associated Press

NEW YORK — Riddick Bowe is returning to his native Round Hill, Va., to fight Andrew Golota on July 11 at Madison Square Garden.

"Fighting at the Garden means everything in the world to me," Bowe said Thursday. "I've been dying to come back to the Garden. It's unfortunate that it took so long. I'm back home."

Bowe has fought only one professional bout at the Garden, successfully defending his WBC title in June 1989.